

SIX MILLION "POT" UNDER MERGER BILL

SALEM, Ore., March 12.—(AP)—The new state board of higher education created by the Bell-Schulmerich bill of the recent legislature and which is a consolidation of the boards of regents of the University of Oregon, Oregon State College and the state normal schools will have for distribution an disbursement during the next two years among the five institutions under its control an estimated total of $6,008,000.43.

The estimate is made by the secretary of state's office. For this year the figures are exact. For 1936 the same figures are used as an estimate. Now in "Pot."

Under the old regime each institution received a certain part of millage funds, besides continuing and special appropriations. Under the new regime the entire total will be a "pot" sum for the board to disburse as it sees fit.

The present list of funds for the consolidated institutions which will be consolidated during the two years are: OREGON STATE COLLEGE—Millage tax within the 6 per cent limitation, $807,868.74; millage taxes without the 6 per cent limitation, $1,631,108.42; containing an annual appropriation, $511,700; for eradication of rodents, $50,000; under Smith-Lever act, $62,001; under Capper-Ketchum act, $57,078. In addition the college will receive a portion of a lump appropriation of $250,000 that was appropriated for experiment work at the college and research work at the university.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON—Millage taxes without the 6 per cent limitation, $678,360.30; millage taxes within the 6 per cent limitation, $1,164,808.82; for medical school, $261,122.86; Doernbacher hospital, $190,240.71; infirmary, $50,000. In addition the university will receive a portion of a lump appropriation of $250,000 that was appropriated for experiment work at the college and research work at the university.

BASTERN OREGON NORMAL SCHOOL AT LA GRANDE—Appropriation for 1935 and 1936, $24,780. OREGON NORMAL SCHOOL AT MONMOUTH—Millage tax within the 6 per cent limitation, $80,786.58; millage taxes without the 6 per cent limitation, $134,679.56; appropriation, $140,708. SOUTHERN OREGON NORMAL—Millage tax within the 6 per cent limitation, $80,786.58; appropriation, $58,034.03.

TOTALS—State College, $2,822,087.18 plus share of $280,000 lump sum; University, $2,298,161.19 plus share of lump sum; La Grande normal, $24,780; Monmouth normal, $285,174.44; Ashland normal, $107,820.64.

LEGION TO MEET ON THURSDAY EVE

Plans for a Eugene delegation from the local post of the meridian Legion to attend the dedication of the new veterans' hospital at Portland Monday, March 18, will be laid at a meeting of the Eugene post at 8 o'clock on Thursday evening at the chamber of commerce rooms.

No action was taken Tuesday but further discussion may be held after Mr. Crowe has had a chance to hear the arguments. The opposition to the plan is not inalterable but the commissioners are inclined to insist that the county's rights to reclaim the land be made clear in whatever lease or permit for use is granted.

MEXICO STORY

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) The count to descend on the rebel stronghold. Rebel headquarters anticipated a decisive battle, but the government at Mexico City was equally optimistic that the rebellion had ended and that the insurgents would scatter northward before the federal drive.

Federal Success Government successes were reported at widely scattered points. Along the border, in the heart of the rebel country of Sonora, a serious defection of Iagui and Mayo Indian troops hit the insurgents heavily.

Rebels Retreat In the west, the insurgents who had been driving on Mazatlan, at first slowed down their advance, and today were reported to have withdrawn to main forces north of Culiacan and Quila.

President Portes Gil, confident that the revolt has been crushed, has stopped recruiting in the army by volunteer organizations.

COOKING STORY

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) clubs of Lane county" under arrangements made by Harold D. Collier, county club leader. These girls will in Miss Williams' rest periods, show that one doesn't have to be a grownup to turn out tasty dishes with the modern recipes and scientific methods.

On Saturday, the final day of the cooking school, there will be a big baking contest, all entries to be made by 12 noon. A contest will be held for four-H members, and a separate one for grownups. Cakes, pies and cookies will be entered in each of these contests.

The cooking school sessions will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 21, 22 and 23, from 1:30 to 4 p. m., and Saturday evening, March 24, at 7:30 o'clock.

A general invitation to the women of Lane county is extended by The Guard.

MARKET STORY

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) ing farther up-town have been dropped at least for the time being. Judge Not Warm Judge Barnard said he wasn't sure the county could go into such a project unless it were undertaken clearly that the county might at any time reclaim the land for its own uses. He pointed out that the original deed to the property from Eugene Skinner and his wife back in 1922 stipulated that the property should be used "for county purposes" with the courthouse in the center thereof.

"I am not sure it wouldn't be a mistake to take up so much land that is badly needed for park purposes with a market. The people of the city need the park. The people of the county need the park as a place to most or leave their children when they come to town.

He said furthermore that the county might need very soon the space back of the present jail for a garage to house the increasing number of county vehicles. It now costs the county $500 or $600 a year to garage them.

Mr. Hurd said he regarded the terms of the county's deed as an obstacle to any permanent market structure on the property, though he would be willing to agree to the proposition with the understanding that it should be temporary.

Many Speak Among those who supported Wheeler and Gray and Ayres were Frank N. McAllister, of the United States National Bank, Albert R. Tiffany of the Bank of Commerce, W. M. Tugman, managing editor of The Guard. They all declared the need of better public market conditions for the county was a good one for both county and city.

The question was raised as to whether the providing of public markets might not be considered another proper county function and Judge Barnard said he believed it might. He indicated that the county might even be willing to consider participating with the city in providing a permanent site on some other location.

No action was taken Tuesday but further discussion may be held after Mr. Crowe has had a chance to hear the arguments. The opposition to the plan is not inalterable but the commissioners are inclined to insist that the county's rights to reclaim the land be made clear in whatever lease or permit for use is granted.

Youngster Hurt By Hit-Run Driver

The identity of the hit-and-run driver who struck Billy Donovan, 10, Monday afternoon, was still unknown Wednesday. At last reports, Billy was expected to recover from the effects of concussion of the brain sustained in the accident.

Billy, the son of Mrs. W. P. Donovan, 391, Eighth avenue west, was struck near Eighth avenue and Chestnut Monday afternoon at about 3 o'clock as he rode his bicycle down the street. When hit, he was thrown against an iron protruding from the rear of a large freight truck parked on the street, striking his head on it and falling under the truck.

He was found lying unconscious under the truck and taken home by the police. He is now in the hospital. No one is known to have seen the accident, which was not reported to the police until late Tuesday. His bicycle was completely broken.

BARKER, GODFREY SPEAK FOR ACTIVE

Nearly 40 members and guests of the Eugene Active club were out for the weekly luncheon Wednesday noon at the Osburn hotel.

George H. Godfrey, director of the public relations bureau at the University of Oregon is assured," Mr. Godfrey said in his talk. The university has nothing to fear from the recent act which merged the boards of regents of the university, the state college, and the normal schools, Mr. Godfrey said.

The university has always lived up to all regulations governing duplications of courses and other affairs and so can lose nothing by any rearrangement of courses. On the other hand, the university has many real needs that can not help but be noted by the new board, and financial relief for these can be expected, he pointed out.

Continued support for the university on the part of the people of Eugene was stressed as a necessity by both Mr. Godfrey and Mr. Barker who spoke briefly on the progress of the campaign to raise $150,000 for the institution in Eugene. Only a few thousand dollars remain to be raised in the Eugene campaign, but this will be subscribed before construction of the fine arts building can be started, Mr. Barker said.

Mr. and Mrs. Clem How and Mrs. and Mrs. Clifton Cummings were Eugene visitors Sunday, staying with Mr. and Mrs. Will C. Collins.
