which held an inquest at Springfield yesterday afternoon. According to the testimony of H. R. Thompson, of Crosswell, who was one of the occupants of the automobile which was struck by the train but who was not seriously injured, he was driving the car from the Bush Kelly mill where the men had just laid off the night shift and were on the way home, having quit work at 2 o'clock. Thompson testified that as his automobile reached the private crossing at the end of Fifth street he suddenly saw the string of flat cars backing toward them. Had he stopped his car it would have been struck and he endeavored to speed up but it was too late. The flat car struck the automobile right back of the front wheel.

G. R. Smith, who was riding on the running board of the automobile, in some manner jumped to the top of the flat car but when questioned he declared that he did not know how he did it. The testimony at the inquest showed that the automobile was dragged 60 or 70 feet and when the fire finally stopped the wreckage was found beneath the car and Thompson and Brasfield were pinned to the ground. It was necessary to raise the flat car with jacks in order to extricate the two men. It was thought that both were dead but when the car was lifted Thompson crawled out. Brasfield was found dead with his neck broken and his head crushed. Brasfield was aged 50 years and lived at West Springfield, leaving a wife, Thompson lives at Crosswell. Thompson was indicted and pleaded guilty to manslaughter. The logging train was switching in the yards at the time of the accident.

J. A. HOLTON AND WIFE HIKE NINE MILES OVER SNOW

Minneapolis Couple So Well Pleas'd With Oregon That They Will Locate Here

"We like Oregon so much better than any other state we have visited that we have decided to locate here," said Mr. Holton. "My wife does not like California nearly as well as she does Oregon and we both think that it has been advertised. This is my wife's first visit to the coast but I was here 10 years ago and the more I see of Oregon the more I like it." Mr. and Mrs. Holton visited the Oregon caves out from Grants Pass a few days ago and said that the caves as the Mammoth caves in Kentucky but not as large. Mr. Holton was for a number of years connected with the Pacific Press Publishing association.

FEDERAL MONEY IS WANTED

WESTERN LANE WANTS BOND MONEY MATCHED
The federal government is asked by the Western Lane County Pomona grange to match all county bond road money to be expended in Western Lane county. At the last meeting of the grange a resolution was adopted to the effect that as the road fund in Western Lane county has been withdrawn from taxation, having been turned over to the government, thereby reducing the taxable wealth, and as the proposed road money is through the most productive and undeveloped parts of Western Lane, the forest service and the federal government are petitioned to match the money expended by the county on such roads. The county court is asked to act upon this matter at once. Copies of the resolutions have been forwarded to E. J. Adams, secretary to United States Senator Stanfield, and to the state's senators and representatives in congress.

EX-GOVERNOR WEST WINS HIS CASE AGAINST COOS

Jury Here Gives Him Full Amount Sued for

APPEAL WILL BE TAKEN

Suit Involved Four Per Cent of Over $400,000 Tax Money Refunded by Government

Oswald West, ex-governor of Oregon, won his case against Coos county here late yesterday afternoon when a jury in the circuit court returned a verdict in his favor for the full amount sued for, alleged damages as a fee for lobbying in Washington, D. C. in favor of the bill refunding to Coos county $400,000 tax money on the southern Oregon land grant in 1919. The amount sued for by Mr. West was $19,481. West claimed that he had an oral contract with County Judge Watson of Coos county, providing that he should go to Washington and lobby for this bill and that the agreement was ratified by the county court. The evidence at the trial showed that there was an agreement between him and the Coos and Douglas county courts, fixing his compensation at four per cent of the amount of taxes refunded to each. Judge Watson and Commissioner Phillips of the Coos county court were afterward recalled because of their participation in this agreement with West. The jury returned its verdict in very short time after it retired to deliberate yesterday afternoon. Attorneys for Coos county stated that the case will be appealed to the supreme court. The trial was heard before Judge W. H. Belt of Dallas.

BEE CULTURE IS SUCCESS

R. H. GIBSON MAKES STUDY OF INDUSTRY

R. H. Gibson, who lives 10 miles west of Eugene near the Elmira highway, declares that the fruit men who and Benton counties, at the meeting. responsible for the short crop of the say that the lack of bees is partly this year are right. He has 11 stands of bees on his place and with the cherry crop in most localities in Lane county is short, he will have a full crop this year. He ascribes it to the fact that there were plenty of bees on his place to pollinate the blossoms. Mr. Gibson has made a study of bees for the past three years and is now one of the best posted men on the subject in this county. He has made a success of the industry. He thinks there should be a lot more bees in Lane county than there is and he would pay the fruit men, not only in the way of increased crop but would be able to make money of their honey as he does.
