BOY AND GIRL WINNERS TO VISIT OREGON FAIR

County Club Awards Are Made for Lane

FOUR FROM HERE TO GO

Prize List Announced By J. G. Swan in Various Projects Conducted During Past Year

Winners in the boys' and girls' club contests, including the best scores for work during the past year and also the county fair entries, were announced yesterday by J. G. Swan, county club leader. A special award for the two girls and two boys who stand the highest in individual records for the year will be a visit to the Oregon state fair at Salem where the winners will be the guests of the state fair management from Wednesday to Saturday of the fair period.

Margaret McClain of the Coburg sewing club, and Loretta Zahn of the Wendling home making club, are the two girl winners, and Ferdinand Donelson of the Lowell garden club, and Everett Miles of the Southwestern Lane calf club, of Ada, are the boys. The four winners from Lane county will be quartered during their stay at the state fair at the boys' and girls' annual camp at the state fair grounds where winners from all the counties of the state will be visitors at the annual show. The camp is held under the direction of the state club leaders and the state superintendent of education.

One Winner Withdraws

In the selection of the winners in the girls' class, Margaret Swan, daughter of the state club leader, was placed second, but withdrew in favor of Loretta Zahn. In the boys' class, Harold Ayers, son of W. A. Ayers, secretary of the fair board, and Arthur Whitney, son of Ira P. Whitney, county agent, were selected as alternates, but they also withdrew from the prize-winning list. The rating of the winners is based on reports of work done during the year in addition to the quality of the display entered by each of the boys and girls at the annual fair.

The records in all the county club projects have been compiled and the winners selected with the exception of the potato club, of which the records are still incomplete. In the cooking club contest, three boys had the best records and were returned winners over the girl entries. In the third division of the sewing club work, Alice Luckey, of Lorane, was the only entry and was awarded second prize. Miss Luckey has been ill for some time and the greater part of her sewing work for the year was completed while she was confined to her bed.

CASTLE DOORS TO SWING

REOPENING STAGED FOR THIS EVENING AT 6:45

New Music Will Be Heard and New Faces Will Be Seen at Popular Picture House

Fleeting are the hours and minutes to the anticipated goal at 6:45 this evening when, at the last second touches the mark, the stone gray doors of the newly achieved Castle theatre swing open to welcome the expectant devotees of pictorial drama and music.

The stage is set. The most modern Powers projectors equipped with all the latest accessories that have been advanced to the perfection of pictorial exhibition including costly lens, speed indicators, film adjustments and high efficiency light controls, await the touch of the chief projectionist, Lewis Gibbs. The magic to order super-life screen designed for the vicarious pleasure of Castle patrons, stands behind heavy curtains until the first title's high lights command its services.

The orchestra, the first of its kind in city theatrical history, under the direction of John R. Britt, graduate of the Conservatory of Music and Arts of Budapest, Hungary, late of the People's theatre and Portland Symphony, are tuned to the magnitude of the event and are promised to cover themselves with glory in opening concert and synchronized settings to the picture. With Buford Roach, violin; F. V. Badolette, flute; Harry Devreux, violin-cello; Leonard Gross, bass viol; Wayne Hurd, trumpet, and Frank C. Alexander at the console of the Estey organ, director Britz announces himself highly pleased with the prospects for the immediate future of the Castle musical offerings.

The opening concert occurring at 7:30 is to comprise three numbers: "Carmen," selection by Bizet; "Blue Danube Waltz," by Strauss; and the John Phillip Sousa march, "Stars and Stripes."

The feature picture chosen by the management is the eight-act production of George Broadbent's "The Storm," which boasts an all-star cast headed by House Peters, Virginia Yall and Matt Moore.

The personnel of the Castle, with the exception of Mr. Gibbs, projectionist, has been entirely changed. New faces will greet patrons at the box office and in the foyer with Verula Kamp in the first named office and Chauncey Marston in charge of the inner lobby.

Every possible detail will be completed for the comfort and entertainment of first night patrons, advises the management, who remind that the doors will be opened at 6:45 and the curtains parted on the premier new Castle presentation promptly at seven o'clock.

LANE PIONEERS GATHER

HOLD ANNUAL REUNION AND ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Memorial Roll Shows That Many Have Crossed Divide During Past Year

Nearly a hundred Lane county pioneers gathered in annual reunion at the county fair yesterday and recounted the days in crossing the plains and the early life in Oregon. This was the annual meeting of the Lane County Pioneer's association and election of officers took place and other business incident to the occasion was transacted.

The meeting opened at 10:30 with music followed with prayer by Rev. P. H. Burnett, who also gave the principal talk of the forenoon. The aged pioneer minister spoke interestingly of the trip across the plains and of his early life among the Indians of the Willamette valley and told many incidents of his boyhood days and of events of later date that were of importance and interest to the pioneers of those times. The speaker ended his remarks with a song in Chinook Indian jargon.

After the picnic dinner talks were made by E. McClanahan, J. M. Shelley and others and election of officers followed with the choosing again of William Pitney of Junction City, as president. J. S. Luckey, of Eugene, was the choice for vice-president, and Will Brantow, of Pleasant Hill, was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

New members who signed the roll yesterday were as follows: R. W. Vestch, Mrs. Laura Harris, Mrs. S. S. Bowers, J. J. Peplot, P. A. Wagner, Mrs. Jessie M. Wagner, Mrs. Amanda Perkins Currin.

During the afternoon Hardy Crow exhibited an ancient pistol that was brought across the plains by his father in 1852 and Cal M. Young showed the pioneers a yoke for oxen which his father, the late C. W. Young, brought across the plains the same year. Mr. Young, senior, gave a team of oxen valued at $150 and $50 cash for the Young homestead north of Eugene, now owned by his son, Cal, and the latter stated that he never intended to sell it, planning to keep it in the family as long as possible. He has a seven-year-old son, who, he said, would fall heir to the place.

It was decided at this meeting to hold a picnic at Calapooya springs in the near future, the date to be decided later.

The memorial roll, called at the end of the gathering showed that the following members of the association have crossed the great divide during the past year: Isaac Zumwalt, Theodore Gillespie, Mrs. Frances Ahwrey, Mrs. Susan Lovell, J. M. Parker, A. B. Hendricks, Burn Veatch, Mrs. George B. Dorris, Elizabeth Ferguson, Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Canady, Marion Bonnett, John Guiley, William Buddy, Mrs. A. S. Patterson, Mrs. Elizabeth Bowers and Mrs. Phoebe Sharp.

PIERCE TO SPEAK HERE

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE WILL TALK AT FAIR

Walter M. Pierce, Democratic candidate for the governorship of Oregon, will speak at the county fair grounds tomorrow afternoon, starting at 1:30 o'clock, according to word received last night by the fair management. An invitation had also been forwarded to Governor Ben W. Clcott to attend the fair and address the visitors, but the governor last night sent his regrets at not being able to arrange his schedule to be here for the fair date.

The Democratic candidate in his address is to shun politics, according to word sent to the fair officials, and his talk will be strictly non-political, is the announcement from headquarters. No arrangements have yet been completed as to where the address will be delivered, but it will probably be at the race track, officials state.

BATTERY THEFT CHARGED

J. H. CALDWELL ARRESTED BUT PAYS AND IS RELEASED

J. H. Caldwell, who is demonstrating a "spark intensifier" for automobile engines at the Lane county fair, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff George Croner yesterday charged with the alleged theft of a battery from a service station at Tillamook. Later he turned over $47.50, the price of the battery, and was released.

Caldwell said he did not steal the battery. He said that while there a few days ago he left his old battery at the service station to be repaired and that the new one was given to him to use until the old one was fixed up. He said he intended to return for it in the near future.

Free from destructive "Sulpho" compounds

Cycol is perfected by a new scientific method

The high lubricating value of Cycol is due to an advanced method of refining—the new Hexeon process—used only in making Cycol.

By making Cycol free from destructive "sulpho" compounds the Hexeon process accomplishes what scientists have long striven for—increased stability of motor oil under engine heat.

Cycol does not break down nor thin out rapidly under high operating temperatures. It maintains an unbroken lubricating film between moving parts. It sustains an "oil tight" piston seal. It prevents many serious motor troubles.

2. DIVORCE SUITS FILED

TWO UNHAPPY WIVES SEEK LEGAL SEPARATION

Two divorce suits were filed in circuit court yesterday, in each case the "unhappy" wife being the plaintiff, one claiming desertion and the other cruel and inhuman treatment.

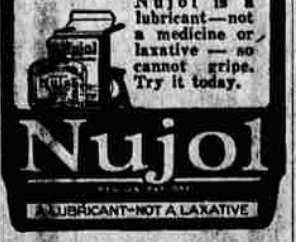

Laura E. Koopp sues her husband, Albert Koopp. They were married in South Dakota October 7, 1886, and it is alleged that the husband deserted his wife and family in August, 1919. Potter Foster and Immel are Mrs. Koopp's attorneys.

Isabel Burton seeks separation from LeRoy Burton on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment. She says in her complaint that he abused her both mentally and physically and that he has cursed her. They have an adopted child, two years old. The complaint says they were married at Vancouver, Wash., June 20, 1915. Wells and Wells are attorneys for the plaintiff.
