Heirs of Veterans Get Credit Money

If a veteran having an adjusted service credit of $50 or less dies after making application but before he has received payment, the amount of his adjusted service credit is nevertheless payable in a lump sum, according to a ruling received by Miss Grace Norton, local Red Cross secretary, from the national Red Cross office.

The amount will be payable as soon as practicable after receipt of the application by the Veterans' bureau, to his dependents in the following order of preference:

Widow, if unmarried, children, mother, father. This is true even though he may have named someone else as beneficiary, because there is no provision in the law for issuing an insurance certificate in cases where less than $50 is due and it is only when the man is entitled to an insurance certificate that the beneficiary can be named by him.

If a veteran having an adjusted service credit of more than $50 dies after making application, the amount of his adjusted service certificate will be paid to his designated beneficiary in a lump sum.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

By MARIAN LOWRY

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman W. Moody motored to Portland the past weekend. Mr. Moody has returned, but Mrs. Moody will visit there for two weeks with relatives and friends.

The Ladies of the Orient were entertained Saturday evening at Cottage Grove, the losing side in the recent contest entertaining with a banquet, a large number of Eugene members being present for the evening.

Miss Alice Evans and Floyd Bowles were married in Portland yesterday at the home of the bride's parents, Bishop Walter T. Sumner reading the service. Both are former University of Oregon students. Mrs. Bowles taught in Cottage Grove.

Of particular interest to the college group is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Cleo Bass and Andrew Koerner in Portland Thursday. Mrs. Koerner is a graduate of the university and a member of Delta Gamma sorority. They will make their home in Portland.

Miss Alta Hayes of Delight Valley and Charles A. Henson of Eugene were married Saturday night at the Christian parsonage by Rev. J. J. Adams. They will live in Eugene.

Of interest to many Eugene friends is the account of a dinner-dance given recently in Washington, D. C., for which occasion Major-General Croed C. Hammond was one of the guests of honor.

Officers of the regular army and of the national guard, on duty in the Militia Bureau of the War department, tendered a farewell dinner and dance to Major-General George C. Rickards, retiring chief of the bureau, and to Major-General Croed C. Hammond, his successor, at the Officers' club, Friday night.

General Rickards has been in the military service for forty-eight years. He was the first national guard officer to hold the post of chief of the Militia Bureau under the new national defense act.

Those in attendance at the dinner, in addition to General and Mrs. Rickards and General and Mrs. Hammond, were: Acting Secretary of War, Dwight W. Davis; Major General and Mrs. John L. Hines; Major General and Mrs. D. S. Nolan; Colonel and Mrs. P. L. Miles; Colonel and Mrs. G. F. Baitzell; Colonel and Mrs. E. J. Williams; Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. T. W. Davis; Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. E. M. Caldwell; Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. M. A. Campbell; Major and Mrs. H. W. Taylor, and the officers of the militia bureau.

S. P. STREETCAR IS ROBBED IN HOLDUP

The last car on the Eugene-Springfield streetcar line of the Southern Pacific was held up by an armed thief and $10 taken from the changer at 12 midnight Saturday night at Tenth and Main streets, Springfield, just before the return to the car lamps.

Motorman Charles E. Croson had just stopped the car at the end of the line, turned the fenders and trolley, and was walking back through the empty car for the return run, when he saw a pedestrian approaching and opened the door to let him in.

The man sprang into the car, thrusting a revolver into Mr. Croson's nose, and ordered him to empty the changer. The robber wore a red handkerchief over the lower part of his face, and a slouch hat was well pulled down over his face, so that his features were indistinguishable, according to Mr. Croson. The man was roughly clad in overalls and a red shirt, was of medium height, possibly five feet seven or eight inches, and possibly 25 years old or thereabouts. He made a quick getaway.
