DOES LAUNDRY WORK AND HOUSEWORK TOO

Surprised to Find Herself Feeling So Well

Taunton, Mass. — "I used to have pains in my back and legs so badly, with other troubles that women sometimes have, that my doctor ordered me to stay in bed a week in every month. It didn't do me much good, so one day after talking with a friend who took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for about the same troubles I had, I thought I would try it also. I find that I can work in the laundry all through the time and do my housework, too. Last month I was so surprised at myself to be up and around and feeling so good while before I used to feel completely lifeless. I have told some of the girls who work with me and have such troubles to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I tell them how it has helped me. You can use my testimonial for the good of others." —Mrs. BLANCHE SILVIA, 59 Grant St., Taunton, Mass.

It's the same story—one friend telling another of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

NEED NOT DREAD POISON IVY

Science Announces Gasoline Will Prevent Evil Effects

The fear of poison ivy, which has kept many a city dweller away from the woods and meadows a whole season through, is now an unnecessary fear. The specter in the shadows of the forest is gone. Science has provided the means for warding off the illness which otherwise would follow infection. The remedy is just an application of ordinary gasoline. Benzine may be used instead.

Science has discovered that the irritant of the skin in ivy poisoning is no different from other chemical burns, and that gasoline or benzine will dissolve and remove the poisonous oil of the ivy if applied in time. As many as eight hours may elapse between the touching of the ivy and the application of the remedy. Even persons on hikes in lonely districts may benefit by the discovery, since any passing motorist can supply enough gasoline to do the work.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD NEWS NOTES

(Correspondence of the Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ore., July 5.—Mr and Mrs. Ray Baily and several relatives returned last night from Black Butte, close to Cottage Grove, where they spent their holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Loffer and Juanita Barnes spent July 4th at Blachly and returned early this morning. Mr. Loffer and Miss Hessle Barnes played for a dance at Blachly.

J. E. Cross and W. N. Long returned yesterday evening from their trip to the coast and report a pleasant trip.

Friend Houk is working this season for Budd McPherson on the baler. They began baling today and the work will last about two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crusberg returned Tuesday evening after attending the camp meetings which were held at Lowell. The next camp meetings of the Standard Mission will be held in Eugene and from there to Hoquitam, Washington. The meetings are conducted by Everett Wilson.

FIRE DESTROYS RESIDENCE

MR. AND MRS. ELLIS OF SPRINGFIELD SUFFER LOSS

(Register Lane County Special)

SPRINGFIELD, Ore., July 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Ellis, who live at the foot of Emerald Heights between F and G on Water street, had the house in which they were living and all of their furniture, burned. They were out to John Seavey's hop ranch camping where Mr. Ellis is working, and knew nothing of the fire until today.

The alarm was sent in by Mrs. Zella Cantrell at about 11 o'clock last night. She tried to reach the parties by phone but did not succeed as the line was out of commission.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis have three children. Just how much damage was done is not known. The house was owned by F. J. Schofield, of the Eugene chemical works.

At 6 o'clock this morning the fire whistle blew again. It was the same fire but had broken out on the side hill.

Just how the fire originated has not been ascertained but is thought to have been caused by firecrackers. The house was too far gone to extinguish the fire.

COUNCIL HOLDS MEETING

NUMBER OF ITEMS OF BUSINESS TRANSACTED

(Register Lane County Special)

CRESWELL, Ore., July 4.—The council met in regular session on Monday evening and performed quite a little business of interest to the town. The usual current bills were allowed and the petition of the school board to vacate the street that runs directly through the school grounds was granted. The petition of the trustees of the Presbyterian church to improve the street in front at their church property and to Oregon avenue at the donated expense of the resident owners was granted providing the improvement complied with plans and specifications.

A man was employed to cut grass in streets and alleys of town. C. E. Leabo was appointed to repair water meters and pipes where necessary at 40 cents an hour. He was also instructed to build the fire station or shed in the Bohrnstedt addition. A fire hydrant was ordered placed at the corner near A. J. Johnson's residence. Mrs. Ethel Treanor was elected councilwoman to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of G. E. Everson.

CRESWELL NEWS NOTES

(Register Lane County Special)

CRESWELL, Ore., July 5.—Floyd Everson, who has been very sick the last ten days, was taken to the hospital Tuesday evening, at Eugene, for medical aid. He stood the trip nicely and is reported to be getting along well.

One of the picnic companies assembled at the river on the Fourth was the family of F. A. Richardson and neighbors, with whom his son-in-law, Judge George Jones, of Forsythe, Mont., and family, have been visiting. Judge Jones was called upon impromptu for a speech and his words were so well chosen and his expression so forceful and dignified that the picnickers feel they had a rare treat and are complimenting the judge for his able address.

Judge George Jones left for Hardin, Mont., where he may take up business.

The Fourth passed quietly in Creswell with no formal observation but with numerous picnic and family parties at the river and other resorts near Creswell.

George Sedgwick left Wednesday morning for Portland where he will spend a few days visiting his aunt, Miss Helen Sedgwick.

Dr. E. E. Radabaugh, of Goshen, was in Creswell on professional visits Tuesday.

WINBERRY NEWS NOTES

(Register Lane County Special)

WINBERRY, Ore., July 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Clark Randall spent Tuesday night at Fall Creek with Mr. Randall's mother, who has been quite ill.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Blair drove up Winberry creek Friday evening.

W. B. Scott, the Fall creek merchant, is making semi-weekly deliveries. This service is greatly appreciated by his patrons up Winberry and Big Fall creeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hales, of Eugene, spent Sunday at their summer cottage "Deer Mountain Lodge."

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Carter and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver James, of Creswell, spent Sunday and Monday camping above the gorge.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wheeler and family and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wheeler and family, of Pleasant Hill, have been camping four days up Big Fall creek.

Clark Randall transacted business in Eugene Thursday.

L. G. Walker is home from Landax where he has been working.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Golden and family were at Lowell Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Harriman have as guests relatives from Detroit, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Randall attended services at Lowell Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Porterfield and children and Mrs. Alice Brown, of Eugene, have been enjoying an outing up Big Fall.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Bauer, Miss Gladys and Fred Bauer and Miss Love, of Jasper, spent the Fourth up the creek and on their way home they stopped to have their picnic supper with Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wambold.

Mr. and Mrs. Gainey Jacoby and family, of Pleasant Hill, spent the Fourth at the gorge.

Relatives from Portland have been visiting at the Harry Baker home.

Members of the road crew building the new road to the ranger station up Big Fall creek celebrated the Fourth by giving a picnic. About 175 attended and a good time was enjoyed by all. The boys furnished ice cream and pink lemonade for the crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cutler and family, of Eugene, spent the Fourth up Big Fall.

PECULIARITY IN PLANT WORLD

Strange and Valuable Property Possessed by the "Compass"

One of the world's most curious plants and one that is indigenous to this country alone is the compass plant, which was first brought to the attention of the scientific world by Gen. Benjamin Alvord in 1842. It received its name from the strange property exhibited by its leaves of presenting their faces to the rising and setting sun.

This remarkable species, says the New York Post, is a perennial plant of the order compositae. The first year it bears only radical leaves; the second year and after it is a flowering herb, with four or five leaves from 12 to 30 inches in length.

It is found in the rich prairies of the Mississippi valley, from Minnesota to Texas. The polarity of the leaves was known to hunters and settlers long before General Alvord discovered it, and they would resort to it when lost on the prairies on dark nights, as by feeling of its leaves they could easily get their bearings. Many lives have been saved by this plant.

By the movements of the "weather plant" an expert is able to foretell the weather and warn of forthcoming storms, cyclones, earthquakes, firedamps and volcanic eruptions. This plant, which bears the scientific name of abrus precatorius, is a native of Cuba. It bears no flowers, and consists merely of a long stalk from which branch numerous twigs containing rows of delicate looking leaves. The leaves frequently change color or close, while the twigs bend themselves into curious positions.

BYRNS QUOTES WEEKS ON 'LOW EBB OF CONGRESS'

Declares Secretary Bluntly Told Truth in Address

REPLIES TO MONDELL TALK

Mr. Byrns Adds That One of Unpardonable Failures Was Failure to Prosecute War Profiteers

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Delegated by house Democrats to reply to the recent speech on Representative Mondell, Wyoming, the Republican leader, "on the achievements of congress," Representative Byrns, of Tennessee, ranking Democrat of the appropriations committee, declared "in an extension of remarks" to be printed in the congressional record tomorrow that Secretary Weeks "frankly and bluntly told the truth" in asserting in an address that congress had reached its lowest ebb.

"Mr. Weeks is quoted as having declared in a sudden burst of candor," said Mr. Byrns, "that this congress, which is overwhelmingly Republican, had reached the lowest ebb in the entire history of the country. Considering his long service in the house, the senate and as secretary of war, testimony coming from such a high Republican source will undoubtedly be accepted in preference to the biased opinion of Mr. Mondell whose candidacy for the United States senate rests on the record made by congress under his leadership."

Bad Faith With People

"Feeling keenly the force of general criticism leveled against congress," said Mr. Byrns, "the majority leader very harshly criticises those who have seen fit to condemn the present congress for its shortcomings and failure to give evidence of statesmanship and keep faith with the people."

Referring to Mr. Mondell's reference to newspaper editors, Mr. Byrns declared the editors could "take comfort in the fact that in such criticisms they have been no more harsh than was the distinguished secretary of war."

After a general denial of the claims put forth by Mr. Mondell, as to the saving of public funds, Mr. Byrns declared "one of the most disappointing and unpardonable failures" of the administration was "its culpable neglect to promptly and vigorously prosecute the war profiteers."

"For 14 months the attorney general took no steps to bring these profiteers to justice," he said, "and there seemed to be a purpose to let the statute of limitations run and permit at least many of them to escape criminal and civil liability."

Culpable Neglect Apparent

"So evident did this become," he added, "that two Republican representatives, Woodruff and Johnson — felt it their duty to bring this neglect of the attorney general and the department of justice to the attention of congress and the country."

Touching on the failure of the house to act on the Woodruff-Johnson resolution for an investigation and the subsequent appropriation of half a million dollars for war fraud prosecutions, Mr. Byrns declared:

"The money asked for was promptly and unanimously granted. The gentleman from Wyoming takes credit for this action but I submit that the administration, lashed by two members of its own party who were actuated by a high sense of public duty, can claim little credit therefore. It is a severe reflection on the administration and the Republican party that the majority leaders suppressed this resolution in the rules committee and refused to permit a public inquiry as to the causes which influenced this inaction on the part of the department of justice."

Big Ships' Radio

The radio equipment of the ships Paris and Lafayette is described in a recent issue of Radioelectricity. On both steamers a five-kilowatt tube transmitter has been installed with a wave range of between 2,000 and 9,000 meters. A five-kilowatt motor-generator set is used to produce the plate-high tension for four rectifying and four oscillatory tubes, and the low voltage current for the heating of the filament of these tubes. Both vessels are equipped with a radio range-finder or "radio goniometer," which, reduced to plain English, means a radio compass. A distance of 3,400 kilometers has been covered safely by messages sent from the transmitter of the Paris.

Chorus Strike Ended Opera

Silk stockings and new blouses were among the demands of the chorus girls which brought the opera season at Bayreuth, Bavaria, to an untimely end. One day the young women declared that they would not go on the stage in the evening unless their demands for higher wages and silk stockings, blouses and shoes were complied with. The corporation of Bayreuth declared that it would not be blackmailed by a pack of girls, dismissed them on the ground that they had broken their contract, and closed the opera house.
