BOY SAVES HIS PLAYMATE

MELVIN SALLEE RESCUES MEL-
VIN JOHNSON FROM DROWNING

(Register Lane County Special)
COTTAGE GROVE, Ore., June 29.—Melvin, the 11-year-old son of J. T. Saltee, postmaster at Star, a few miles from here, disobeyed his mother a few days ago, played the role of hero and saved an eight-year-old Melvin Johnson from drowning. The latter had, with several other boys, was swimming in Row river near the Star postoffice when he got beyond his depth.

Melvin Saltee was on a raft near by but was fully dressed, as his mother had forbidden him to go into the water that day. Nevertheless, seeing that his little companion was unable to swim and that he had sunk the second time, Melvin plunged off the raft, seized the little fellow and pulled him to shore. Needless to say, he was not charged with murder for saving his friend's life.
