

TUNNEY LAYS OUT GIBBONS; ST. PAUL MAN DOWN IN 11TH

NEW YORK, June 6.—(AP)—The shadow of a heavyweight who climbed to pugilistic fame out of the trenches of the World war today stretched across the path of Jack Dempsey.

Gene Tunney has done what no other heavyweight, not even Dempsey himself, has been able to do—conquer Tom Gibbons by a knockout.

After 11 rounds of fighting without thrills at the Polo Grounds last night the former A. E. P. lightweight champion sent the game veteran from St. Paul down for the count under a smashing right to chin in the twelfth. The crowd was stunned. In the round before it had booed the two men for failure to put up the hot fight which had been expected, but apparently Tunney alone was aware that his foe, a veteran of 36 years, was willing under the grueling fire at close quarters. After one minute and 26 seconds of the twelfth round Tunney put out one of the most formidable heavyweight contenders in the country.

A fight which failed Gibbons in a neutral corner so dazed him that he was unable to get his bearings as he arose, Tunney landed another wallop to the chin and this time Gibbons was finished. The winner whom Dempsey has promised to meet, fought well throughout, but Gibbons appeared only a shell of the great boxer who stood off the champion at Shelby. Only in the eighth did the St. Paul man treat his audience to fireworks.

While Gibbons fought, his wife lay ill in a St. Paul hospital. The fighter's friends said that worry over her condition undoubtedly had something to do with his defeat.

Post-fight statements follow:

Tunney—"If the fans think I should fight Harry Wills first, I am ready to take him on at any time. This summer but I really think the knockout over Gibbons is enough to earn a match with the champion."

Gibbons—"I don't remember what round the bout ended in. I fought the best I could, but the best I had was not good enough; that's all."

TILDEN'S TITLE APPEARS SAFE

Net Game Reveals no Pastime Likely to Dethrone Inaker This Season

By ART CARLSON

HOW long will Bill Tilden rule the tennis throne?

That's a question that has been popped every spring for the last few years. It's a tough query, however. It boggles a reply.

For "Big Bill" appears to be the same old fellow; the same racket wielder who has romped through the tennis field in a more or less reckless manner since 1920.

At least the lanky Quaker's work down south during the winter months would lead one to believe that he is well nigh invincible.

Tilden, like old wine, seems to improve as the years roll by. Time doesn't appear to slow him up or depreciate his game to any outstanding extent. Season after season he continues his same old bombardment, in the same old way.

Tilden and tennis—the two T's—are synonymous. Mention of the player recalls the pastime. And vice versa.

Tilden first sprang into the sporting glare in 1918. He finished runner-up to R. Lindley Murray that season. The following campaign found him second to Bill Johnston, the champion.

In 1920 Tilden reached the dizzy heights by beating Johnston in the final round. And every season since has defeated his much-cherished honors successfully. And, oddly enough, each time against Johnston.

Tilden has held the top rung for a longer period than any champion

CRESWELL SCHOOL GRADUATES ACTIVE

CRESWELL, June 6.—(Special)—At 5 o'clock Wednesday the seniors made their way to the home of Mr. Cray where a banquet was served in their honor by the junior class. Places were laid and marked by dainty place cards which were made by Miss Opal Robinette who found pictures of the guests and pasted them on the cover which was of scroll design.

Clifford Gregor was the toastmaster. Ruth Olson toasted the faculty. Mr. Mathew called the roll of the class saying the class with the teachers struggled and labored together in harmony each member taking active part in school activities. R. F. Scott chairman of the school board presented the diplomas which were of beautiful black suede leather with the names of the pupils in gold letters and lined with red satin. The diplomas had the class officers and class roll on the back. Mr. Scott told the class the necessity of a higher education that the diplomas were a certificate of District No. 40 that years ago girls and boys were content to follow in the footsteps of their parents but now women are leaders of great institutions. The benediction by Rev. Irvine closed the last of the school program. The graduates received many beautiful flowers, taken from friends. The church was filled to capacity.

Harrisburg Paving Problems Fixed up

HARRISBURG, June 6.—(Special)—In the first attempt to do grading work through the town for the Pacific highway the engineers found resistance from the city council. The pressure has been brought out by citizens more or less put out over the inroads which the graders made on their parking and sidewalk privileges.

Today Melvin Jones, the resident engineer, held a conference with Mayor McAfee and agreed to lower the grade through the Schooling addition at least a foot from the original plan and not to use dirt from the parking or sidewalk territory of the adjacent property owners. This was agreed.

The section over which the controversy arose is located near to the approach of the bridge.

The teams and scrapers, plows and men will be in action again today or Monday, it is thought.

The time is up for the ordering in of the first blocks of paving by the city council. Only two blocks were included in the council's demand and no protest has arisen. These are both on Third street, one block each side of Smith, or our main business street. It is a tie-up with the highway commission's paving through the city.

Triple Drowning in Willamette is Narrowly Averted

HARRISBURG, June 6.—(Special)—What might easily have terminated in a triple drowning was averted by the cool presence of mind of V. E. Smithley when he and his father and mother were precipitated into the high waters of the Murdock slough Wednesday morning. They attempted to ford the channel in the usual place, but being aware of the extent of the rise in the water, when the wagon box suddenly floated free from the running gear, and being carried by the swift current soon capsized. The three leapt together and were carried by the stream fully 200 yards before they could gain footing, emerging with the son's arms around each of the parents. The team landed safely a short distance from them, but the wagon box was carried for nearly a half mile.

Billy Evans Says—

By BILLY EVANS

GEORGE SISLER'S record of hitting safely one or more times in the first 34 games of the season is a remarkable performance.

It makes it seem that the comeback of the popular leader of the St. Louis Browns is more than a mere flash. Few long batting streaks have started with the opening of the season as did Sisler's.

In compiling his record of 34 consecutive games in which he hit safely, Sisler drove the ball to all fields.

Last season he dropped most of his hits into left field. This year he is pulling the ball to all sections of the playing territory. No better proof could be offered as to the genuineness of his comeback.

Sisler's 1925 record of 34 games in which he hit safely tops the two best efforts of last season. In the American, Sam Rice hit safely in 31 games. In the National, Eddie Roush went 27 straight.

That the baseball fan admires the true sportsman, the player who always gives his best, is evidenced wherever the Washington club plays. Walter Johnson is the athlete to whom the fans pay homage. His great record and his fine character win for him round after round of applause any time he steps on the ball field.

Johnson's career has been a true test of the man. It is difficult for a star to show to best advantage under discouraging conditions. That has been Johnson's fate from the very start.

With a talent of the highest order, part of his career, he has been an outstanding star since the day of his debut.

Not until he was on the decline as a pitcher did his teammates display pennant aspirations. Every fan is familiar with Walter Johnson and the 1924 world series.

Some idea of Johnson's greatness as a pitcher can be gleaned from the fact that with the exception of one season, his pitching average has been higher than his team's record.
