

NORBLAD vs HAWLEY FOR CONGRESS

A. W. NORBLAD

What the Newspapers Say

Norblad, of splendid senate record, of dynamic force and energy, will surely beat "do nothing" Hawley. Tillamook Headlight.

On the 4th of March, 1923, W. C. Hawley will have served sixteen years in Congress and during that time he will have drawn in salary, mileage, clerk hire and perquisites about $200,000 of the taxpayers' money. Yet on last Saturday at a meeting of about 200 taxpayers at Newberg, when the chairman of the meeting requested all who knew the name of the congressman from the first congressional district of Oregon to hold up their hands, only ten responded.

Have the taxpayers of the first congressional district had value received?—Producers Call.

If A. W. Norblad of Clatsop County is elected to Congress, the first district will be ably represented. His record in the Oregon Senate is full of achievements. An energetic and fearless worker, he would undoubtedly accomplish much for Oregon and this district.—Brownsville Times.

Senator Norblad is the right man to send to Congress. He is active, progressive and a man who will stand squarely on any issue that arises. Senator Norblad's record in the state legislature has proved that he is a man of vision and strength.—Southwestern Oregon Daily News.

Unless all the signs fail, this is the year that Congressman Hawley will get his. For the first time during the sixteen years he has been in Congress, Hawley has real opposition in the person of A. W. Norblad of Astoria. Mr. Norblad is well known through his career in the state Senate, where he was one of the big men. If Mr. Norblad is elected the first Oregon district will be heard from in Congress, which has not been the case during Hawley's term.—Pork County Observer, Dallas.

Senator A. W. Norblad, of Astoria, has announced himself as a candidate for Congress to succeed W. C. Hawley, Paik Adv.

who has been "freezing" on this office for a long time. He has about worn out his usefulness in the lower house. People of this state who have its best interests in mind, are anxious for Mr. Norblad's success at the coming primary election. He is thoroughly qualified for this important office.—Roseburg News-Review.

A. W. Norblad is in the congressional race, and he will win. He is a self-made man—one who has fought his way up to honorable service of the people and to recognition among the big men of the bar and the state Senate. He is in the prime of life, and he knows the secret of success for him is in the one word, "service." No one doubts he will give his state, his county, and his district everything that is in him.—The Warrenton News.

Despite the fact that Representative W. C. Hawley is now serving his eighth term as congressman, and is a candidate for his ninth term, no legislation bears his name and he has been identified with none of the epoch-making events of his long tenure of office. He never makes a speech, or introduces a bill, and were it not for the free packages of seeds he distributes under his frank at government expense and his biennial visits home for re-election, no one would know that the district had a representative in Congress. So it is small wonder that there is a popular revolt against further continuation of Mr. Hawley's soft soap and the organization of a movement to replace him with a man of action, which has culminated in the effort to nominate A. W. Norblad of Astoria, for many years one of the leaders of the state Senate.—Capital Journal, Salem.

We think the time is ripe for a change. There is no doubt in our mind that Mr. Norblad, if elected, would make a creditable showing for this district.—The Silverton Tribune.

It is extremely doubtful if Congressman Hawley will carry even his own county this year, and it is the opinion of those fully conversant with the situation that he will be succeeded by State Senator A. W. Norblad of Astoria. He has retained his seat so long simply because he has had no real opposition. This time there has appeared one of our brightest statesmen, who has been heartily greeted throughout the district as a candidate. We want a live man representing us. Mr. Hawley is a pleasant gentleman, seems to be allied with eastern interests, hates to exert himself, and has little weight in Washington, so far as Oregon is concerned. In Senator Norblad we have a young giant who has shown in the state Senate that he is a man of the right caliber to send to Washington. All recognize and a large majority acknowledge that Mr. Hawley has accomplished little for his district during his fifteen years of service when he could have done so much. He has been asleep. The rank and file are behind Senator Norblad, who is being given ovations throughout the district.—The Woodburn Independent.

Also editorials to the same effect in the Silverton Appeal, Port Orford Tribune, Drain Enterprise, Sunday Bee (North Bend), Polk County Itemizer, Tillamook Herald, Independence Enterprise, Pacific Herald, Rainier Review, St. Helens Mist, and others, totaling twenty-six papers in the district and a number outside the district.

BILL BRENNAN KNOCKS OUT TRACEY IN EIGHTH

Series of Rights and Lefts to Jaw End Ring Battle

NEW YORK, May 16.—Knockout Bill Brennan of Chicago, knocked out Jim Tracey of Australia in the eighth round of their contest here tonight in Madison Square Garden. Brennan dropped the tall Australian with a series of rights and lefts to the jaw as they stood in a neutral corner.

Tracey, an elongated, awkward fellow, started many vicious swings that failed to land in the first three rounds. Brennan played for the body and since staggered Tracey with a right to the stomach. The fourth and fifth rounds were slow, but Brennan showed some sort of form in the sixth and dropped Tracey for the count of eight with left to the jaw. The bell was all that saved Tracey.

Tracey staggered Brennan, swinging viciously, staggered Brennan with a long left to the jaw as the seventh round started. Tracey was then knocked to the ropes with a right to the chin, but he smiled broadly and again staggered Brennan, this time with a sharp uppercut. In the eighth, after Tracey had landed a straight left to the head, Brennan moved him over to a neutral corner and pounded him down with heavy punches to the jaw.

One minute and thirty-eight seconds of the round passed when the referee finished counting over Tracey. In the semi-final contest of 15 rounds, Jack Malone of St. Paul, middleweight, and Angie Ratner, of New York, boxed a draw.

Gunner Arnold, champion heavyweight of the army, lost to Yussel Perlestein of Brooklyn, in a four-round contest, the first of a series in Madison Square Garden tonight. Perlestein received the judges' decision. Arnold weighed 186 pounds and Perlestein 177.

Joe Vita knocked out Frank Johns of Brooklyn in the second round of a six-round match.
