PROMOTERS TO CONFER ON DEMPSEY-WILLARD BOUT

Jess Declares that Dempsey is Evading Return Match

FIRE SWEEPS BAY COLONY

LOS ANGELES, June 15. — Jack Kearns, manager for Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion pugilist, announced today that he would leave tomorrow morning for the East to take up with Floyd Fitzsimmons, of Benton Harbor, Mich., and Tex Rickard, New York, boxing promoters, proposition for a return match next Labor day between Dempsey and Jess Willard, from whom he won the title.

Kearns said he received a message from Fitzsimmons today asking if a match could be arranged between Dempsey and Willard or Dempsey and Brennan.

"The Willard match would be preferable to us," Kearns said, "if the terms are satisfactory and there is a public demand for it."

The manager said he had read an interview with Willard in the Los Angeles Evening Express in which the ex-champion was saying that Dempsey, through Kearns, had been "sidestepping" a return match. "Willard may believe that but there is nothing to it," Kearns declared.

"Dempsey has always been willing to meet him again if satisfactory arrangements could be made and I feel the same way about it. Rickard seems to be very eager to put on a Dempsey- Willard fight and we are willing to come to terms with him or any other reputable promoter. I understand that Rickard does not care as much as he did for a Dempsey-Harry Wills battle."

Kearns said he would stop at Benton Harbor to see Fitzsimmons before going to New York to talk with Rickard.

AGENTS SEIZE NARCOTICS

TEN CASES OF DRUGS TAKEN FRO STEAMER MEIWU MARU

PORTLAND, Ore., June 15.—Federal agents seized ten cases of narcotics on the Japanese steamer Meiwu Maru, at Astoria, early today and arrested four members of the crew, according to Dr. J. A. Linville, federal prohibition officer for Oregon, who estimated that the drugs when diluted and sold would have brought $100,000. This was a record seizure for this district.

The prohibition agents boarded the boat to obtain evidence of liquor smuggling, and after buying a case of liquor from two firemen, Sakui and Sango, and the quartermaster, Muyamio, they were approached by the steward, T. Takamito, who proposed to the agents that they dispose of the ten cases of drugs, according to Dr. Linville's account.

Rough tactics were necessary in making arrests, Dr. Linville said.

Olive Brought Here from Mexico

The olive was brought into the United States from Mexico by the early Franciscan fathers and propagated from mission to mission as they progressed northward. The gold rush came, bringing its flood of travelers from southern Europe demanding their accustomed ration of olive oil. Good prices stimulated visions of untold wealth in the minds of the western pioneers, resulting in an olive planting boom. In 1835 there were fewer than 50,000 olive trees in America. Twelve years later there were 2,000,000, planted for the most part according to European traditions on waste land and not irrigated, and of small varieties in many cases, only suitable for crushing into oil.

Ocean Currents and Icebergs

Ocean currents are the distributors of icebergs, and the chief stream in this respect appears to be the great Labrador current, which, coming from Davis strait, crowds down close along the American coast and pushes away the genial Gulf stream. As the chief cradle of icebergs is the remarkable continent called Greenland, which is buried under a flat dome of ice, probably more than 6,000 feet in maximum thickness, 61 to latitude 82 degrees north, and covering an area of 715,000 square miles.
