NEW EGG GRADING LAW TO COME IN

Strawberries Lower on Portland Market, Due to Heavy Yield

LEAD MARKETS— NEW EGG—4 PORTLAND, Ore., June 5.—Enforcement of the new Oregon law relating to grading of eggs offered for sale by jobbers and retail dealers will be undertaken within a few days by N. C. Maris, deputy state dairy and food commissioner.

Strawberries are lower in price in today's local market, due to continued heavy yields and a slackening demand. Prices range from $1.75 to $2.25 a crate, depending on type and quality. On information from growers and intimate observation in fields adjacent to Portland, dealers predict that the close of this week will see the end of cheap berries.

Cherries from The Dalles arriving in larger lots. Bings are selling at $2 a crate and Royal Annes slightly lower.

The local market has abundant supplies of hogs, veal and poultry and the tone of the market is weak.

INVESTORS! LISTEN TO THIS!
I have 906 acres just 1 mile east of Pleasant Hill high school, and 14 miles from Eugene. There is ten to twelve million feet of 2nd growth fir timber, and many thousands of cords of old growth fir wood. At present there is one sawmill cutting on the place that is turning in from $100 to $150 per month. There will be two or three more cutting before the summer is over. Also am selling considerable wood stumpage and having some wood cut to sell. This land is worth $10 per acre for grazing purposes after timber is off. Several springs on the place furnish plenty water. I need to raise some money and will sell for $15,000. I will take half the value in clear property.
