AVERY HOPWOOD'S comedy "The Best People," which the Manhattan Players are staging at the Heilig at 8:20 p. m., Wednesday, had a record run of 29 weeks in San Francisco, when it was played there by the Duffy Players. San Francisco audiences acclaimed it one of the smartest of comedies, and as Eugene patrons enjoy this type of play so well it should prove the most popular hit yet from the Manhattan company. Marie Miller appears as star with this company of players.

Lon Chaney turns comedian for the first time in his screen career during an interesting episode in his latest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle "Laugh, Clown, Laugh" playing at the Heilig theater Thursday in its long awaited run here. As the tragic clown made famous on the stage by Lionel Barrymore, he does a complete comedy vaudeville act, which is contrasted in later scenes with the poignant tragedy of his sacrifice for the woman he loves. Herbert Brenon directed the specticular new production, in which Loretta Young, Nils Asther Bernard Siegel, Gwen Lee, Cissy Fitz-Gerald and others appear. A reproduction of a great European theater and other elaborate settings are seen.
