

LOVE AND BARRETT STORE TAKEN BY WASHINGTON MAN

Love and Barrett's department store, 30 Ninth avenue east, was today taken by J. Matt Johnson, former owner of the White House clothing store at Colfax, Wash.

Following a sale, in which George E. Love and Robert S. Barrett, whose stock interests in the Love and Barrett corporation were purchased by Mr. Johnson, he expects to assume full charge of the store, and conduct a business similar to the one in which he engaged in Colfax.

Mr. Johnson, who is a member of the Kiwanis club and Odd Fellows lodge, was in business for 22 years in Colfax. He has spent several months looking for a new location to open and down the coast, and decided Eugene offered the best educational resources for his daughter, now in high school, and son, in elementary schools. They are at present making their home in the Stanley apartments, but expect either to purchase or build a residence at an early date.

Love and Barrett's store was opened May 21, 1923, as a general merchandise store by George Love, who had previously conducted a surplus and goods store on Willamette street since December, 1920, and by Robert S. Barrett, who was with A. A. Billy's department store.

Neither Mr. Love nor Mr. Barrett have announced any immediate plans for the future. Mr. Love, who has been extremely active in civic and ex-service men's affairs the last few years, insists that he would "rather be a bookbinder in Eugene than mayor of Portland." He is now vice-president of the Lane county Red Cross chapter, past-commander of the local American legion, which he organized and built from a membership of 150 to 547. He is also grand chief de mare of Oregon for the 40 and 8 order, the supreme degree of the American legion.

Mr. Barrett announces he will make his home in Eugene. He is at present the president of the Lane County Credit association, and an active member of the chamber of commerce. He has been a resident of Eugene for more than five years.

SUMMER SCHOOL WORK IS PLANNED

Many new and attractive features are planned for the twelfth annual boys' and girls' summer school to be held at the Oregon Agricultural college June 15 to 27 inclusive, according to Arnold Collier, club leader. Classes for local leaders will be conducted, music will be furnished and led by Paul Petri, director of the school of music, and such authorities as Walter M. Pierce, governor of Oregon, Miss Gertrude Warren of the United States department of agriculture, and W. J. Kerr, president of the college, will speak at the assemblies. The following members are expected to attend from Lane county: Pearl Elliott, Carl Liles, Margaret Muhr, Rexford Eldson, Helen Watson, Othel Stroud, Francis Cochran, Molly Cochran.

"Busy at all times" is the motto of the club department. Class work will start at 8:30 and last until noon. One and one-half hours will be allowed for lunch. All club meetings will meet at 1:30 for assembly. After assembly the "clubbers" are free to spend the afternoon at recreation of some sort provided by those in charge. Stunt shows, movies, and parties are examples of the evening entertainments.

The boys will be taught blacksmithing, stock judging, crop production, horticulture, farm mechanics, beekeeping, poultry, and insectology, in such a way that they will benefit most from it. The girls' program has been increased. Baking, canning, cooking, house decoration, table service, and other home economic subjects will be taught.

WARNER CONTEST WINNERS GIVEN

Miss Mildred Hayden, of Eugene, and a senior in the University of Oregon, won the second prize of $85 in the Murray Warner contest at the university. It was announced today.

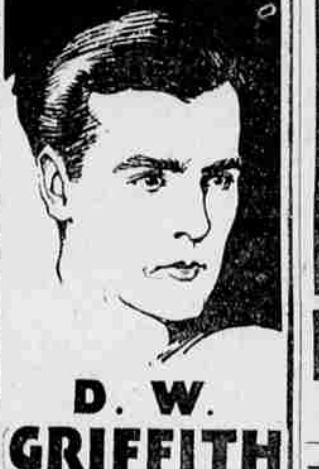

Harold A. Kirk special student in the school of Journalism, and of Oregon City, won the first prize of $100. Augustin P. Carmila, pre-medical student from Portland, won the third prize of $35.

The general subject for the contest, which is an essay contest, is improvement in relations between the United States and the Orient. There were several entries in the contest and the decision between the first four was difficult. Miss Ethel Johnson, history major from The Dalles, being just outside the money. "Wrong Attitude," was the subject of Mr. Kirk's thesis. "Mutual Understanding and Contribution Between United States and the Orient," was Miss Hayden's topic. She is a major in history in the university and was recently elected to Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic society. "The Pacific Problem and its Solution," was the subject of Mr. Carmila's essay.

Judges were Ivan Ware, formerly connected with the Canton Christian college in China, and Harvey A. Wheeler, formerly an educational worker in Japan, both of Eugene; Joseph Washington Hall, lecturer on oriental languages and literature, of the University of Washington; and Upton Close, author, and writer of works on the orient.

Mrs. Gertrude Bass Warner is the donor of the prize and of the Murray Warner oriental art museum at the university. The prize is donated in honor of the memory of the late Major Murray Warner of the United States army engineers. The prize was first given in 1905. Last year it was increased to $100, and this year
