broadcasting program will include 10 p. m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, it is announced by C. M. Granger, district forester, Portland. This is in keeping with the policy pursued last June 25 for the benefit of those too remote to receive the regular broadcast at 7:30 p. m.

Return From Salem—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Chambers, Mrs. Elizabeth Kerns, and Miss Maude Kerns are back from Salem where they attended the meeting of the Irving clan on Sunday. A total of 250 Oregon members of the clan were present, some from as far as Peas, Oregon. Senator McNary and Mr. Miller gave addresses. Mrs. Chambers gave a history of the clan, which was Scotch-Irish originally, tracing its history through settlements in Kentucky, Indiana, Missouri and Oregon. Irving Claggett, oldest member in Oregon, accompanied the Chambers from Independence.

Hotel Information Asked—A letter asking for information about the new Eugene hotel, its plan, rates, number of bedrooms, location, and a photograph of it, has been received by the Eugene chamber of commerce from Cleo C. Smith, a nursery artist in Palisado, N. J. The letter also inquires the name and seating capacity of the largest theater, and the date Eugene was founded.

Plan to Locate Here—Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Cummings and daughter Gladys of Portland are in Eugene with the intention of locating here. Mr. Cummings has been connected with the Portland Light and Power company. Despite the fact that the family had the misfortune to lose $1000 worth of furniture in the Oregon Transfer company's storage barn fire Saturday night, not covered by insurance, they are favorably impressed by Eugene.

Purchases Lot—Professor H. R. Crossland purchased the Hillard lot on Harris street between Eighteenth and Nineteenth avenues yesterday. The lot is 25 by 160 feet. Professor Crossland plans to begin the erection of a modern home immediately.

Visiting Parents Here—Wilbur S. Hullin, of Princeton, N. J., is spending a part of the summer vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Hullin. He is a graduate of

Superfluous Hair Rid FOREVER—or No Cost

Why tolerate unsightly hair on your face, neck, arms or legs when it can be removed quickly and safely—roots and all? Don't use expensive electric treatments, nor be a slave to a razor or ordinary depilatories which merely burn off surface hairs, and often strengthen the hair root. A marvelous new magnetic balsam, which is applied almost as easily as cold cream, breaks every unsightly hair and gently lifts it out, root and all, leaving the skin healthy, clear, and free of all blemishes, no odor, no discomfort. Absolutely harmless. Try it on this guarantee—that it will absolutely rid you of superfluous hair forever—or no cost. Karma, as this new discovery is called, may be purchased at all good druggists, such as:

Announcement of Fire Permit Made

Those desiring camp fire permits can get them at Blue River, McKenzie Bridge, Oakridge, and Revere, about two miles above Landis. It is announced from the office of Nelson F. Mandif, supervisor of the Cascade national forest, where permits are ordinarily issued.

Permits are given from the Cascade office Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, and on Saturdays up to noon. The office is closed to business on Saturday afternoon, so those wanting permits for over the week-end must get them before that time. Many are anticipated for the fourth of July outing period.

Many Labor Calls In June, is Report

Labor conditions in Eugene and vicinity for June have been generally good, despite the depression in labor conditions in many parts of the country, is the statement of F. L. Armitage, superintendent of the Eugene United States Employment bureau.

There is so much work this year as last in this section, since the rains made the hay crop look off and the clover hay and stock want all of one together. Many calls for workers in the harvestable have been received, according to Mr. Armitage.

Manning of Everett, being under auspices of the Everett Pigeon club, made the distance 50 miles. In seven hours, 45 minutes and 50 seconds.

APPRECIATION IN EDUCATION HELD TASK OF TEACHER

Education for appreciation, as well as training for specialized work was declared the big task of educators today by Dr. David Snedden, professor of education at Teachers' College, Columbia university, who spoke at the assembly of summer school students of the University of Oregon.

Dr. Snedden defined educational methods into two classes, the objective and the appreciative, naming these the "Alpha" and "Beta" methods.

Taking geography as an example, Dr. Snedden pointed out the fact that the subject as now taught was far too complicated, and too crammed with details to be interesting to the average student. This subject could be cut down to essentials, and the great bulk of matter left to those who wish to specialize in a field involving extensive geographic study, he pointed out. This all students would gain an appreciation of the subject, and some could become specialists.

Principle in Use—This principle is already being adopted in regard to music, and Dr. Snedden, in many schools technical, highly specialized music is given to those who show special talent, while the great bulk of students are taught a realization of values, and an appreciation of what is really fine in the art.

"Today almost everyone that amounts to anything is a specialist in some distinct line," said Dr. Snedden. "For example, teaching now embraces some 10 specialized departments, and other professions and crafts are likewise subdivided. For things other than the specialty, a person must depend upon superficial ideas. An economizing process is going on, whereby the exercise of a real depth is saved for a person's major interest."

Appreciation Held Need—"But in order not to become too narrow, this superficiality must be tempered with an appreciation of what is going on, and this is what educators must concern themselves with in the future, as specialization comes more and more to the fore."

"Appreciation should be taught to the child in such a way that the essentials can be assimilated, and it should be a separate and distinct objective from teaching for specialization."

Dr. Snedden will speak the same general subject tomorrow at 11 o'clock at Guild hall, it is announced.

POLLS ARE OPEN UNTIL 8 TONIGHT

Polls for the special city election will be open this evening until 8 o'clock, so you yet have time to cast your vote.

If popular opinion expressed around polling places in any indication of the vote, all the measures carried by a good majority, it was expressed at the city hall this afternoon.

A small vote, by far the smallest.

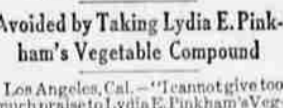

AN OPERATION RECOMMENDED

Avoided by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Los Angeles, Cal.—"I cannot give too much praise to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me. My mother gave it to me when I was a girl 14 years old, and since then I have taken it when I feel run down or tired. I took it for three months before my two babies were born and I could not have done so without it. I firmly believe 'Pinkham' cured me. Every one who saw me after that remarked that I looked so well. I only have to take medicine occasionally, not but I always keep a couple of bottles by me. I recommend it to women who speak to me about their health. I have also used your 'Santol Wash' and like it very much."

had spells as if my heart was affected, and it helped me a lot. The doctors told me at one time that I would have to have an operation. I thought I would try 'Pinkham's,' as I call it, first. In two months I was all right and had no operation. I firmly believe 'Pinkham' cured me. Every one who saw me after that remarked that I looked so well. I only have to take medicine occasionally, not but I always keep a couple of bottles by me. I recommend it to women who speak to me about their health. 100 GALLONS OF WHISKEY TAKEN

A hundred gallons of moonshine whiskey—the second cargo designed for Oakridge trade on the Fourth of July, officers say—were taken last night when J. W. Watson, deputy sheriff at Oakridge, and Percy Stielmacher swooped down upon Hob Anders who was transporting the liquor in a Dodge truck.

The whiskey was in 10 kegs holding 10 gallons each, and at the prevailing market price of $5 a pint would be worth $4000, according to officials in the sheriff's office. Officers previously had stopped a bronze runner on his way to the railroad town with a cargo of 100 pints of whiskey.

Andras was brought to Eugene this morning, accompanied by the evidence and was locked up in the county jail. The liquor was stored in the vault at the sheriff's office, and was found to test 100 proof.

The arrest was made on Hills creek 2 1/2 miles above Oakridge. The prisoner told officers that he had a market for the entire cargo. He was to be given a hearing in justice of peace court this afternoon.

CHEVROLET HEAD IS VISITOR HERE

J. Knudsen, president of the Chevrolet Motor company, and R. H. Grant, vice-president and general manager of the company, were visitors in Eugene today with E. S. Gannett, president of the Gannett Motor company, newly established Chevrolet agency and service garage.

Others in Mr. Knudsen's party were F. N. Coats, of Oakland, Cal., regional sales manager; and W. J. Richmond, of Portland, zone sales manager. C. W. Fox, district factory representative of the company was one of the group to welcome the visitors.

Mr. Knudsen expressed himself as very favorably impressed with Eugene and Lane county and the good roads to be found in this section. He foresees a rapidly growing field for the automobile industry in this locality.
