WEATHER SLICES BERRY BUSINESS

Early Fruit and Melons Coming in; Cold is Deplored

PORTLAND, Ore., June 9.—Cool, rainy weather is seriously cutting into the local wholesale fruit and berry business. Early fruit and melons are coming into the market in increasing quantities and the demand instead of improving is falling off, according to local produce dealers.

That the weather is against any heavy consumption of melons and other early summer fruits is the general cry along the street.

The situation is peculiar in that citrus fruits, melons and early tree fruits are soaring at California shipping points and declining here. Recent torrid weather throughout the eastern part of the country brought forth such a demand from California shippers that they have a hard time filling requirements with the light crop. Lemons, oranges, apricots, peaches, cantaloupes and watermelons are all higher in the south. On the other hand the demand here is exceedingly light due to the unfavorable weather.

Local fruit is also breaking in on the deal with The Dalles cherries arriving in liberal quantities. Strawberries too are plentiful. Arrivals on the early market, while not extremely heavy were plenty sufficient to supply the trade and prices were easier at $1.60 to $2 a crate. Raspberries were held at $3.75 to $4, but sold along the street later as low as $3.50. Berries were quoted at $2.25 wholesale. The berry deal is very near the peak.

Contrast Noted At Tent Service

A noticeable contrast was presented last evening at the Benham tent where two lady evangelists have succeeded two men evangelists, whereas before the pulpit was held down by C. O. Benham assisted by Ted Kennedy, it is now Mary F. Ayers assisted by Mrs. Isenberger.

The novelty of the sudden change will soon wear off and the promoters are looking ahead to a real good time.

The song leader is possessed of a good voice and is evidently one of experience in her part of the service.

The evangelist, Miss Ayers, is a native of Australia and has seen service in the missionary field in her home county, in India, New Zealand and other places. She accompanied Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson of Angelus Temple fame when she toured Australia and is a remarkably gifted speaker.

She stated that she will speak frequently during the series of her experience in foreign lands—referring to her work among the aborigines of Australia—out in the bush when just out of school, and told of an interesting incident while with troops in India during the great World war.

GOLFERS LEAVE

NEW YORK, June 9.—(AP)—America's hopes of winning the British open golf championship this year travel down the bay and out to sea today on the Aquitania which sailed with MacDonald Smith and Joe Kirkwood on her passenger list. INVESTORS! LISTEN TO THIS!
I have 906 acres just one mile east of Pleasant Hill high school, and 14 miles from Eugene. There is ten to twelve million feet of 2nd growth fir timber, and many thousands of cords of old growth fir wood. At present there is one sawmill cutting on the place that is turning in from $100 to $150 per month. There will be two or three more cutting before the summer is over. Also am selling considerable wood stumpage and having some wood cut to sell. This land is worth $10 per acre for grazing purposes after timber is off. Several springs on the place furnish plenty water. I need to raise some money and will sell for $15,000. I will take half the value in clear property.
