Your weight is your size in a Jantzen!

THE fit-by-weight method is another Jantzen innovation—originated because the surprising springiness of the original Jantzen stitch accommodates the build of the body "across" and "up and down" regardless of waist or chest measure!

One hundred and sixty pounds, for instance, takes a Jantzen size 40. As easy as that! There's a weight-and-size scale on every suit.

Only in a Jantzen, also, do you get the patented bow-trunk pattern, the non-rip crotch. The reinforced Jantzen shoulder strap is surmounted by an unbreakable rubber button. The most widely-sold swimming suit in America!

We carry Jantzens in attractive 1925 styles for men, women and children—also a new speed suit!

Come in and get your free automobile diving girdle!

PRICES: Men's Jantzens, $40.00 to $50.00; Women's Jantzens, $30.00 to $40.00; Child's Jantzen, $20.00 to $30.00.

Jantzen The suit that changed bathing to swimming are among visitors from this city stopping in Longview, Washington.

Went to Newport—J. B. Hewitt left this morning for Newport to join his family who have been spending a few days on the coast.

Leaves for South—Miss Mildred Ward leaves tonight

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES

Story by Hal Cochran—Drawings by L. W. Redner TOY CAVE—CHAPTER 27

As the hermit ran up on shore and disappeared back of some trees, Jack wondered what was going to happen next. His wonder was soon answered, for in a few moments the hermit reappeared with a big basket sack of scones. "Better take these along," he shouted. "You can drink the milk and eat the scones."

"THE scones were tossed into the boat and then Jack and Doty shouted a farewell to the little tin case man who stood along the shore. 'We've had a great time,' said Doty. 'You bet we have,' chimed in Jack. And then Flip, the pet dog, barked, and Flop, the pet monkey, scratched his forehead.

"THE sail boomed then and Jack and Doty sailed off into the open ocean and then go southward. 'How can we tell which is south?' asked Jack. 'Well, here's a compass you can take with you,' replied the hermit. Everything was now ready, and the little adventurers sailed away.
