'RIVER OF ROMANCE' HAS A FAMOUS CAST

The Rex theater presents "River of Romance," a picture complete in entertainment value, for Wednesday and Thursday. The story is taken from Booth Tarkington's "Magnolia," a popular book and a more popular play. The cast is exceptionally fine including the ever-famous Charles (Buddy) Rogers; Mary Brian, who almost stole the show; Wallace Beery, who took plenty of honors; Henry B. Walthal, famous since the days of "The Birth of a Nation," as a southern gentleman; and Natalie Kingston, who puts plenty of personality to the role of "Mexico," the female master of ceremonies of a gambling house.

This picture was filmed several years ago with another famous star Comparison from the faint recollection places this production on a much higher pedestal due to the all-talking feature.

The story is something every one likes. The hero is branded a coward because he refuses to fight a duel as he is not accustomed to the southern tradition. He leaves home. It's the only thing he could do after breaking such a strong southern tradition. But he turns the tables by knocking the "Notorious Colonel Blackie" out in the first round of an unannounced scrap. He bluffs his way with the aid of Orlando Jackson, Wallace Beery, to be known up and down the Mississippi as the "Notorious Colonel Blake." He comes back and makes good. It's wonderful food for the mind in this hot weather. M. A.

SILTCOOS NOTES

New Boat Is Launched On Lake By Dave Dier Recently

SILTCOOS, Aug. 21.—(Special).—People over this way are rejoicing over the good news that the hard surfaced, two-way road over Mapleton hill will be open to traffic about September 15.

Dave Dier of Darling's resort at North Beach launched his large boat, powered with a four-cylinder Faye & Bown marine engine, last week, and carried capacity loads of the excursionists on Aug. 11. The boat is painted with the resort colors and will be used in carrying passengers to and from the resort.

Christensen and Ford of Arrowhead Fox farm shipped seven blue foxes to Mr. Fults of Eugene last Sunday.

The E. and B. Shingle mill at Canary shipped its first carload of shingles last week to the Gardiner Mill company, at Gardiner.

Geo. Schollenberg, who has been working at the Dan Miles place on Fiddle creek, was taken seriously ill Saturday evening, rushed to the hospital in Eugene, and operated upon. It was found that the appendix had burst. He suffered a hemorrhage on Monday.

Dr. Howard and Dr. Atwood drove out from Eugene Sunday and, in company with F. E. Goude, combed the lake bottom for the outboard motor which was lost Sunday, Aug. 11. So far, their efforts have been unsuccessful.

Mrs. Michael Braun of Westlake was called to Florence Friday by the death of her mother, Mrs. Woodard.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley McDonald and the parents of Wesley, Rev. and Mrs. J. E. McDonald, returned to their respective homes at Portland and Medford last week. Rev. and Mrs. McDonald will leave soon on a 45,000 mile trip through Europe and Asia, territory covered by their son Harold, who is a representative of the Holt Tractor company.

Mrs. Melvin Buss returned Thursday from the hospital at North Bend where she has been a patient because of two bones broken in her ankle when she fell from a load of hay. She is able to get about with the aid of crutches.

Carrell E. Riggs, formerly with B. and B. No. 25 at Kroll, is the new trackwalker between Cushman and Kroll, succeeding V. Celon!

Mrs. Friede McCoy, former postmistress, S. P. ticket agent and express agent at Siltcoos, drove in Tuesday of last week from Corvallis with her little son and her mother, Mrs. Adeline Close, returning Sunday. Mrs. McCoy will be instructor in physical education at Linfield college at McMinnville.

Dr. H. A. Sears and wife of Portland were at the Darling resort at North Beach the past week.

Frank Olson delivered three scow loads of fir wood at Siltcoos the past week, this being the amount contracted for by the school.

Some fine cherries from the Erhart and England ranches have been marketed locally the past week.

C. H. Burtenshaw, who is at Kelso, Wash., has been released from quarantine following a siege of smallpox.

Miss Helen Shinn of Eugene was a guest at the L. L. Passage home at North Beach last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hines drove to Eugene Thursday where they will make their home for the present. Mrs. Hines is a recent bride, formerly Eva Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Miller of the hotel at Siltcoos.

Mrs. Elsie Miller, with her nephew and niece, Vern and Barbara Baker, left Thursday for Bakersfield, Cal., where they will visit relatives and make their home for a time at least. Mrs. Miller has given a five-year lease on her 270 acre ranch at the north end of the lake to Jay I. Johnson, formerly of Westlake, who with his family is already located on the place.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnell returned to Portland last Wednesday after spending three weeks at Darling's resort at North Beach. They took 17 nice trout home with them. Mr. Arnell is employed at Montgomery Ward and company in Portland.

Mr. Jay left Saturday evening for his home in Eugene after spending a couple of days at Darling's resort and one day with Mr. and Mrs. Chas McCoy, who live near the summit of the hill back of Siltcoos. Mr. Jay enjoyed the magnificent view of the lake and ocean from the McCoy cabin.

Practically everyone from the Siltcoos district attended the funeral of Geo. Gibbs, Jr., at Cushman last Thursday.

Vern DeMeritt of Ada station is reported as holding his own fairly well following the accidental discharge of a .22 caliber rifle last Wednesday. The bullet entered the lower part of the leg and shattered one of the bones badly. He was operated on at the Keizer brothers hospital at North Bend.

Miss Zada Tinker returned to Eugene Friday, and Mrs. Elizabeth Bickel, niece of Dr. Zimmerman, returned Monday to Eugene. They, with the Zimmerman children, have spent the past month at their summer home at North Beach. Dr. Zimmerman was here over the week-end, returning to Eugene Monday.

C. H. Fry of Cottage Grove drove in and camped on the shore of the lake Tuesday and Wednesday.

'BROTHERLY LOVE' IS RIOTOUS COMEDY

It's a riot!

That is the only term you can use for the George K. Arthur-Karl Dane, gag-filled production now at the Colonial theater. It is called "Brotherly Love," which is the spirit installed in the hearts of the "hardened" criminals of the prison in which Arthur finds himself.

It is a satire, pure, simple and funny, and there is no indication of holding criminal methods up to corrupt the morals of any "young Americas" that might happen to see the picture.

Arthur is a sweet young thing, a floor man of a high class barber shop, and Dane is a guard of the prison. In a series of ridiculous sequences these two men mix up. Arthur lands in prison and falls in love with the warden's daughter. The prison itself is half college and half pen.

Instead of breaking rock the prisoners play football and Arthur develops such speed that he is made captain. He receives his parole just before the big game but manages to get put back in prison to play. Dane gets a berth in the rival prison and the two rivals for the hand of the warden's daughter meet on the gridiron. The way "brotherly love" finally wins the game for the old pen will tear down any resistance you may have against laughing, if it isn't torn down in the first flash. C. N.

AT ROOSEVELT

Construction On New Road Here To Be Finished Soon

ROOSEVELT BEACH, Aug. 21.—(Special)—Construction work on the Big Creek-North Fork road is again in progress and is now so that cars may be driven over. It is expected this project will be finished about Sept. 1 of this year. A picnic is planned Sunday, Aug. 25 by the upper Big Creek people to celebrate the opening of this road, and a cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to attend. The drive can be made from Eugene in about three hours via Mapleton hill and Pawn P. O. The location of the picnic ground has been chosen near the old ranger station at the west end of the new road where a pooled basket lunch will be served at one o'clock p. m. Upper Big Creek is situated about seven miles inland from Roosevelt Beach and as soon as the extreme west end of this road is improved to drive to and from Eugene to the beach may be made in less than four hours. This is expected to be accomplished within the next year.

The F. Gettman place was quite popular Sunday. The visitors were: Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Stonefield, Mr. and Mrs. Walters and children, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thompson, Mrs. H. COUNTY AWAITING O. AND C. WARRANT

The county court sent a letter on Tuesday afternoon to Ray Lyman Wilbur, secretary of the interior, asking if compliations made by Lane county pertaining to the amount of Oregon and California land grant money to be received here were accepted and when the court might expect a warrant for the sum.

According to the figures of the county court Lane should receive $18,117.64 of the refund. A letter listing the items in Lane's estimate was mailed to Washington some time ago.

Aerial Pictures Prove Successful

The aerial photographs taken by Captain A. W. Stevenson and Lieutenant J. A. Cockille of Mt. Rainier from a point south of the Three Sisters, covering a span of 205 miles, proved very successful the fliers reported Tuesday when they returned to Eugene to attempt other long distance aerial pictures.

They flew to Crater lake Tuesday to get photographs of Mt. Shasta, but found the atmosphere too smoky for good photography. However, Captain Stevenson said that they were gaining valuable experience.

'OFFICE SCANDAL' EXCITING PICTURE

Occasionally there comes a movie which can keep every soul viewing it, even to the most restless one, alert and interested to the very end, and, at the same time, keep them amused and guessing. Such is "The Office Scandal," now playing at the McDonald. It is as entertaining a film as has been in Eugene for weeks.

Phyllis Haver in addition to being a very talented actress and pretty is all that popular fancy sets down for a hard-boiled, wise-cracking, "lady newspaperman."

All the characters for this picture are from a newspaper office and the racing track. Movies and fiction usually make of a newspaper office a very glamorous spectacle, but in "The Office Scandal" the movies for once forget to exaggerate.

She story is built around the attempts to solve a murder mystery, suspicion finally settling on the new reporter, (Leslie Fenton). Raymond Hatton as the "mean" city editor and Margaret Livingston as the widow of the murdered man complete the quartet of stars.—M. L.

Theme songs come and theme songs go, but "I'm Thirsty For Kisses, I'm Hungry For Love" seems to be one theme song that's here to stay.

"I'm Thirsty For Kisses, I'm Hungry For Love" will be heard when Colleen Moore's latest picture "Why Be Good' 'opens next Thursday for a three day engagement at the McDonald theater. Several variations of it have been recorded on the Vitaphone.

"Why Be Good" is a flaming youth type of story that first carried Colleen Moore to the heights of popularity.

* * *

D'Artagnan and the three musketeers have come to town.

Douglas Fairbanks' new picture, "The Iron Mask," is the present attraction at the Heilig theater. Doug is again the gay and dashing D'Artagnan of "The Three Musketeers," of which this picture is a sequel. Alexandre Dumas must have known a seventeenth century Doug when he created D'Artagnan, for the musketeer's cape fits the Fairbanks shoulders as if made to order.

"The Iron Mask" is the sort of picture which inspires adjectives, magnificent settings, gorgeous pageantry, breathtaking adventure. It has everything, comedy, tragedy, drama, adventure and Doug.

* * *

There is probably no one better equipped to talk about talking pictures than Richard Bennett, who is featured with the Vitaphone talking picture, "The Home Towners," now at the State theater.

Mr. Bennett, whether actor, stage director, playwright, star in films or on the legitimate stage, has always been a commanding figure. As doctor of plays he has few equals in the business.

* * *

Plantation days on the old Mississippi, that picturesque period before the war, form the background of the highly absorbing romance-drama, "River of Romance" which opened at the Rex theater last night and which will be seen there for the next two days.

The play is based upon the famous story, "Magnolia," by the renowned American author, Booth Tarkington. It brings to the foreground as a romantic "period" actor, Charles (Buddy) Rogers, the youth who scored so tremendously as a soldier boy hero in "Wings."

* * *

The ability to look and act dumb is an advantage to some. Witness Sid Saylor's rise in the comedy field. Saylor is starred in the comedy "Close Shaves" now playing at the Rex theater. He has been appearing in the "Let George Do It" series which were knockouts in every respect and his new laugh film is the utmost in comedy effect. He has been placed on a long time contract to star in two reel subjects by Universal Pictures Corporation.

Anything may happen when love comes to a "sob sister," that type newspaper woman who weeps on the down trodden, laughs with the and puts most of her emotions printed superlatives for the benefit the public. Yes, anything might pen under such circumstances everything does in "The Office Scandal," Pathe's new picture of paper life in which Phyllis Haver star plays one of the well known ters." It shows at the McDonald ter for the last times Wednesday, it involves murder, city editors, wayward reporter, the faithless and the smart-alec "copy boy."

Miss Haver has an excellent porting cast. Raymond Hatton fine dramatic characterization in the picture are Leslie Margaret Livingston, Jimmy and Jimmy Aldine. Paul L. Stein rected.

If all the penitentiaries like the one Karl Dane and George Arthur were in during the filming "Brotherly Love," now playing at Colonial theater, there would little congestion in criminal For all the convicts would guilty at every opportunity might enjoy the collegiate jail shown in the new Metro-Goldwyn Mayer comedy feature, Charles (Chuck) Reisner directed the on "reform" prisons, with Jean thur in the leading feminine role.
