DEATH BLOW HELD
TO BE ACCIDENTAL

Evidence that the injuries which led to the death of James Maxwell of Elmira last Thursday in a Eugene hospital were the result of an accident in the woods is reported by E.
W. Jordan of Eugene.

Accompanied by Loris Inman and Mr. Wilkinson, Mr. Jordan, who was well-acquainted with Mr. Maxwell, made a visit on Sunday to the part of the woods near Elmira where Maxwell had been working at the time of his injury on Tuesday, Aug.
20. The party, all of whom are experienced woodsmen, found that Maxwell had been struck on his head by a small dead tree which had been knocked down by a larger tree in falling. Hair which was said to match Maxwell's was found on the small tree, as well as blood stains.

Maxwell appeared at his home on Tuesday in a dazed condition, suffering from a crushed skull, and unable to tell what had happened. He was rushed to Eugene where he died on Thursday.

Suspicions that Mr. Maxwell had met with foul play were not allayed by the investigation made by the coroner's office which led to the investigation by the three woodsmen on Sunday.

FRENCH CASINOS
TAKE HUGE SUMS

PARIS.—(Special)—Gambling fever has British holiday makers in its grip, and the gamblers are pouring their shilling and pounds into France in Within a few hours travel of southern England, including London, there are dozens of French seaside casinos. Le Touquet, Deauville, Trouville and Dinard, are the chief ones, but here are scores of smaller ones studding the Emerald Coast. The Le Touquet casino alone made $2,000,000 last year, and the French government collected more than that in taxes.

British consuls are kept busy sending the losers back to England.
