

THE EUGENE GUARD

An independent afternoon newspaper published daily except Sunday. Offices 1037-1041 Willamette Street. Telephone 1200. ALTON F. BAKER, Editor and Publisher.

The Eugene Guard is a member of the Associated Press. The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also all the local news published herein. All rights of publication of special dispatches herein are also reserved. The Eugene Guard is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

SPRING STYLE SHOW

THE spring style show in Eugene is another one of those events which help to introduce the city to the large territory which it serves. Eugene with its modern stores, its interesting theaters, its colleges, its churches, its recreational as well as its commercial opportunities, is not the result of chance but a development which has been inevitable and necessary to the convenience of the 50,000 people within a day's journey.

But as we have said many times before, the modern city of Eugene has sprung into being so rapidly and yet seemingly so gradually that we have still quite a job of telling and showing people in Lane county the remarkable city they have helped to create here. The style show helps to display the opportunities of the new Eugene and it is an excellent thing.

We can well be proud of the position our city has reached in the mercantile world. We can well be proud of the fact that one can find in the stores of this city not only the necessities of life but all the rare and valuable things which can be found in any great center. It should be a matter of pride to the Eugenean in displaying something new and beautiful to say: "Yes, I bought this, and you can buy anything you want right in Eugene."

BOILING OVER

SENATOR JIM REED demands Secretary Mellon's resignation. On the other side of the house a gentleman from Indiana demands that Governor Al Smith be called to testify on certain possible aspects of the Teapot Dome scandals. All of which leads the wary citizen to suspect that there is a little more than mere coincidence in the dating of the grand Teapot revivals in an election year.

It is really too bad that so much politics, obvious and petty politics, enters into such a serious matter. The howl for Mr. Mellon's resignation at this time will not shake the prevailing confidence of the public in Mr. Mellon's personal honesty nor depreciate seriously the appreciation of his ability as a public official. The shot in the dark at the man who may be the Democratic party's chief hope will not do him any serious harm.

But the political uproar is apt to prove a serious distraction from the really important work of running the real criminals down. The efforts in both parties to build political capital out of the malodorous refuse of Teapot Dome will not contribute to confidence in the sincerity and efficiency of the investigations. They will serve only to increase the public's confusion as to the facts and to intensify the suspicion that all the pots and kettles are rather sooty at Washington.

FROM KANSAS

ED HOWE's famous paper The Atchison (Kansas) Daily Globe carries every day across the front page a catchy catch-line with one of those pungent sentiments which have brought fame to Mr. Howe. One of the latest to catch the eye is: "What this country needs is fewer stadiums and more free school books! What say!"

Now you can take that to mean a good many things. You can take it simply as a protest against the over-emphasis on athletics in our American high schools and colleges. You can take it as a hint that we may be neglecting our common schools in our efforts to build elaborate systems of higher education. You can take it as a plea for more rational educational effort all around.

Any way you choose to look at it there is sound sense in it. Many a good dook walloper has been ruined by the frantic insistence that he become an A. B. Many a fine scholar has missed a brilliant scholastic career by reason of the uninspired and uninspiring manner in which he has been handled in the grades.

There is a very simple definition of education—to train each person to be useful and happy according to his ability. There are too many misfits, too many unhappy people all about us to permit much preening on what we have accomplished in education. We have made and we are making progress, but there is some justice in the Kansas philosopher's query.

HOLLAND'S GOLD

WE talk so much about the struggle between New York and London for the world's financial supremacy that we often forget the large part that Holland plays in the markets where gold is king.

The thrifty Dutchman let the world wage its wars while he tended strictly to his knitting. His vast colonial empire in the Orient exported huge quantities of important material, and he made the most of it. Furthermore, at home he was a neutral island in a sea of warring nations. As a result, many financial transactions that ordinarily would have taken place elsewhere were carried on in Amsterdam.

As a result, Holland today is "sitting pretty." Financiers of New York and London have tentacles reaching all over the world; but so, also, do the bankers of Amsterdam.

WHAT OTHER NEWSPAPERS SAY

Walsh and Smith (Salem Capital Journal) Launching of the candidacy of Senator Walsh of Montana for the democratic nomination for the presidency, by Mr. McAdoo, is simply part of the strategy to defeat Al Smith and enable McAdoo to retain control of the party in defeat.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE

THERE'S TH' RAILROAD YARDS OVER THERE- IF THIS WASN'T A DIVISION POINT THEY'D HARDLY NEED A TOWN HERE AT ALL- NOTHIN' FOR A KID TO DO IN A PLACE LIKE THIS-

Food for Thought

"WAITRESS WANTED"- "HMM-MMM- IF I WAS ONLY A LITTLE OLDER MAMSE I COULD LAND THAT JOB- COURSE I'VE NEVER HAD MUCH S'PERIENCE BUT I COULD GET AWAY WITH IT, I BETCHA-

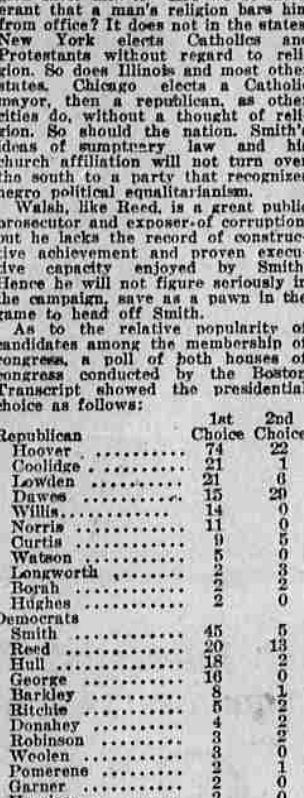

By HAROLD GRAY

COURSE I'M LITTLE- BUT THERE ISN'T SO MUCH TO BEIN' A WAITRESS AS I CAN SEE- ALL YUH GOTTA DO IS ASK WHAT FOLKS WANT AN' GIVE IT TO 'EM- THAT HADN'T OUGHTA TAKE SO MUCH BRAINS- I WONDER, NOW---

SIDE GLANCES

By George Clark

"Mr. Battling Bozo received a sound thrashing in that round."

HEALTH AND DIET ADVICE

By DR. FRANK MCCOY

"But I fully expect Mr. Kid Kelly to be knocked unconscious in the next."

25 Years Ago

(From The Guard, March 21, 1908) LAST evening in Villard hall the University of Oregon glee club, assisted by the "Next Year" mandolin club, Prof. L. M. Glenn, baritone, and Arthur Frazer, pianist, presented the best musical program that has been prepared by the organization for several years.

The little nine-year-old son of Harry Gray, living four miles west of Eugene, had a thrilling experience Saturday night and Sunday. Mr. Gray went hunting Saturday and being persuaded by the little lad let him go with him. The little fellow started out all right but strayed from the course. When the boy left his father he had two dogs with him. One deserted him, the other stayed with his playmate until he was found.

Some time this morning between two and four o'clock, some one maliciously or otherwise shattered the large glass door of L. A. Overton's paint store at 38 West Eighth street.

Tonight in the armory occurs the ball to be given by the K. K. K. an organization of university young men.

Tom Sims' Barbs

HUSBANDS in Tibet have gone on strike, marched on the capital with banners and demanded equal rights with women. It was bound to happen somewhere.

One out of every six automobiles is driven by a woman, a statistician tells us. We don't know who the statistician is, but he's all wrong.

John Mars, White House valet, says all chins look alike to him and he'll shave the next president. That lets Hughes out.

Count Johann von Bentinck says the former kaiser bears no resentment to the allies for his exile. Nico of him.

Mailbag

EUGENE, March 21. (To the Editor)—It is with great interest that we read the figures and also how the park chairman estimates the good that the municipal camp does.

We will grant that some gasoline and supplies are purchased outside of the walls of Eugene if the tourist stops outside of the limits of the city, but we were not aware that because of its trade territory shall be narrowed down to within its border, the city limits line.

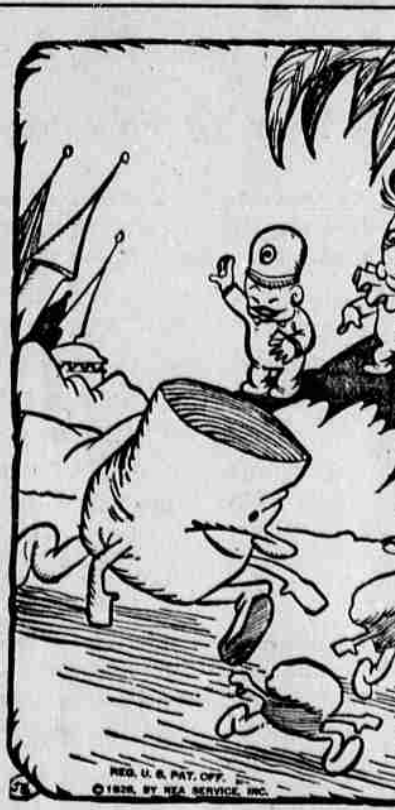

We will grant that 30,000 automobiles have stopped in the city auto park and that there have been 100,000 persons, but we doubt if these have spent $100,000 for the simple reason that when they are routed to the city municipal auto camp there is no possible way for the Eugene merchants to sell them anything for they do not come in or out through the business section.

Of course we all think that the spot where the auto camp is located is beautiful, and thanks to those who are far sighted enough to see that the time has come when the children of Eugene are entitled to have their play ground returned to them, but when it comes to showing off Eugene we never could see just what beauties there are along the route in and out of this camp, at least we feel quite certain that should we desire to show a stranger Eugene and its beauties we would not pick this route.

Eugene should do one of two things if it is to continue in the auto camp business: Get a desirable site, and build a $100,000 and give this locality a real auto camp, or get out of the business so that Eugene can get such a camp through the channels of private capital. It is one thing quite certain that the present private camps or new capital will not come in and develop to any great extent until the city is either in or out of the auto camp business. I DA JONES.

DON'T DEPRIVE YOUR LAWN of needed nourishment. Use Morcrop Lawn Fertilizer. OREGON SEED & FEED CO. 448 Charnelton.

THE TINYMITES

(Read the Story, Then Color the Pictures)

IT was a very pretty sight, this frosting lake of brilliant white. The little cupcakee splashed about and had a lot of fun. Said Clowry, "Why stand up here, when we can all run down real near. Come on, let's go down by the bank." The bunch began to run.

INDIGESTION IS UNNECESSARY

3 MINUTE RELIEF

Don't think because it has been advertised for months or years that there is no remedy for indigestion. You need never again know pain and discomfort, no matter what you eat or drink. Your stomach will become more elastic, your mind clearer, and those who have annoying aches and pains will find these symptoms will disappear like magic.

You can take a laxative to help matters along, but I would advise you to use one or two enemas a day in place of any cathartic or laxative, as the results will be much better.

After a few days of the fruit fast, start following the menus published in this column each Saturday. If you have any particular ailment which still persists, write to me and ask for a special treatise on that trouble and I will be glad to mail it to you.

Questions and Answers Question: Mrs. S. F. asks: "Should one take medicine containing strychnine if the heart is fast, painful and jumpy, or is it only for slow hearts?" Answer: Strychnine is usually given to enervated patients with slow pulses. When the heart is fast, painful and jumpy, it is usually because of overeating or gas pressure against the heart at that particular time.

Question: J. K. asks: "Is it true that we should not combine starches with fruit or acids? What effect does it have on the body?" Answer: Starches digest with less trouble if no fruits or sugars are used at the same meal. This is a proven fact, no matter what theories are formulated to account for it. The simple reason seems to be that starches are digested in an alkaline medium, and that fruits and sugars only stimulate more of the acid digestive fluids of the stomach. This certainly cannot assist in the digesting of starches, and appears to interfere with it.

Question: Anxious asks: "Are prescription tablets injurious? If not, would it be harmful to take four tablets per day? What is there in them to reduce one? If they are harmful, can you give a prescription not injurious to reduce one?" Answer: I do not recommend any medicinal preparations in this column, but can assure you that so far as I know there are no reducing pills which are harmless. Perhaps the least harmful ones are those which are only laxatives. The simple, safe plan is to reduce through diet and exercise.

The nervous system, the muscular system, and the body structure are like servants in the body with their own work to do, each one more or less dependent on the other, but in health working together in harmony for the greatest good to the whole body. It should be necessary for the body to have any definite time for housecleaning, as the functions of the body are so arranged that assimilation and elimination should be properly balanced; but, because of errors in living, unsanitary surroundings, overwork, and a multitude of other causes, the average person if found to be suffering from some one or more disorders which come because the body, for some reason, is not able to keep itself clean.

There is great hope that in the future men will live so carefully that there will be a proper balance and coordination between all of the bodily functions. Man will become more elastic, much longer than he does today.

But there is so much to be known, and we must admit that we know so little today about the care of the body!

As we are experimenting without health problems, sometimes getting results and sometimes finding we are making mistakes, would it not be wise to occasionally use some simple measures which will bring about a good bodily housecleaning and so help all of the bodily forces to a new start?

You made good resolutions on New Year's Day. Suppose you start this very day, which is the "first day of spring" and follow a careful regime for the next few days which will give your body a chance to eliminate accumulated bodily toxins.

No, I don't mean tomorrow—or next week—but TODAY!

As the Scriptures say, "Now is the accepted time; now is the day of salvation!"

Let's all miss our next regular meal and instead a meal of some kind of fruit, such as oranges, apples, pineapple or perhaps grapejuice. Then let's continue missing our regular meals for several days and just substitute fruit for each meal.

When taking this fruit diet the body has a better chance to throw out accumulated wastes while not burdened with the work of assimilating food. Four or five days of the fruit diet will bring about very remarkable changes. Even though you appear to be in good health today, you do not know how good you CAN feel after a few days of such restricted dieting. Your step will become more elastic, your mind clearer, and those who have annoying aches and pains will find these symptoms will disappear like magic.

You can take a laxative to help matters along, but I would advise you to use one or two enemas a day in place of any cathartic or laxative, as the results will be much better.

After a few days of the fruit fast, start following the menus published in this column each Saturday. If you have any particular ailment which still persists, write to me and ask for a special treatise on that trouble and I will be glad to mail it to you.

Questions and Answers Question: Mrs. S. F. asks: "Should one take medicine containing strychnine if the heart is fast, painful and jumpy, or is it only for slow hearts?" Answer: Strychnine is usually given to enervated patients with slow pulses. When the heart is fast, painful and jumpy, it is usually because of overeating or gas pressure against the heart at that particular time.

Question: J. K. asks: "Is it true that we should not combine starches with fruit or acids? What effect does it have on the body?" Answer: Starches digest with less trouble if no fruits or sugars are used at the same meal. This is a proven fact, no matter what theories are formulated to account for it. The simple reason seems to be that starches are digested in an alkaline medium, and that fruits and sugars only stimulate more of the acid digestive fluids of the stomach. This certainly cannot assist in the digesting of starches, and appears to interfere with it.

Question: Anxious asks: "Are prescription tablets injurious? If not, would it be harmful to take four tablets per day? What is there in them to reduce one? If they are harmful, can you give a prescription not injurious to reduce one?" Answer: I do not recommend any medicinal preparations in this column, but can assure you that so far as I know there are no reducing pills which are harmless. Perhaps the least harmful ones are those which are only laxatives. The simple, safe plan is to reduce through diet and exercise.

The nervous system, the muscular system, and the body structure are like servants in the body with their own work to do, each one more or less dependent on the other, but in health working together in harmony for the greatest good to the whole body. It should be necessary for the body to have any definite time for housecleaning, as the functions of the body are so arranged that assimilation and elimination should be properly balanced; but, because of errors in living, unsanitary surroundings, overwork, and a multitude of other causes, the average person if found to be suffering from some one or more disorders which come because the body, for some reason, is not able to keep itself clean.

There is great hope that in the future men will live so carefully that there will be a proper balance and coordination between all of the bodily functions. Man will become more elastic, much longer than he does today.

But there is so much to be known, and we must admit that we know so little today about the care of the body!

As we are experimenting without health problems, sometimes getting results and sometimes finding we are making mistakes, would it not be wise to occasionally use some simple measures which will bring about a good bodily housecleaning and so help all of the bodily forces to a new start?

You made good resolutions on New Year's Day. Suppose you start this very day, which is the "first day of spring" and follow a careful regime for the next few days which will give your body a chance to eliminate accumulated bodily toxins.

No, I don't mean tomorrow—or next week—but TODAY!

As the Scriptures say, "Now is the accepted time; now is the day of salvation!"

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS

3 MINUTE RELIEF

Don't think because it has been advertised for months or years that there is no remedy for indigestion. You need never again know pain and discomfort, no matter what you eat or drink. Your stomach will become more elastic, your mind clearer, and those who have annoying aches and pains will find these symptoms will disappear like magic.

You can take a laxative to help matters along, but I would advise you to use one or two enemas a day in place of any cathartic or laxative, as the results will be much better.

After a few days of the fruit fast, start following the menus published in this column each Saturday. If you have any particular ailment which still persists, write to me and ask for a special treatise on that trouble and I will be glad to mail it to you.

Questions and Answers Question: Mrs. S. F. asks: "Should one take medicine containing strychnine if the heart is fast, painful and jumpy, or is it only for slow hearts?" Answer: Strychnine is usually given to enervated patients with slow pulses. When the heart is fast, painful and jumpy, it is usually because of overeating or gas pressure against the heart at that particular time.

Question: J. K. asks: "Is it true that we should not combine starches with fruit or acids? What effect does it have on the body?" Answer: Starches digest with less trouble if no fruits or sugars are used at the same meal. This is a proven fact, no matter what theories are formulated to account for it. The simple reason seems to be that starches are digested in an alkaline medium, and that fruits and sugars only stimulate more of the acid digestive fluids of the stomach. This certainly cannot assist in the digesting of starches, and appears to interfere with it.

Question: Anxious asks: "Are prescription tablets injurious? If not, would it be harmful to take four tablets per day? What is there in them to reduce one? If they are harmful, can you give a prescription not injurious to reduce one?" Answer: I do not recommend any medicinal preparations in this column, but can assure you that so far as I know there are no reducing pills which are harmless. Perhaps the least harmful ones are those which are only laxatives. The simple, safe plan is to reduce through diet and exercise.

The nervous system, the muscular system, and the body structure are like servants in the body with their own work to do, each one more or less dependent on the other, but in health working together in harmony for the greatest good to the whole body. It should be necessary for the body to have any definite time for housecleaning, as the functions of the body are so arranged that assimilation and elimination should be properly balanced; but, because of errors in living, unsanitary surroundings, overwork, and a multitude of other causes, the average person if found to be suffering from some one or more disorders which come because the body, for some reason, is not able to keep itself clean.

There is great hope that in the future men will live so carefully that there will be a proper balance and coordination between all of the bodily functions. Man will become more elastic, much longer than he does today.

But there is so much to be known, and we must admit that we know so little today about the care of the body!

As we are experimenting without health problems, sometimes getting results and sometimes finding we are making mistakes, would it not be wise to occasionally use some simple measures which will bring about a good bodily housecleaning and so help all of the bodily forces to a new start?

You made good resolutions on New Year's Day. Suppose you start this very day, which is the "first day of spring" and follow a careful regime for the next few days which will give your body a chance to eliminate accumulated bodily toxins.

No, I don't mean tomorrow—or next week—but TODAY!

As the Scriptures say, "Now is the accepted time; now is the day of salvation!"

Let's all miss our next regular meal and instead a meal of some kind of fruit, such as oranges, apples, pineapple or perhaps grapejuice. Then let's continue missing our regular meals for several days and just substitute fruit for each meal.

When taking this fruit diet the body has a better chance to throw out accumulated wastes while not burdened with the work of assimilating food. Four or five days of the fruit diet will bring about very remarkable changes. Even though you appear to be in good health today, you do not know how good you CAN feel after a few days of such restricted dieting. Your step will become more elastic, your mind clearer, and those who have annoying aches and pains will find these symptoms will disappear like magic.

You can take a laxative to help matters along, but I would advise you to use one or two enemas a day in place of any cathartic or laxative, as the results will be much better.

After a few days of the fruit fast, start following the menus published in this column each Saturday. If you have any particular ailment which still persists, write to me and ask for a special treatise on that trouble and I will be glad to mail it to you.

Questions and Answers Question: Mrs. S. F. asks: "Should one take medicine containing strychnine if the heart is fast, painful and jumpy, or is it only for slow hearts?" Answer: Strychnine is usually given to enervated patients with slow pulses. When the heart is fast, painful and jumpy, it is usually because of overeating or gas pressure against the heart at that particular time.

Question: J. K. asks: "Is it true that we should not combine starches with fruit or acids? What effect does it have on the body?" Answer: Starches digest with less trouble if no fruits or sugars are used at the same meal. This is a proven fact, no matter what theories are formulated to account for it. The simple reason seems to be that starches are digested in an alkaline medium, and that fruits and sugars only stimulate more of the acid digestive fluids of the stomach. This certainly cannot assist in the digesting of starches, and appears to interfere with it.

Question: Anxious asks: "Are prescription tablets injurious? If not, would it be harmful to take four tablets per day? What is there in them to reduce one? If they are harmful, can you give a prescription not injurious to reduce one?" Answer: I do not recommend any medicinal preparations in this column, but can assure you that so far as I know there are no reducing pills which are harmless. Perhaps the least harmful ones are those which are only laxatives. The simple, safe plan is to reduce through diet and exercise.

The nervous system, the muscular system, and the body structure are like servants in the body with their own work to do, each one more or less dependent on the other, but in health working together in harmony for the greatest good to the whole body. It should be necessary for the body to have any definite time for housecleaning, as the functions of the body are so arranged that assimilation and elimination should be properly balanced; but, because of errors in living, unsanitary surroundings, overwork, and a multitude of other causes, the average person if found to be suffering from some one or more disorders which come because the body, for some reason, is not able to keep itself clean.

There is great hope that in the future men will live so carefully that there will be a proper balance and coordination between all of the bodily functions. Man will become more elastic, much longer than he does today.

But there is so much to be known, and we must admit that we know so little today about the care of the body!

As we are experimenting without health problems, sometimes getting results and sometimes finding we are making mistakes, would it not be wise to occasionally use some simple measures which will bring about a good bodily housecleaning and so help all of the bodily forces to a new start?

You made good resolutions on New Year's Day. Suppose you start this very day, which is the "first day of spring" and follow a careful regime for the next few days which will give your body a chance to eliminate accumulated bodily toxins.

No, I don't mean tomorrow—or next week—but TODAY!

As the Scriptures say, "Now is the accepted time; now is the day of salvation!"

WATER-GOLF. Sometimes it's a problem to get a boat from Eugene, but today it's BOAT with six waves of the sea to do it in less. One solution is to classified page.

BOAT. The Rules: 1-The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and in part, a given number of letters. Thus, to change COW to HEN, three strokes, COW, HOW, HEN.

SINK. The Rules: 1-The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and in part, a given number of letters. Thus, to change COW to HEN, three strokes, COW, HOW, HEN.

Auction Bridge. (Abbreviations: A—ace; K—king; Q—queen; J—jack; X—any card but ten or 10.) 1-Partner bids major. Who should you make jump bid? 2-In what two ways do you ascertain your partner's strength? 3-With love scores should you double in preference to trying a game if you can set by three tricks?

This date in AMERICAN HISTORY. MARCH 21. 1864—Congress passed an enabling act for the admission of Colorado as Nevada to the union. 1892—Supreme court ordered dissolution of the Standard Oil trust. 1907—American marines landed Honduras, Central America.

MONEY TO LOAN—Low cost, low interest or if you have it to loan, find a borrower with best of security. C. D. Lee-C. L. Sigman Agency.

Special Beef Steak or Chop Dinner—5 to 8 o'clock Daily—40c. Imperial Lunch.

EXTRA SPECIAL 150 New Spring Dresses. Prints, Crepes, Georgettes, Chiffons, Wool Crepes, in Springs' newest styles. All the newest colors. Regular $18.75—now $12.75. $5.00 Down—Balance to Suit Yourself. $5 Down Buys Any Dress. 100 New Spring Coats. The cape, the half cape, the long scarf collar of the coat's own fabric, the standing collar of fur, the coat with no fur at its collar. Regular $29.75—now $19.75. $5.00 Down—Balance to Suit Yourself. KAY'S COAT and DRESS SHOP. 829 Willamette. Just Two Doors from U. S. National Bank. "Kays Always Sell for Less"