

FULL BRIGADE OF NATIONAL GUARD GOES ON PARADE

MEDFORD, Ore., June 17.—For the first time in the history of the Oregon National guard, a full brigade marched through the streets of an Oregon city Tuesday, when, led by Brigadier-General White, nearly 2500 members of the 82d brigade paraded through the business section of Medford while enthusiastic crowds lining the streets cheered them to the victors.

Also for the first time in the history of the national guard, a fully motorized artillery battalion appeared in public, the national guard battalion having received full motor equipment only a few days ago.

A national record for the Oregon national guard was also believed to have been established Tuesday by the fact that everyone of the 150 officers in the line of march, commanding from brigade to detachments was a veteran of the World war.

The spectacle as the infantry and artillery behind the regimental bands marched through the streets was a most inspiring one, and according to Brigadier General White was put on chiefly to demonstrate that the members of the O. N. G., appreciate the treatment they have received from the people of the city.

In an announcement this afternoon Major C. H. Scott, chief medical officer, declared the local encampment to be one of the healthiest encampments he had ever seen, there being only two cases of illness in the hospitals, both being mild colds.

Eugene Annual is Given High Rating

The Eugenean, the Eugene high school annual, was given honorable mention in the third annual contest conducted by the Oregon State chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity at O. A. C. The Clarion, Salem high school, and the Toka, Grants Pass high school, were awarded silver loving cups for winning first place.

This contest is conducted in two divisions, the first for larger high schools, and the second for those having fewer than 350 students. The Clarion will keep its prize permanently, having won it three consecutive times.

Competition was keen, with a large number of annuals submitted. Annuals were judged on originality, make-up, content, printing and engraving, and cover. Special commendation was given the Steelhead of The Dalles high school and the Poly Tech of Benson Polytechnic high school, Portland, on the fact that the printing was done by the students themselves.

Following a protest on the part of citizens of the last carnival in Eugene, the city council ordered the city attorney to frame an ordinance virtually banning carnivals from appearing in the city. As no meeting has been held by the council by that time, the ordinance has not even passed its first reading.

BANK OF COMMERCE EUGENE, OREGON. THE WAY TO SAVE. is to begin saving—there is no other way. But, once we establish the saving habit in ourselves, that will be our line of least resistance, and saving will be natural—and easy.

Why Eugene?

Some cities are man made and ordained—the cities of the plains. Take Denver for example, where a nucleus of men got together—strong men of dynamic force, with faith and courage, and on the banks of Cherry creek a stream of no more consequence than our historic Amazon—built the most important strictly inland city in America.

There are those who don't know why Eugene is here. Others think Eugene is here just because Eugene Skinner discovered Skinner's Butte, and in his supreme delight exclaimed "It's a Butte!"

May I tell you why Eugene is here? Let no one think it's of man's device. Eugene is here because of a hand engraver in the wool and warp of nature, which in its first inception was all kindness, but now in collaboration with man's aviciousness has become an octopus grasping where it has not sown, devouring where it has not sown, and now to satisfy its greed this monster will tear down the hillsides, cleave the rocks, lay waste the forests, burrow through mountain gorge; then to glut to the full of its greed with its tentacles, will reach far and wide sapping both village and hamlet till those of far off lands pay homage to its power.

But to you, through the Sam Hugh Realty Co., this hand is extended in all friendliness.

The booklet "The Evolution of the Hand from Promise to Fulfillment" for unforeseen reasons so long delayed are now to be had for the asking at the Sam Hugh Realty Co., 595 Willamette St., Eugene. (To mail to your friends.)

Thanks to those who contributed to its financing.

Vote for the Southern Pacific division terminal and car shop bonds and thus convert the hand of promise to that of fulfillment.

It means a city of the first magnitude; it means in time terminal rates, then Eugene will be the clearing house of inland Oregon, and the bonds will be met ten times by the increase. RAM HUGH.

TENNESSEE LAW BASIS OF TRIAL

WINCHESTER, Tenn., June 17.—(AP)—The validity of the Tennessee law prohibiting the teaching of evolution in public schools of the state, is the principal question involved in the trial at Dayton, July 10, of John T. Scopes for the alleged violation of the law. A. T. Seward, attorney-general of the 18th judicial district declared here today.

The legal phases of the case is about to be lost sight of, Mr. Seward declared, asserting, however, that it will be the purpose of the state to insist that the law is constitutional and that the state legislature was entirely within its province in the passage of such an act.

"The public schools of the state are maintained by the funds collected from the taxpayers," he said, "and my investigation reveals to me that the state has a right, through its legislature, to control the curriculum of the public schools."

"The questions involved in such a case as will be presented in the Scopes affair," he declared, "are manifestly for thinkers and sane, shrewd and loyal Americans. The issue certainly has the color of 'fanaticism vs. tolerance.'"

Hiking is Promised As Feature Event Of Row River Trip

Hiking is one of the important features of the Pioneer boys camp, and the big hike is the one to the Rubeama mines, which lasts for three days, and is under the guidance of E. E. Holliman, according to plans for the Y. M. C. A. outing scheduled for July 7 to 21 on the Row river.

The commissary department is under the charge of Mr. Geary, who has found just the kind of cuts that appeal to boys in camp. "Plenty of well cooked, wholesome food is an absolute necessity in a boys' camp. Ask a boy—he knows," is the announcement.

This year it is planned to make the camp fire program one of the big features of the camp, and every boy will be given an opportunity to help take to camp anything that will help to entertain, such as a mouth organ, small musical BETAIO NN X NXX cornet, clarinet, ukulele, or other small musical instrument.

Archery practice is one of the new features that will be added this year and promises to be interesting. Camp hours add zest to the spirit of the camp, and all boys desire to achieve some of the awards which are made at the end of the camp.

Paving at Crater Lake Will Start

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., June 17.—Paving of both entrances to Crater Lake national park will start July 1, according to announcement made here today by William E. Arnold, superintendent of the Warren Construction company, whose firm was awarded the contract. The work will approximate 20 miles and will cost in the neighborhood of $200,000.

Park officials will provide good detours for auto tourists during the time the paving is in progress, and these will be only for short stretches. Improvement of both the Klamath Falls and Medford entrances will proceed simultaneously, the paving official announced.

Many Britons are Drawn to Florida

LONDON, June 17.—(AP)—The balmy winter climate of Florida, long a lure to Americans from the cold northern states, has begun to draw wealthy Britons away from their swarthily chilly coasts along the Riviera.

The winter just ended saw hundreds of leisure Londoners cross the Atlantic to get away from the fog and rain of their gray and gloomy capital. Formerly only a few scores Englishmen took the time and trouble to discover the sunshine of the West Indies and Florida. The steamship companies have begun to trumpet the attractions of both, and expert increasing numbers of tourists to cross the Atlantic next winter in search of bright skies and soft southern breezes.

Those who have tried the trip bring back tempting tales of their experiences. One relishes a winter swim in the gulf, they say, whereas along the Riviera winter-time dips in the Mediterranean are taken only by the younger and brawlier visitors.
