DAILY MARKET REPORT
(OREGON JOURNAL MARKET SERVICE)
PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 15.—The cut of 2c in the price of butter and 2c in the butter fat market at the opening of the Tuesday trade has been overdue here for at least 10 days. In fact, the extent of the decline was not as liberal as conditions justified, at least in butter. The greater cut in the price of fat than in the manufactured product indicated the real weakness of the current situation.

EGG TRADE GENERALLY ACTIVE
Trade in the egg market is active, but reports indicate the sale of considerable pullet cold storage stock as fresh goods when mixed with current arrivals. General prices are unchanged for the day.

CHICKEN MARKET MORE ACTIVE
More active tone is showing for chickens in the front street trade with light hens showing a fractional rise although heavy stuff is unchanged. In fact there is too much differential between the light and heavy stuff.

CHEESE DEMAND IS STILL GOOD.
Demand for cheese continues good, but prices are unchanged both at Tillamook and in the city. Carl Haberland, sales representative of the Tillamook association, was in the city yesterday and reports demand still in excess of supply.

TOMATO PRICES GO DOWNWARD
Because of the pressure here of considerable ripe and overripe stock, tomato prices ruled from 20 to 25c a box generally along the street, although the bulk of the sales were around 40¢ to 50¢ a box.

VEAL PRICES SHOWING A RISE
Further advance is shown in the price of country-killed calves along the street, with sales up to 15c a pound for extreme tops. Hogs continue in very small supply, with extreme prices available.

BRIEF NOTES OF PRODUCE TRADE
Cantaloupe prices are steady.
Apples selling from 50 to 75c for early varieties, show at that.
Peach trade is steady around $1 generally for tops; some a fraction above this.
Potatoes are about steady.
Rag plant is a drug on the market; sales as low as 5c a pound.

Trade in garlic is nominal, with sales down to 10¢ to 12¢.
Pickling onions are not plentiful, sales at 11¢ to 12¢.
Market for honey is quiet; prices are generally lower.

Workman's Eyesight

cannot be guarded too jealously. The loss or injury of an eye is a most serious misfortune for anyone, but especially to the working man.

Statistics show that of all serious industrial accidents, seven-tenths per cent affect the eye and could probably have been prevented by perfectly constructed goggles. We make a specialty of goggles for factory and mill purposes. All the best styles are at very reasonable prices.
