Green Corn Is Here

Newest of the arrivals in our big food department store this week is green corn on the cob. Of all nourishing and likeable green vegetables, green corn well cooked and spread over with butter is the best. Have a few ears at your next meal.

Dalles Apricots for Canning

Can some apricots this season. The Dalles apricots are grown right here in Oregon and are obtainable in such quantity as to make canning not only possible, but very profitable. We have them in any quantity you desire, and the price is very reasonable.

Of Course You Like Pineapple

Naturally you like pineapple—everyone does. We suggest that the next time you order pineapple you ask for crushed pineapple. You will find crushed pineapple much easier to serve, easier to eat and better tasting. Besides all of the other qualities in its favor crushed pineapple is much less expensive than pineapple in any other form.

Hurry for Berries and Cherries

This year's small fruit season has been very short. Time for obtaining blackberries, loganberries, blackcaps and cherries of all varieties for canning is limited. The cherry crop is only about one-third as large as last year, and while the cherries are better in quality they will soon be gone. We advise you to order at once.

Jell-Well Is a New Dessert

Jell-well is a new fruit-flavored easily prepared jell dessert. Just add a pint of boiling water to a package of Jell-well and set in a cool place. When ready to serve it will find a firm cool dessert that will please everyone. Jell-well may be had in several flavors.

Our Service Popular with Campers

Most everyone knows about our picnic and campers' service by this time, but just as a reminder we thought we would mention it again. We pack your orders of meats, cooked foods, beverages, and groceries, and send them out by stage to wherever you happen to be camping. Expert packing insures perfectly packed provisions.

Vegetables Are a Cooling Summer Diet

The more vegetables you eat in summer the more comfortable you will be. Nature has provided vegetables in the summer season to keep you healthy—you should eat more of them. Summer squash and celery are in. Tomatoes, lettuce, green peppers, beets, small carrots, string beans, and several others are here.
