CHERRY CROP SOON TO BE MOVED EAST

Cherry shipments will start from the valley next week and there will probably be around 50 carloads move out for the eastern markets according to reports here today.

Very few fresh prunes are expected to be shipped this year on account of the severe winter kill and the resulting light crop.

The poultry market is well supplied and prices are barely steady.

Butter continues firm although standard cubes are a half cent lower on the exchange. All other grades posted steady. Likelihood of an advance in print prices this week-end has apparently blown over.

Current receipts eggs are a half cent higher on the exchange at 32½c net. Graded stocks posted steady. Hot weather requires closer candling and greater losses. There is little prospect of prices working much higher.

Corn closed unsettled ⅛c to 1 3-8c net higher; September $1.04 3-8 to $1.04½.
