

STATE ASKS DEATH OF SHEPHERD JURY

CHICAGO, June 26.—(AP)—The Shepherd trial went to the jury at 4:37 p. m.

CHICAGO, June 28.—(AP)—An acquittal in his trial for the murder of Billy McClintock would not free William Darling Shepherd, it developed this afternoon.

Wesley Westbrook, warden of the Cook county jail, pointed out he held a writ for Shepherd, issued after a coroner's jury recommended he be held for the murder of Mrs. Emma Nelson McClintock, mother of Billy, sixteen years ago.

Shepherd could be released from custody only upon arrangement for bail despite favorable action of the Billy McClintock murder case jury.

CHICAGO, June 28.—(AP)—The prosecuting William D. Shepherd is the perpetrator of a new species of murder who had slain his foster son, William McClintock with typhoid germs to obtain McClintock's million-dollar estate, District Attorney Robert E. Crowe today asked the jury to return a verdict of guilty that would carry a penalty of hanging.

Shepherd, Crowe charged, was a "shameless manipulator" who had been content to live sixteen years in plenty provided by another.

The prosecutor defended himself, Judge Harry Olson and Alexander F. Reibman, against assertions of the defense counsel that the trial was simply a step in a vicious conspiracy against Shepherd to prevent him inheriting Mr. McClintock's estate.

Crowe said the reason he put Judge Olson on the witness stand was to give defense attorneys, William Scott Stewart and W. W. O'Brien, an opportunity to make good their statements that "We will show this case a frame-up; that Olson has a financial interest in it."

"What do you think of tactics of that sort?" demanded Crowe, as he accused Stewart and O'Brien, "You can often tell whether or not the defendant is guilty by the kind of defense he presents."

NATIONAL GUARD RETURNS TODAY

Eugene's national guardsmen are coming home from Camp Jackson this afternoon.

After a two weeks' summer camp under the broiling sun of the Rogue river valley, the local troopers struck down their tent city last night, slept under shelter tents over the night, and packed up to return early this morning.

First of the five troop trains bringing the boys north from Medford passed through Eugene today about 2 o'clock. The trains bearing the local companies, Company "C," headquarters company, and medical detachment were expected to arrive in the city at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

No formal reception is planned upon arrival of the soldiers. Every man is looking forward to arriving home after the grueling experience in southern Oregon. Yesterday afternoon the troops received the pay which the government allows them for their training period.

Trains is expressed by the guardsmen for General White's wisdom in altering the training schedule to meet the unusual weather conditions. Scores of men were sent to the hospital infirmary from heat prostration, despite these precautions, and reports

Scholars to Take Evolution Stands

DAYTON, Tenn., June 26.—(AP)—A list of 11 scholars and authors, known for their research and writing on natural sciences and evolution, who have agreed to attend as witnesses and advisers when the Tennessee law against teaching evolution in state schools gets its test in court July 10, was made public last night by Dudley Field Malone, New York lawyer, who is associated with counsel for the defense of John T. Scopes, school teacher.

Mr. Malone appointed to select the experts for the defense's case, announced today that the names of other scientific witnesses would be added to the list and published later. The following experts, he said, have already signified their willingness to serve as witnesses:

Dr. Henry Fairfield Osborne, research professor of zoology, Columbia university; Dr. Edwin Grant Conklin, professor of biology, Princeton university; Michael Pupin, professor of electro-mechanics, Columbia university; Kirkley F. Mather, chief of the department of biology, Harvard university; Professor L. F. Retzger, biologist, Yale university; Maynard M. Metcalf, professor of zoology, Oberlin college; Arthur M. Miller, professor of zoology, University of Kentucky; Henry F. Higgins Lane, professor of zoology, University of Kansas; Dr. Edward L. Rice, professor of biology, Ohio Wesleyan university; Dr. J. G. Lynam, biologist of Rutgers college, New Jersey, and Dr. Ward J. McNeal, chief biologist of the post graduate medical school of New York City.

DEAF MUTE TAKEN BY POLICE HERE

"I give up, I'm tired of breaking the law."

This was a note written to Chief of Police Jenkins this morning by Kenneth Powell, 18, a deaf mute, whose home is at 938 West Seventh street, Albany.

The youth, travel-worn and weary, came in to the police department, gave himself up and asked for a bed. He admitted stealing a motorcycle from a fellow mute at Albany Wednesday morning.

After taking his confession, the police gave the boy a meal and gave him a bed in the city jail. Sheriff Richards of Linn county was expected to arrive this afternoon and take the prisoner into custody.

By the means of written questions and answers, the police drew the boy's story from him.

"I stole gas from cars," the mute wrote, "I am from the deaf school at Salem, and want to go back. I took the motorcycle while it was on the street."

This week the mayor sprung a coup by calling in departmental heads and

LEGION MEETING IN PRINEVILLE OPENS

Hixon on Vanjo, Smokey Stevens on Torpedo, Freddy Hunt on Quicksilver, Al Goss on Payday, Red Shepherd on Lassy Ike, Pat Woods made the spectacular ride of the afternoon on Jake Lloyd Henderson rode Harney Daily.

The crowd was entertained through the evening by the fancy riding and tricks by Hiram Versteeg, Ed Wright and his 25 cent mule and by Bonnie Grey and her $5000 horse; by Sam Garrett, champion trick roper, and by Lorena Trickey, champion cowgirl of the world, and Harry Walters.

Music was furnished throughout the afternoon by the Sheridan legion band and Hood River officials legion quartet.

In the Roman standing race of one half mile, Trickey placed first, with Walters second and Steele third.

In the relay race, the placings were the same as in the Roman standing race.

In the calf roping contest, Mike Stewart qualified as first man by roping, throwing and tying his calf in 51.2 seconds. Chet Gettings was second.

EARLY POLITICS ON DECK IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, June 26.—(AP)—Father Knickerbocker's political temperature has started on its quadrennial ascension, which marks the opening of his mayoralty fight. Wise or otherwise, Diagnosticians predict a high fever for the old gentleman long before primary day rolls around in September.

Hitherto these temperatures have been caused by efforts of republicans and fusionists to twist the tail of the Tammany bull.

This time, if that feat is to be accomplished, it may be by one of the same political faith—Mayor John F. Hyland.

The mayor who has held office for eight years, is desirous of another term. Whether he will be renominated by the democratic party is a question the Tammany chiefs have not yet officially decided, but if he does not get the regular nomination he is expected to run independently.

The possibility of the mayor running independently is agitating the Tammany heaves. The managers of the wigwag are practical politicians with an eye to the patronage at stake. The mayor of New York rules an empire and these politicians are not losing sight of the fact that the metropolis has many thousands of employees whose payroll runs up into the millions.

This week the mayor sprung a coup by calling in departmental heads and inviting those who are not for him to remove their feet from under the Hyland patronage table. While the meeting was not public, it was announced those present, including eight Tammany leaders had endorsed his proposed nomination by "acclamation."

This aroused the ire of Comptroller Charles L. Craig, a Tammany man, but a bitter foe of the mayor who countered with a letter to the district attorney and the governor, calling for the mayor's removal from office on the ground that he had violated the penal code providing against "corrupt use of a position or authority."

No far scarcely a man has been mentioned seriously for the republican nomination.

The "GOP" leaders say they are enjoying the row within the wigwag and hoping for a wide split that will allow a republican to win in a democratic stronghold.

The political forecast is: warmer.

JUNE BUILDING OVER $200,000

Building for June has exceeded the $200,000 mark already, reported W. H. Alexander, city building inspector this morning, after William Kercher took out 10 permits of $2000 each for additional bungalows on his bungalow court at Thirteenth avenue and Cross street.

With six other bungalows in process of completion on this court, the total improvement work is brought to $32,000.

E. J. Frasier, manager of the Frasier Real Estate Holding and Loan company took out a $2000 permit for changes in his buildings at Fifth and Willamette as per approved plans by the mayor, and the fire and water committee of the city council. J. Roy Bench has the contract for the work.

Lawson G. Bradley was granted permission to do $500 worth of remodeling of his residence at 350 Eleventh avenue west.

Swan of Albany against Secretary of State Kieser seeking to compel the secretary of state to call a special election in September notwithstanding Governor Pierce's veto of the special election bill, was argued in the supreme court today. John H. McNary and Walter E. Keyes appeared as attorneys for Swan and Willis S. Moore, assistant attorney general, appeared for the state. An opinion in the case may come down next Tuesday. The petition for mandamus sets forth an argument that the governor had no constitutional right to veto the bill.

HOT?

Try Refreshing Drinks

During days of extreme heat one's body calls out for something cool and refreshing. Almost invariably this yearning is satisfied by a nice cool drink. In our ice cold cooler is a large assortment of various kinds of thirst quencher—Canada Dry Gingerale, Clinghot Ginger Ale, Clinghot Pale Dry, Budweiser, Rainier, Grape Juices, Assorted Pop and Calapooya Water. These drinks are on tap any time—right off the ice. They may be purchased in individual bottles or by the case and may be drunk in the store or may be taken or delivered to your home.

College Ice Cream

College Ice Cream, a Eugene product and a very good one, too, is available in cones, bricks or in bulk and in any flavor. If College Ice Cream is desired for parties of any kind, we will deliver it direct from the store to the scene of the party at the time it is desired.

Table Supply Mayonnaise and Thousand Island Dressing

These two products that are made in our store according to our own recipe and under perfectly sanitary conditions, are becoming not only very popular with the people of Eugene and vicinity, but also throughout a large section of the State. Roseburg, Cottage Grove, Wendling, Florence, Newport and other places have recognized our product as being superior, and the list is growing all the time. Table Supply Mayonnaise and Thousand Island Dressing is made fresh every day and is contained in fruit jars bearing our label. They are superior because our supply is kept fresh constantly and because the recipe itself is superior. The glass containers may be returned when empty, and its intrinsic value will be deducted from the next jar purchased, thereby making it necessary to purchase only one jar. There is a range of sizes and prices that will suit your own personal requirements.
