Major and Mrs. Bubb have made their home in Eugene the last two and one half years.

Highways Discussed—

Better care and methods of improving the state highways were discussed at the meeting of the engineers' association held Monday night at the court house. N. M. Finkbiner, highway engineer for the state, related some of the work which is now being done in Oregon. In discussing methods of creating oil surfaces on macadamized roads, Mr. Finkbinder explained the surface method which is obtained by spreading a coat of light oil over the road after it has been swept. Then a layer of fine rock is applied and rolled down. This process is repeated several times. In the other method the oil and gravel is mixed and then applied. According to Mr. Finkbiner the cost of oiling roads may be lessened with the use of proper equipment. P. L. Fahrney of the tar and asphalt department of the Standard Oil company spoke and showed moving picture films on the bituminous roads.

Rabbit Ranch Large—

The new rabbit farm, which is being constructed at Sutherlin, Oregon, and will be known as the Douglas Park Rabbitries, will be under the presidency of Frank G. Hogan. Mr. Hogan is also head of the Hillcrest Rabbitries at Alta Loma, Cal. In a recent rabbit exhibition held at Pasadena the Hillcrest products were judged the best on display, so that the Alta Loma farm stands the highest in both size and quality. When construction work on the Oregon rabbit farm has been completed, it is said that the 2,000 acre ranch will be a model rabbit city. Arrangements are being made so that the business will include all phases of the meat and fur trade. The Royal Ermine strain of rabbit will be raised on the Douglas farm.

Maps Discussed—

Professor Harold S. Tuttle of the University of Oregon school of education spoke at a meeting of the grade school principals and teachers Monday when he demonstrated how valuable is the use of electric maps in connection with the education of children in the study of geography. The map consists of a regular map mounted on a base wired for electric current. A metal contact point is placed at each place shown on the map and another at the corresponding name on a list at one side of the map. One electrode is placed on the metal point next to the name and the other at the contact point on the map. If the correct place is touched on the map a light will flash.

MRS. TOMS TAKES STAND IN SOUTH

HALL OF JUSTICE, LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Mrs. C. Ivy Toms, widow of the slain druggist, whom William Edward Hickman and Welby Hunt are accused of murdering, told from the witness stand today of the fatal shooting.

The widow identified the youths as the bandits who entered the store with drawn pistols and forced her husband and a customer back behind the prescription counter with hands up, into the arms of James Oliver a policeman who was behind the prescription counter, with Mrs. Toms, repairing his flashlight. A general scramble followed and Toms fell mortally wounded.

"Get his gun," Mrs. Toms testified Hunt said to Hickman as Oliver reached for his gun. Hickman, according to her testimony, began firing while Hunt kept his gun on her, she moved and her husband dived for the gun trying to protect her. During the fight her husband slumped to the floor and dragged himself to a rear door.

Mrs. Toms said she did not know who actually fired the fatal shot but testified that Hickman fired several shots at her husband and then started running out of the store as Toms dragged himself across the floor.

Hunt, she said, was battling with the policeman, she broke and ran to the cash register, two shots from the officer's gun followed his flight out of the store.

The youths wore Santa Claus masks during the holdup, she said.

Dr. Frank R. Webb, assistant county autopsy surgeon, who preceded Mrs. Toms on the witness stand identified a bullet as the one taken from the body of Toms.

The doctor testified he performed the autopsy on the body and that death had resulted from a gunshot wound.

Legion Officials Ask Flag Display

Asking all merchants of the city who have flags to display on the sidewalks, to put them out early Wednesday, officials of the American legion are preparing to observe Washington's birthday anniversary in Eugene.

"It doesn't look good for half a dozen merchants to display the flag along Willamette street unless all of them are out," said Arthur T. Moses, adjutant of the local legion post.

"If all of the merchants observe the day by displaying the flag it will show the patriotic spirit of the day."

Chamber Will Send Meeting Delegation

Efforts to have a delegation of Eugene chamber of commerce members attend the quarterly meeting of the Pacific Northwest Advisory board, car service division, of the American Railway association at Roseburg early in March are being made by T. J. Flippin, chamber secretary.

"This is the first time that this session has been held other than in Spokane, Seattle and Portland and it is hoped that the Eugene district will be well represented," Mr. Flippin says. The meeting at Roseburg was arranged in order that shippers and railway officials may gain first hand knowledge on the agricultural transportation problems of the state.

Yeomen to Attend Meeting in Salem

Eugene Homestead of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen will send a large delegation from here to Salem Saturday night, Feb. 25, to visit the Salem Homestead and participate in the initiation of 100 members.

Salem Homestead won the 90-day City of Childhood campaign with 100 members and the induction of the latter will be the occasion for a large gathering from all over Willamette valley.

All local Yeomen who will go are asked to get in touch with Judd Spauffer, foreman, so arrangements may be made for their transportation.

Delegation May Attend Meeting

SPRINGFIELD, Feb. 21.—(Special)—Representation from Springfield, including Welby Stevens and A. J. Perkins, members of the chamber of commerce bridge committee, are expected to attend the meeting of the state highway commission in Portland Tuesday, Feb. 28, to urge the letting of bids at once for the construction of the inter-city bridge across the Willamette river.

The Springfield group desire to have the bridge put in as soon as possible, regardless of decision of the public service commission on the proposed closing of the Springfield Second street crossing.

ROSEBURG TO VOTE ON AVIATION FIELD

ROSEBURG, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The Roseburg city council last night passed an ordinance calling a special election on March 28 on the question of issuing $25,000 worth of bonds for the establishment of an airport on the 140-acre site at Edenbower selected by Umpqua post, No. 16 of the American Legion.

Salient provisions of the ordinance are that the administration of the airport shall be vested in the mayor and four associates to be appointed by him, one to be a member of the council; that a sinking fund shall be created to liquidate the bonds at maturity; that the bonds shall not exceed a tenure of twenty years, and that the rate of interest will be no higher than five per cent, payable semi-annually.

Previous to the introduction of the ordinance petitions bearing the signatures of 750 registered voters and asking for the bond election were presented by a committee of legionnaires. There was also an address by their spokesman, John E. Flurry, who reviewed the seven months of quiet and unremitting labor of the local post to get the airport project before the voters.

Grand Jury Frees Lawson G. Bradley

The Lane county grand jury, in session here Tuesday, returned a not true bill in the case of Lawson G. Bradley, former local real estate and loan man, and one secret indictment.

Mr. Bradley has been at liberty under bond on a charge of larceny by bailee.

The grand jury was dismissed following this report and a new one will be drawn when the next term of court begins Feb. 27.

DIRECTOR FOR GIRL SCOUTS IS NAMED

Mrs. Arnold Shrupp, who has been the local scout director of Tacoma for the past year, will arrive in Eugene March 29 to take over the duties of girl scout director here. Mrs. Shrupp will attend the conference for all local directors to be held in California from March 9 to 16. After the conference the new director will maintain offices in the McMorran and Washburne building.

Miss Vail Starr, regional director of Girl Scout work, will be in Eugene this week to officiate at the awards session and to conduct classes in leadership. Miss Starr's headquarters are in Palo Alto, Cal.

After spending the week in Eugene Miss Starr will go to Lebanon where she will participate in the dedication of the new Girl Scout home there. Miss Starr, in speaking of the Eugene work, said that with the coming of the new director and the continued good work of the various councils there is reason to expect the local movement to make rapid improvements.

The court of awards, at which a score of girls will receive awards and promotion, will be conducted Tuesday evening in the auditorium of the McMorran and Washburne building.

Classes are being conducted at the university from 4 to 5 o'clock and from 5 to 6 o'clock each day this week. Both girl student's and women of the city are invited to attend. Advance classes will be held Tuesdays and Thursdays at 11 o'clock, Friday at 8 o'clock and Monday at 3 o'clock.

CALENDAR CHANGE IS ROTARY TOPIC

The proposal to change the calendar so that the year would consist of 13 months instead of 12 was the subject of an address by Dr. Frederick S. Dunn, head of the Latin department of the University of Oregon before the Rotary club at its regular weekly luncheon Tuesday noon at the Osburn hotel.

The movement for the new calendar, is being sponsored by the government of Switzerland, Mr. Dunn said, and has been indorsed by the United States chamber of commerce and a number of other influential organizations. The new calendar would include 13 months of 28 days each, leaving one day unattached. The new month, to be known as Sol, would be inserted between July and August. This would eliminate much of the inconvenience brought about by the present calendar, Mr. Dunn said. Many employers have already adopted the system in paying their men.

Following Mr. Dunn's address Dr. Charles Hunt led the community singing of the Rotary club.

Demonstration of Cooking Planned

SPRINGFIELD, Feb. 21.—(Special)—Four-H clubs of the Lincoln school of Springfield are sponsoring a cooking demonstration at the school Thursday, Feb. 23, with Mrs. Humphrey in charge.

Health Hints for Babies

Chicago, Ill.—Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, Health Commissioner and President of the American Association of Health Commissioners, issues a warning for the winter months:

"Every child from one month of age on, whether breast or bottle fed, should be given cod liver oil daily as a food."

Now it is no longer necessary to force the usual fishy tasting stuff on unwilling children, for Coco Cod is a full strength real cod liver oil—with all the vitalizing, health-building vitamins—but with a delicious chocolaty taste.

Give the kiddies Coco Cod and watch their cheeks redden and their bodies strengthen daily. Your druggist can supply Coco Cod.

Aside from the satisfaction of wearing clean, immaculate apparel—you also have the gratification of saving money.
