CHRISTY AND SYNDICATE BUY BOSTON BALL TEAM

"Big Six" Mathewson Back In National Game

(By the Associated Press)
BOSTON, Feb. 20.—The Boston National League club was sold today by George Washington Grant, a syndicate headed by Christy Mathewson, former pitcher of the Giants.

Associated with Mathewson are James MacDonough and Emil Fuchs, both of New York. The price paid was not announced. Mr. Grant said that it was stipulated in the deal that Fred Mitchell continue as manager of the Braves.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—"Big Six" Mathewson, the American boy, is back in the game. Back from the wars, back from the grave, comes Christy Mathewson, some say the greatest of them all.

Announcement from Boston that Mathewson was a member of the syndicate taking over the Braves, was awaited keenly by fans in touch with affairs. They were wondering tonight just how active Mathewson would be.

Mathewson is, perhaps, the most popular baseball player in the game's history, equally noted for his great playing ability and his gentlemanly conduct.

Only the other day John J. McGraw, conceded one of the smartest men in baseball, gave his final appraisal of Christy—"the perfect player, the only one I ever knew."

MANY TROUT SENT OUT FINGERLINGS SENT TO LAKES AND STREAMS

Plant on McKenzie River Is for Trout Only and Is Entirely Self-Supporting

R. W. Goff, superintendent of the McKenzie river state fish hatchery, near Leaburg, who was in city yesterday, has made a report on the distribution of trout fingerlings from the plant last season. Following are a few of the lakes and streams that were stocked from this hatchery during the year:

Sutterfield lake, Lighthouse lake, Empire lake, Foster lake, Port Orford lake, Florice lake, Suttons lake, Mercer lake, Clear lake, Lilly lake, Triangle lake, Benson lake, Han lake, Willow lake, Copenhagen lake, Albany lake, Ten Mile lake, Siltcoos lake, Takenitch lake, Row river and tributaries, South fork of the McKenzie river, Blue river, Calapooia river, McKenzie river, Abnagon river, Rickreall river, Alesia river, Coast fork of Willamette river, Little Beaver creek, Mill creek, Gate creek, Crabtree creek, McDowell creek, Oak creek, Soap creek, Beaver creek, Gray creek, Rock creek, Fall creek and Silver creek.

Mr. Goff said there seem to be a great many people in doubt as to whether the McKenzie river hatchery is a trout hatchery or a salmon hatchery and a great many are of the opinion that the trout hatcheries derive their funds from appropriations or taxation.

The McKenzie River hatchery is a trout hatchery and since the regulation of the fish and game commission's properties in 1921 it has been owned and operated by the state game commission. The commission derives its funds from hunters' and anglers' licenses and is self-supporting.

There were 1,200,000 trout fry hatched and reared to fingerling size last season at the McKenzie hatchery. These fingerlings were liberated during the summer and fall of 1922. The railroad car "Rainbow" was used in liberating the first lot that was sent to lakes and streams along the coast and coast ranges while motor trucks were used in the interior.

Out of the 5,200,000 fingerlings planted, the McKenzie river received as its portion 1,298,000, said Mr. Goff.

Practically all of the trout eggs were shipped to this station from other counties. Klamath and Deschutes being the heaviest trout egg producers.

ATHLETIC PLAN STARTED GUARDSMEN TO TAKE UP BOXING AND WRESTLING

Wrestling and boxing are to be added to the athletic events of the local national guard companies, according to plans being prepared. The first classes are being promoted by Chester L. Aldrich, member of the medical unit, and it is hoped to develop enough fast talent for the ring and mat to stage a card and smoker for the guardsmen in the near future, according to Major W. G. White.

Equipment, including gloves and a wrestling mat, are to be purchased under the new program which will be launched at once if interest in these branches of athletics among the troops, according to the guard officers.

RILEY TALKS TO ROTARY LOCAL CLUB HEARS OF "SELLING OREGON" TRIP

How he sold Oregon to the Easterners was told to the members of the Eugene Rotary club yesterday by Frank Branch Riley, lecturer on the Pacific Northwest. About 30 of the Rotarians and their guests attended the luncheon at the Osburn hotel at noon. The speaker was introduced by Carl G. Washburn, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Rotary club.

Riley in his talk to the local club members told of many other Rotary gatherings that he had the honor of attending, but that the Eugene organization, which is the baby Rotary club of the world, was the best that he had met in his many journeys.

VILLA PUTS WOLFE OUT FILIPINO FIGHTING MARVEL WISS IN THIRD ROUND

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 20.—Pancho Villa, sixweight champion, tonight knocked out Kid Wolfe of Philadelphia, in the third round of a scheduled eight-round bout.

The local boxer, although he put up a good fight, was no match for the champion, who landed many stiff blows. In the first round after a series of rights and lefts, Villa sent his opponent to the floor for a count of nine.

Wolfe came back strong in the next round, but his aggressiveness counted for little against the champion's skill and experience. In the third round the Philadelphia man was knocked down twice before the blow which caused his seconds to throw a towel into the ring when the referee had counted nine. Wolfe made no attempt to regain his feet. The final blow was a straight right to the jaw. Villa's weight was announced as 118 and Wolfe's as 112½.

Y. M. CANVASS TO GO ON EFFORT MADE TO MAKE DEFICIT OF $2500

With approximately $2500 still lacking of the goal of $11,999 which was the objective of the annual financial campaign of the Y. M. C. A., arrangements are being made to reorganize the canvass workers and start immediate action to clear up the deficit. A group composed of from 12 to 14 members of the teams that handled the work in the campaign last week are to be organized for the post-canvas cleanup, according to officials of the association.

Frank Eberhart, secretary of the association, reports that many who have contributed to the fund have increased the amount in order to overcome the sum still short of the budget figures.

IS DOUBTING THOMAS NO LONGER

"All medicines and doctors for stomach trouble proved worthless in my case. Everybody recommended something else and nothing helped, so I became a doubting Thomas as to any cure. While in St. Louis a party praised Mayr's Wonderful Remedy so highly that I bought a bottle, and I am now a doubting Thomas no longer." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—At All Drug-gists.

spite the plea of its author that it was designed to protect the ultimate consumer, "who has a right to know how much wool and how much shoddy is contained in the garment offered him for purchase."

Generally speaking, it might be said that today was a rough one for the state fish commission, its employees and others on the "fish lobby" that is a regular feature of the legislative sessions. Besides having their program decidedly upstaged by passage of the Mott trolling bill in the house, the fish commission and lobby came in for a red hot scoring in the senate when Senator Joseph and Mrs. Kinney signed the minority report that recommended passage of the bill, and the motion was made to substitute the minority for the majority report.

The lobby maintained here every session by the fish commission is the greatest anchor of legislation," Joseph declared.

The commission has fastened its fangs on this legislature. It comes here before the session opens, rents hotel rooms, provides free rooms to members of the legislature, wines and dines and debauches members of this body and absolutely dictates legislation that affects the fish industry.

Senator Toose, of Clackamas county, was another senator to present the lobbying activity of the fish commission and its agents.

"The state fish commission has become nothing less than a fish oligarchy," Toose said. "Its dominating influence has been felt every hour of this session through tools paid by the state at the rate of $3600 a year, who jump at the command of an arch dictator to defeat every move made by the legislature to enact legislation affecting fishing interests."

The evening session tonight, the first indulged in by the senate during the session, was devoted to consideration of the appropriation bills passed by the house this afternoon.
