

WEDDING COUPLE HOLD ANNIVERSARY EVENT

REHEARSAL, Jan. 6.—(Special)—Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Wilson celebrated their 31st wedding anniversary December 31, at the United Presbyterian church, 1000 S. Broadway. The bride, Mrs. L. B. Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wilson, of Eugene, was accompanied by her mother and sister, Mrs. J. H. Wilson. The groom, Mr. L. B. Wilson, was accompanied by his brother, Mr. L. B. Wilson, and his sister, Mrs. J. H. Wilson. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Wilson, pastor of the church. The wedding party consisted of the bride, groom, best man, maid of honor, bridesmaids, and flower girls. The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The couple were married on December 31, 1900, in the same church. They have three children: a son, Mr. L. B. Wilson, and two daughters, Mrs. J. H. Wilson and Mrs. J. H. Wilson.

The Blazing Horizon

Copyright, 1928, by NEA. Fiction. By ERNEST LYNN.

The story thus far
The story begins in 1880, in the little town of Caldwell, Kansas, close to the Indian territory border.
TONY HARRISON, 13 year old son of JEFF HARRISON, a handsome gambler, is orphaned when TOM BENTON, a cattle thief, shoots his father in a poker game.
The boy is befriended by GORDON W. LILLIE, then a restaurant waiter and later to be known as PAWNEE BOWMAN.
JOE CRAIG, foreman of the Bar K ranch, who takes Tony to the Bar K to live, and by COLONEL TITUS MOORE, owner of the ranch.
Lillie takes somewhat of joining DAVID PAYNE, who is agitating for the opening of the Indian territory lands, but he gets an offer of a school teaching post in Pawnee and accepts it.

At the Bar K Tony Harrison meets RITA MOORE, spirited little daughter of Titus Moore.
That fall Tony accompanies Joe Craig to Caldwell, where Joe counters CASHION, companion of Benton on the night of the shooting. WAFFER, manager of Caldwell, explains that CASHION was the victim of circumstances. Later Colonel Moore takes Tony to Caldwell to meet Rita and her mother, who are returning from Kansas City.

CHAPTER X
THE week following was the week of Dec. 12, 1880. On that day, which was Sunday, there was a large parade and demonstration in Hunneville. Led by the Pawnee Indians, they marched through the streets of Hunneville 500 strong, singing and shouting. An inspiring sermon was delivered by a preacher who evidently believed in the Pawnee cause. He spoke of how Moses led his followers into the Promised Land.

It was a day of high hopes and exultation on the part of the agitators for free homes in Oklahoma. Banners were borne through the streets and the Pawnee cause was something of a hero, although there were many who looked on in doubt or contempt.
The next day Colonel Moore and Tony Harrison drove into Caldwell. Moore and Rita arrived late that afternoon and the colonel immediately installed the whole party in a hotel. Shortly afterward he left to attend to some business.

"Spooky" One REX MAKES PLANS FOR NEW POLICY

A new policy, one to improve entertainment at the Rex, goes into effect at that theater next week-end.

From now on the Rex is to get all the big silent pictures, says Russell F. Brown, of the managerial staff, meaning that the wild westerns and such, except of the higher class, are a thing of the past for the Rex.

The vaudeville, which has been presented on both Sunday and Monday at the Rex each week, will now play on Sundays with a special feature, the rest of each week to be given over to the presentation of features from the big stars.

The policy for "big pictures" begins this week with "The Valanche." Others to follow soon are Clara Bow in "The Fleet's In"; Bebe Daniels in "Take Me Home"; Rod LaRocque in "Love Over Night"; Alice Day in "Phyllis of the Follies"; Jack Holt in "The Water Hole"; Esther Ralston in "Sawdust Paradise"; Gary Cooper and Fay Wray, the screen's new lovers team, in "The First Kiss"; Richard Dix in "Moran of the Marines"; Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes in "Heart to Heart"; George Bancroft and Betty Compson in "Docks of New York"; Bebe Daniels in "What a Night"; Clive Brooks in "Forgotten Faces" and others.

Under the new arrangements a feature and the vaudeville will run Sunday; then other feature pictures for two-day showings each, one for Monday, Tuesday; a second one for Wednesday and Thursday; and a third for Fridays and Saturdays.

The young school teacher narrowly escapes the fate Joe Craig had laughingly predicted for him. Read the next chapter.

CRESWELL, Jan. 6.—(Special)—Rev. T. H. Trevithick, pastor of the Methodist church, announces the services for next Sunday as follows: Subject: "The Way of Holiness." Subject evening service: "Eternity and Where Shall You Spend It?"

The Eastern Star held its annual installation at the Masonic hall Thursday evening. Mrs. Olive E. Parsons of Eugene, the first worthy woman of the local chapter, was installing officer, assisted by Mrs. Cora Olson of Eugene as marshal. The following officers were duly installed: W. M. Mrs. Janet Lacey; associate matron, Mrs. G. H. Davidson; worthy patron, Mrs. C. H. Sedgwick; conductress, Mrs. Frank B. Clegg; associate conductress, Mrs. Cecil Stone; secretary, Mrs. Ora Steele; treasurer, C. W. Dixon; Ada, Miss Genevieve Thompson; Ruth, Mrs. C. L. Weber; Esther, Mrs. Clara Nolan; Martha, Mrs. William Lower; Electa, Mrs. George Shaub; chaplain, Mrs. G. E. Everson. Organist, Mrs. William Johnson; organist, Mrs. Fairy Woodson; warder, Mrs. Clara Parsons; and sentinel, C. L. Weber.

Mrs. Grace Sedgwick, the retiring worthy matron was presented with a beautiful and worthy matron pin, being the emblematic pin with a guard of a gavel. On behalf of the chapter, Mrs. O. E. Parsons presented the pin. It was accepted with words of thanks and also of appreciation of the generous support given during the past year. A jolly social time followed the installation, including a delicious supper, with doughnuts and coffee being served by a committee consisting of Mrs. William Holliston, Mrs. Frank Clegg and Mrs. Grace Sedgwick. Catchy recitations and stories were given by Mrs. Gertrude McDaniel, Mrs. O. E. Parsons and C. W. Dixon. A rousing era of pit prevailed until the midnight hour when the Eugene delegation were escorted to the bus on which they returned to Eugene. Those present from Eugene were Mrs. O. E. Parsons, Mrs. Cora Olson and Mrs. Gertrude McDaniel.

CRESWELL, Jan. 7.—(Special)—The funeral of the late Mrs. Hattie McDonald was held at the home of the late Mrs. Hattie McDonald.

McDONALD—Monday, Al Jolson in "The Singing Fool," Vitaphone. HEILIG—Monday, William Haines in "The Smart Set." REX—Monday, Marian Nixon in "Silks and Saddles." COLONIAL—Monday, Dolores Del Rio in "Ramona."

By MARIAN LOWRY
"The Smart Set," the Heilig's current film, is William Haines in the same role of the irresistible, conceited smart-aleck, done with more finish this time, however, and with more of the comedy element, not to mention many new antics and stunts of Haines in his part of the freckle-faced, United States.

It's an entertaining picture and not too long as to bore you. One particularly interesting feature is the frequent showing of jolly play-finish and scenes around the polo field. Almost an entire game is shot for a part of the picture. Alice Day makes a charming heroine. The picture is here through Tuesday and it wouldn't be a waste of time to see it.

"The Singing Fool" of Al Jolson continues at the McDonald through Tuesday. Seldom, if ever, has an attraction at a local theater drawn so many from such a wide territory. Sunday a party of 12 came from Roseburg to see and hear the production. Previously Roseburg residents had come to attend the theater for "The Singing Fool" last week. While it is the singing and the acting of Jolson that make the picture, no one leaves without mentioning the remarkable acting of Little Laverne, the three-year-old star, who takes the child part. Davey was chosen by Jolson from a group of 180 child applicants for the part.

The Rex bill for Tuesday only will be "Beauty and Bullets," starring Ted Wells and the swan song for westerners at the Rex, so we are told.

The Colonial's offering for Monday only is "Ramona," starring Dolores Del Rio.

"Silks and Saddles," starring Marian Nixon, and a five-act vaudeville bill are the Rex attractions for Monday.

Lon Chaney in "Laugh, Clown, Laugh," is billed at the Heilig for Wednesday only in a return engagement.

In the current number of the Universal Theaters Inc. house organ The Guard and the McDonald come in for considerable publicity because of the contest the two conducted when "Laugh, Clown, Laugh" was shown here. Half a page in the magazine is given over to the contest and shows a picture of articles from "The Guard" telling of the picture and the contest.

Laura LaPlante in "The Last Warning" is coming to the McDonald Wednesday for a four-day run.

Yeaman was held Saturday afternoon at the Methodist church, the pastor Rev. T. H. Trevithick officiating. His text was from Revelation 14:13 "And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, write. Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them. Rev. C. G. Morris of Monroe, former pastor had been invited to assist but was unable to be present on account of illness. A quartet consisting of Mrs. Edith Martin, Mrs. T. H. Trevithick, William Wallace and C. H. Sedgwick, accompanied by Elizabeth Tryon sang three songs, "By Cool Silliam," "No Night There," and "In the Sweet Bye and Bye." The local Grange and the Royal Neighbors were represented by large delegations and the church was filled with sympathizing friends. The pallbearers were H. A. Howe, C. H. McKay, V. R. Sly, Chas. Wetzel, J. S. Taylor and N. E. Steele. Interment was in the Creswell cemetery. E. A. Scherwing, local mortician, having charge of the funeral. A bounty of beautiful floral pieces expressed a silent regard and sympathy of the many friends of the family.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bohmstedt of Salem were on Saturday in attendance of the funeral of Mrs. Yeoman. They were formerly neighbors in Galeville, Wisconsin, where her family resided before coming to Creswell.

Henry Matthews of Goshen was in town Saturday and attended the funeral of Mrs. Yeoman.

O. H. Mahr of Milk River, Alberta, Canada, who has been spending the Christmas week at the home of his brother Ernest Mahr, left Saturday for California.

All members of the Royal Neighbors are urged to meet Tuesday and Thursday afternoon of the coming week for practice.

The joint installation of the Rebekah and Odd Fellows lodge officers will be held Wednesday evening, January 9th.

The annual joint Grange installation of the officers of the several granges of the county held at Eugene

Friday evening was attended by the following Creswell Grangers: Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Howe, Chas. Wetzel, E. Groshong, Mrs. David Francis, Mrs. Mary Lindsay, Mabel Lindsay, Mrs. Julius Iderhoff, John Napper, Mrs. Anna Morton, Mrs. Clara Parsons and Mrs. Alice Taylor.

Miss Margaret Ferguson went to Corvallis Tuesday to continue her course at the Oregon State College.

Miss Theilma Howe left Monday for Myrtle Point where she is teaching, having been home for the Christmas holidays.

Miss Willoughby left Friday for Portland to take up her work in social service work.

The Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church have placed a fine new kitchen range in the parsonage. It must be a shiny one if its reflection is shown on the faces of Rev. and Mrs. Trevithick whose smiles attest their sincere appreciation.
