

NEW BLEACHERS FOR UNIVERSITY FIELD ASSURED

The University of Oregon is assured of new bleachers for Hayward field, to cost $18,000, and a new baseball pavilion, to cost $65,000, within the next few weeks, following action taken by the board of regents yesterday.

Graduate Manager Benefield, Virgil Earl, director of athletics, and Walter Malcolm, student body president, appeared before the board, told of the recent action of the students whereby a term was voted for a building fund, and outlined the building program. The board agreed to the proposal to float a bond issue of $80,000 for the buildings, with the reservations that the university be not held financially responsible, and that the building should be arranged in cooperation with a building committee of the board.

The new bleachers will replace the old uncovered stands on the east side of the field, and will be covered. A large press box is to be built on top.

The basketball pavilion, according to present plans, will seat 8000 people, and will be so arranged that it can be used for rallies, dances and other affairs. A survey of the athletic field was also arranged, so that all buildings in the future may be a part of a definite building program.

Construction on both projects is expected to start within a few weeks, as soon as plans can be drawn up and submitted for bids. The new basketball pavilion will be near Hayward field.

Mr. McGlue was at his best in losing to Berlenbach. . . . Well you never can say he wasn't a good loser.

Whatever Mr. McGlue was or was not as a manipulator of the fists, his passing from the headlines will be sorely grieved by the Paragrappers' Union.

The fight was held for the benefit of the New York milk fund. . . . Perhaps that is why Mr. Berlenbach performed so much like a cow.

And you may be surprised to know that One-Eyed Connolly was not among those present. . . . It seems that he simply could not horn in.

Man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands dead. . . . You can get the real drift of this when you learn that a swell guy like Hornaby has been named manager of the Carls.

Pete DePaolo is the new winner of the 500-mile automobile race, and Mr. "Goofy" reminds us, in his airy way, that you just can't keep the Irish down.

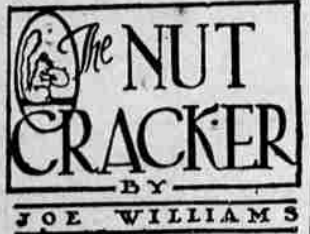

Big Munn says he took to wrestling because to know he'd never make a boxer. . . . On the same theory his next move will probably be in the general direction of the farm.

The month of June finds Mr. Connie Mack still riding the top waves in the American league. . . . Obviously there is such a thing as a flash in the pan developing the rugged attributes of permanence.

Boxing commissions are comical things. . . . The New York commission, for example, is the only person, or group of persons, in the world possessed of a desire to see Dave Shade box Mickey Walker.

Fable: Once upon a time there was a headline writer who did not refer to a double header as a "twin bill" . . . He called it a "plural fount."

One of the new crop of featherweights is called Kid Carpet. . . . You suppose to ask, "Why is he called Kid Carpet?" . . . And the teacher answers, "Because he's always on the floor."

Tom Gibbons Goes Down to Defeat at Hands of Gene Tunney

Before 40,000 fans, Tom Gibbons, one of the cleanest and most gentlemanly boxers, went down to defeat before Gene Tunney, a younger opponent. The sweating heat robbed him of the speed that had carried him through 15 rounds with Dempsey. Tom is shown in the final knockdown in the twelfth round with Tunney standing over him and the referee, Dick Nugent, rushing toward them. Inset is Gibbons, sitting on the floor where he had never been before, helpless and unable to rise.

Puzzle Plays

THERE is a runner on first base. The batsman in an effort to advance him to second lays down a bunt. It strikes in fair territory in front of the plate.

The batsman has taken two steps on his way to first, then throws his bat in such a way that it comes into contact with the ball.

The contact is very slight but it hinders the catcher who intended trying for a play at second. Changing his mind he throws to first.

The ball goes over the first baseman's head, rolling into right field, and before it can be returned to the infield both runners have scored. How should the umpire rule on such a play?

The Answer

If the batsman so throws his bat that it strikes the ball in fair territory, thereby hindering the catcher in making a play on the ball, the batsman should be ruled out for interference.

While it might be apparent the batsman had no intention of interfering with the play, simply throwing his bat away at random, no consideration can be given that fact.

The batsman unquestionably interfered. His act handicapped the catcher. It prevented the original play, the throwing of the ball to second and caused him to try for the runner at first.

The batsman should simply be called out, and the runner originally on first base when the batsman bunted.

M'Kenzie Good to Sunday Fishermen

Fishing was good on the McKenzie Sunday.

This is the report brought back by scores of fishermen who went up the river to enjoy a day's outing to get acquainted with the trout again. Several hundred automobiles traveled the highway during the day, and many of the visitors fished from the banks of the stream, while others went out into the water by boat.

Fishing was better in the cool of the evening than during the hot part of the afternoon it was started. One party caught some nice big fish on a boat trip from Leaburg to Hendricks bridge. Others reported good luck on the upper McKenzie near the bridge earlier in the afternoon.

The number of fish caught apparently depends on the location, according to the sportsmen. The day was ideal for fishing, the motor parties finding the stream and surrounding country an ideal place to escape the heat of the afternoon.

SWEEPSTAKES OF THE LOS ANGELES-YOSEMITE ECONOMY RUN WON with ZEROLENE

The Los Angeles-Yosemite Economy Run of May 22-23—the ranking stock car event of its kind in the United States, gave motordom new official mileage records to vie for—and another impressive victory for Zerolene!

The Rollin, lubricated with Zerolene, carried off the sweepstakes—winning the award for the highest efficiency and gasoline economy established in the run. Piloted by Joe Bozzani, the Rollin's gasoline economy record for the 360 mile run from Los Angeles into the Sierras to Camp Curry was 27.43 miles per gallon of gasoline.

When Zerolene brings in the Sweepstakes Winner of the most competitive motoring event of the year—when it is the choice of more motorists in the Pacific Coast states than any other oil made—won't it pay you to use Zerolene—a better oil even if it does cost less?

STANDARD OIL COMPANY (California)

The Rollin and all other cars in the run used Red Crown gasoline exclusively—the best buy in town—by MILES!
