Will Rogers in "The Texas Steer" which is now playing at the McDonald

Screen and Stage

HEILIG—Monday, Mantattan Players in "One Dollar a Week."

McDONALD—Monday, Will Rogers in "A Texas Steer."

REX—Monday, Monte Blue in "Across the Atlantic."

COLONIAL—Monday, May McAvoy in "Irish Hearts."

By MARIAN LOWRY

PLENTY of comedy features the theaters' bills for the opening of the week.

The McDonald begins the week with "A Texas Steer," featuring Will Rogers and Louise Fazenda. From the previews we judge the film also stars Rogers' smart cracks and remarks for the titles.

It is taken from the famous farce by Charles Hoyt by the same name in which story a Texas cattleman is elected to congress much against his wishes but in accordance with those of his socially-ambitious wife. Other well known comedians also appear in the film.

The Heilig opens with the Manhattan Players in "One Dollar a Week." This is the second appearance of the company in Eugene and so again will be on trial for Eugene's appreciation. Three performances will be staged, one Monday night, one Tuesday afternoon, and the third Tuesday night.

George Bancroft in "The Showdown" comes to the McDonald Thursday for three days. The play has been adapted from the stage play, "Wildcat" by Houston Barnach. Most of the action takes place in Tampico, Mexico.

Harrisburg

HARRISBURG, May 21. (Special).—Two boys of the ages of 15 and 16 were caught, about 2 o'clock Tuesday night, making off with Floyd Warner's Ford touring car, by Marshal J. W. Owen, and were immediately taken to Albany in the same car and placed in jail. Their complaint was that they were tired of walking and wanted the car to go to Roseburg. They had pushed the car down the street some distance and waited their chance to steal it. About 2 o'clock they started it at which Marshal Owen heard the clamor and rushed to the scene yelling at them, causing them to kill the engine, and before they succeeded in starting it they had been caught. They had also picked up a bottle of milk which belonged to the same party. They were questioned at Albany and gave their names as Creighton Storey and Forrest Marriett from Seattle. It was the fifth car they had stolen, but were caught in the last one. The cars they had stolen were mostly big and expensive ones. They had been arrested once at Chehalis, Wash., but escaped, and went away in another car.

The senior class night program of the high school here has been arranged and is to be given Thursday, May 31 at the local I. O. O. F. theater. Commencement exercises will be held in the Methodist church on June 1. Baccalaureate sermon will also be held in the Methodist church on Sunday, May 27. The '28 class is the largest class to graduate in the school's history here and it consists of 19 graduates who have all taken parts in the program which is as follows: Four Old Maids, persuonated by Harry Rice, Stanley Quigley, Everett Scott and Carroll Morgan; song, Miss Marjorie Walker; class history, Miss Dorothea McMullen; class prophecy, Miss Lucille Sperling; class poem, Manly Langdon; class grumbler, Miss Myrtie Baker; class inventory, Miss Dorthy Scott; class horoscope, James Connor; class will, Miss Margaret Balkovic; presentation of key, Albert Wassom; presentation of cup, Carroll Morgan; presentation of student body present, Miss Katherine Cartwright; class creed, Everett Scott; a one act farce entitled "Who Kissed Barbara," with the characters as follows: Barbara Nichols, the bridesmaid, Ruth Clark; Katherine Blake, bride, Margaret Cartwright, James, the Butler, Blayne Brewer; Paul Blake, the best man, Stanley Quigley; Horace Gregory, the groom, Harry Rice. The valedictorian, Miss Mardell Herman, and the salutatorian Edgar Grimes, will give their addresses at the commencement exercise.

The local Christian church Sunday school class under the leadership of E. W. Blehm enjoyed the evening on Wednesday at the Y. M. C. A. club in Eugene. A splendid time was reported by the participants who busied themselves in the swimming tank and playing games. There were 13 present including their teacher besides Cal Owen and J. W. Moore who escorted the merry group. The 13 present were: E. W. Blehm, James Weber, Charles Morris, Willis Fry, Billy Albin, Frank Hoyt, Bernard Brewer, Charley Hardesty, Truman Owen, Homer White, Max Moore, John Fry, Lavern Albin.

Appropriate program is under way for Decoration day. The exercises will be held at the I. O. O. F.-Masonic cemetery in the morning. The program will be represented by school children who will take part in the singing. Also a speaker will be engaged.

The Mascot Service station will again reopen soon and B. J. Buckett of Medford will take charge. He is here now with his wife and they are residing in the Mrs. M. E. Canter residence. He has been arranging for the reopening and expects to begin business about May 30.

Two events much enjoyed in lodge circles here this week occurred Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The first was a meeting of the Eastern Star chapter in which a program and good time had been arranged for the charter members but four of whom are now in easy reaching distance. These are Miss Maria Porter, Mrs. J. M. Hochdanner, Mrs. Glen Hill, now of Eugene, and T. W. Summerville. Only two were present, Miss Porter and Mr. Sommerville. A part of the program was a reading by Jas. Johnson, past worthy patron, and other numbers were parlor contests the party being divided into groups, given dissected rhymes and when these were put together, set to a tune and sung. The best singers won the honors. An attractive little feast ended the happy social time.

Thursday evening severa car loads of Masons drove to Eugene to attend the big county meeting held by the Blue lodge in the Masonic temple of that city. At least 450 Masons were in attendance and features of the evening were the conferring of the Master Mason degree, the work being put on by a club from the University of Oregon and the big banquet served in conclusion. Attending from here were: A. L. McAfee, E. W. Blehm, Loren Grimes, Sherman Marguth, Chas. Morris, W. L. Wright, Wm. Reed, L. E. McKellip, A. H. Weber, R. W. Douglas, F. M. Woodson now of Toledo, Lew Hathaway, Jas. Johnson, T. W. Sommerville.

The primary pupils gave rehearsal Friday morning of their afternoon program to the other seven grades, the teacher, Mrs. Bertha Near, inviting the grade students to room 1, for this purpose. Beginning at 1:30, the program was repeated to patrons and friends who greatly appreciated the review of the year's work in song and story thus presented. These were first, the flag salute; America, all; Springtime song, all; Rain song, all; recitation, Barbara Shisler; recitation, allustrated, Edward Seward; train song, six girls; swing song, all; recitation, Helen Marguth; song, "Sleep, Baby, Sleep," five girls with dolls; lullaby song, three girls with dolls, recitation, Jean Cramer; concert recitation, "The Wind," all; "Pitter Patter," song, all; recitation, Lucille McMullen; recitation, five pupils; dialogue, "The Boy and the Bee," nine pupils; recitation, Ted Seward, recitation, Virginia Perry, story read in unison by grade; recitation, Sylvia Johnson; recitation, Jerry Moody.
