Two Outbreaks Cause Police To Open Fire; Two Are Killed

Train service has been suspended on all three railroads entering Canton. The total Chinese casualties so far are 21 killed and 50 wounded.

TROUBLE FORESEEN WASHINGTON, June 3.—(AP)—Cablegrams to the state department today told of the continuing disturbances at Shanghai and predicted a serious battle on or near Canton within the next ten days.

STORES CLOSED SHANGHAI, June 3.—(AP)—Shanghai was an armed camp today. Two outbreaks this morning caused police to open fire, resulting in the death of two persons and the injury of many others.

Banks were closed, store fronts were boarded, food was rationed out by shopkeepers, hotels and stores were searched for arms while troops of several nations attempted the task of restoring order after a series of uprisings started last Saturday by Chinese students protesting against the prosecution of strikers in Japanese owned spinning mills here.

Dead Are Buried. Chinese students with bare momentary from their crusade against foreign rule this afternoon and retired to their area of the city to bury, with confusion ceremonies, several of their confederate dead, who fell in the rioting.

After the funeral service student speakers in the Chinese section sounded a change in the note. They urged the throngs to avoid clashes with foreign defenders, pointing out that folly of inviting certain death by attacking empty handed armed foreigners.

As an alternative the speakers counseled united action in spreading the strike and ceasing intercourse with foreigners and blocking the delivery of food supplies of every character by driving out their opponents.

Strikers Are Active. Efforts to extend the strike have been excellently systematized and considerable cash has been expended. Every foreign employed Chinese is being circularized and canvassed to strike. Where possible, pressure has been brought by threats involving families. Rain began falling late today.

McMartin and killed his horse while Dr. McMartin was on duty with the volunteer corps. The Americans today searched two leading department stores, Wing On's and Sincere's, both of which have hotels connected with the merchandise establishments. It was feared that snipers searching for points of vantage might occupy the upper stories of the hotels. Only one revolver was found in an empty room however. The junior Chinese constabulary was relieved of its weapons today, also.

MR. BUTLER IS CAUSTIC OVER DRY SITUATION

'Lawbreaking Enforcement' Is Rapped by University President

Phases of Objections to Evolution Theory Are Also Stressed

NEW YORK, June 3.—(AP)—Some phases of prohibition and of objections to the theory of evolution were the subjects of caustic references today by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler in a commencement address at Columbia university, of which he is president.

"Crass ignorance, law-breaking enforcement, new barbarians and tyrants," were some of his characterizations.

Taking "courage" for his subject, he appealed to 3,543 new graduates to fight against reactionary and leveling movements which he said had interrupted the progress of civilization.

"Judges, prosecuting officers and members of the legislative bodies, both national and state, talk, get and vote one way and daily drink together," he said. "They have neither the courage to voice their true opinions nor the character to conform their private conduct to their public professions."

"Law enacted through fanaticism in crass ignorance but late to make law-breaking a cardinal virtue. Such laws are killing respect for law. What was merely a Boston tea party in 1773 is now a national revolt against tyranny and statutory folly. Hysterical aims at lawless and law-breaking enforcement of one particular law only add fuel to the flame."

The legislature and the governor of Tennessee have with every appearance of equanimity violated popular intelligence and have made it impossible for a scholar to be a teacher in that state without becoming at the same time a lawbreaker.

The legislature and governor in Indiana have likewise taken occasion to dance ghoulish glee on the prostrate forms of common sense and the most elementary form of freedom.

This referred to a new state prohibition enforcement act.

"Courage must now give way to a conformity to type, to a sort of spineless corporate opinion which, operated by prohibition and compulsion, aims to reduce all individuality, whether of mind or character, to a gelatinous and whirling mass."

"No man is too great to be visited upon the hapless individual who still ventures to have a mind and character of his own."

"These new and persecuting barbarians are of a kind with their ancient forbears, who from their seats in the arena gazed with joy as the stricken gladiator or the Christian martyr ended his life in agony. These new barbarians have abandoned Christianity, deserted morality, for the barbaric pleasures of torment and persecution."

"The notion that a majority must have its way whether in matters of opinion or in matters of personal conduct, is as pestilent and anti-democratic a notion as can possibly be conceived. The majority has no function whatever in matters of opinion or personal conduct and have none unless all morality is to be abandoned. The rule of the majority is simply a working plan to decide upon policies in matters common or general concern."
