OAKRIDGE WANTS NEW HIGHWAY THROUGH TOWN

Petition to Be Presented to Different Bodies

Present Plan of United States Engineers Is to Cross the River Several Miles Above There

Spurred to action by the recent announcement of the engineers of the federal bureau of public roads that the upper Willamette highway from the Lowell bridge to a point a few miles above Oakridge will be built on the south side of the Willamette river instead of on the north side as the present road is located, the people of Oakridge and vicinity have prepared and circulated a petition to be presented to the state highway commission, the Lane county court and the Eugene chamber of commerce, asking these bodies to use their best endeavors to obtain the routing of the highway through Oakridge, crossing the river about three miles below that town instead of three or four miles above it as proposed by the federal engineers.

Paddock Has Petition C. A. Paddock, resident of Oakridge, was in the city yesterday with the petition which he presented to the county court and will have Eugene residents interested take the question up with the chamber of commerce while he mailed a copy to the state highway body.

The people of Oakridge, according to the petition, advance the argument that the route on the north side of the river will be cheaper of construction, that Lane county will have a less number of bridges if the highway crosses the river above there all to the disadvantage of tourists and others crossing the mountains by this route.

Crossings Eliminated The petition states that by crossing the river below Oakridge, all railway crossings will be eliminated as will be the case on the south side of the river, that the cost of clearing the right-of-way will be less and that better surfacing material can be obtained on the north side. It is also figured that the distance will be a mile less than by the route as being surveyed.

In case the highway is built entirely on the south side of the river to a point where it is proposed to cross three or four miles above Oakridge, Lane county will be compelled to maintain the bridges over Salt and Salmon creeks, also several miles of road that the state and federal government would otherwise maintain.

Would Make Longer Trip It is further urged by the petitioners that inasmuch as all the roads to different communities such as McCreddie Springs, Kitson Springs and High Prairie, center at Oakridge, the building of the highway on the opposite side of the river would compel the people of these sections to drive quite a distance out of their way to get to Eugene and other points in the valley. The people of Oakridge would be compelled to drive up the river three or four miles, then back down the river on the opposite side.

MILL PURCHASES STORE

ESTABLISHMENT AT BECK IS BOUGHT BY TUFT FIRM

Purchase of the store at Beck, Oregon, by the Tuft Lumber company, which will conduct the business in addition to operating the sawmill, has been announced by officials of the organization. A new stock of goods is to be installed and a general merchandise business in addition to providing trading facilities for the mill employees is the plan of the lumber firm which resumed operations last week after being closed down for several months.

Between 20 and 25 men are now employed at the plant and the force will soon be increased, according to the members of the firm. As many of the mill force will move their families to Beck to make their home the purchase of the store is a move by the Tuft concern to provide for the needs of the plant employees, is the announcement.

CAMPUS MASONS FEAST

WILLIAM H. GALVANI IS GUEST OF MEMBERS

William H. Galvani, chief of the engineering of the Portland Railway, Light and Power company, was the guest here last night of the University of Oregon Masonic organizations at a banquet held at the Anchorage. Mr. Galvani is an official of the grand lodge of the Masonic order of Oregon and has been instrumental in advocating the building of the new campus home for the U. of O. Masonic groups that is to be constructed at Fourteenth avenue and Kincaid street.

The visitor, in company with members of the Eugene Masonic lodge, discussed the plans for the new building which is expected to be ready within the next year.

VENETA BOY IS WINNER

GEORGE OWEN CHOSEN AS UNIVERSITY ORATOR

George E. Owen, a junior in the school of education, has been chosen as the University of Oregon representative at the peace oratorical contest to be held at Salem April 27. The successful orator lives at Veneta, Lane county.

Others who competed in the tryouts were May Penno and Ernest Henriksen. Faculty members who acted as judges were Professor Melvin T. Solve, of the English department; Professor Walter Barnes, of the history department, and Professor Justin Miller, of the law school. The peace oratorical contest is an activity in which Oregon colleges and universities are eligible to compete. A similar contest has been conducted in the eastern states for over ten years, but was started in Oregon during the war. After a few years of activity it was dropped and was not revived until last year. The university had no representative at the meet last year.

Two prizes are given for the best orations, a first prize of $75 and a second of $50. The contest somewhat differs from the other oratorical activities in that the orations are limited to 1,000 words and must be on the subject of peace.

PRICE TELLS OF ALASKA

EVANGELIST IS SPEAKER AT ROTARY LUNCHEON

Many interesting sidelights on law and order in Alaska were told to the members of the Eugene Rotary club yesterday by Dr. Charles S. Price, evangelist, at the noon luncheon of the organization. Dr. Price is a former attorney and was a member of the "floating court" which made periodic trips to the ports of Alaska to try cases. Dr. Price was attorney for the defense in the court which included all officials as there was but little legal organization at the places where the cases were tried, he stated.

The doctor also described other interesting incidents of his life as a chautauqua entertainer and as an evangelist.

CLUB TRAVELS BY BUS

UNIVERSITY GIRL SINGERS GO TO SOUTHERN OREGON

Will Appear at Medford, Roseburg, Glendale, Grants Pass and Cottage Grove

The women's glee club of the University of Oregon will visit southern Oregon during the spring vacation by auto instead of Southern Pacific train, according to announcement at the university. Ted Gilenwaters, manager of the club, has returned from that section of the state, making arrangements for the appearance of the club at Roseburg, Medford, Grants Pass, and Cottage Grove.

The club will leave Eugene Monday, April 2, and return April 7. Traveling by bus is distinctly a new idea. It is thought to be better than traveling by train for the reason that the members of the club will not be compelled to rise so early in order to meet their trains. Another feature of the bus trip is that short stops can be taken whenever it is desired, which will help eliminate the tediousness of the journey.

The alumni in each town have evinced considerable interest in the appearance of the glee club, Gilenwaters said, and are doing their part to make the trip a success. During his trip Manager Gilenwaters made special effort to secure the best places in towns in order to give the concert. The high schools in each of the towns booked for an appearance are conducting the ticket sales for the glee club.

Twenty-one girls will make the trip besides Mr. and Mrs. George Hopkins, who will chaperone the party.

The members discussed plans for the holding of an entertainment in the near future for the purpose of raising funds for the women's building at Mooseheart. This is the national children's home of the L. O. O. M. The Eugene legion members will be guests of the Corvallis chapter at an entertainment to be held at Corvallis next Tuesday evening. Members who desire to make the trip were requested to communicate with Mrs. George Wood, senior regent of the local chapter.

PRAYERS OF EVANGELIST

MANY OFFER TESTIMONY

Revivalist Announces That Service Is Largest That He Has Ever Conducted

Ninety-nine persons with physical ills of various descriptions were prayed for by Dr. Charles Price in the Eugene armory last evening. What he says is the largest healing service he has ever conducted. The wide platform was crowded with those lying "under the power" throughout almost all of the long service of nearly one and a half hours.

After praying for approximately 35 on the platform, Dr. Price and his helpers went down to the altar to pray for those physically unable to walk to the stage, and to others who came to him. At least 20 men were among those seeking divine healing last night, representing all ages from boys of infantile he with gray heads and bent bodies.

Many Respond to Call The altar call was responded to from all parts of the building as between 35 and 50 left their seats on the platform for their souls under the guidance of ministers and other altar workers.

When Dr. Price came back to the platform after praying for the sick near the altar, he announced he had prayed for 99 persons, the altar call was responded to by a loud applause from the audience.

A score or more from the audience and at least a dozen from the choir arose in testimony to their being healed during the present evangelistic campaign. A number of these told of their faith in his belief that they had been healed during this or other Price meetings.

One lady told of her physical troubles which had caused her considerable discomfort and declared she had been healed while sitting in the audience. "That sister didn't come to the platform to get hypnotized either," said Dr. Price when she had finished.

Voice Is Still Weak With voice still weak from cold the evangelist requested the people to remain as quiet as possible while he preached the sermon in order that all might hear. Preaching from Hebrews 7:25 on the text: "Wherefore he is able to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them," Dr. Price said:

"I do not believe there is any philosophy in the world that can ever regenerate the heart of a man. The Savior and he alone is able to save. And when I say saved, I mean saved from your sins not in them. There is not a condition in life," he continued, "represented in this building tonight that Jesus cannot meet, not tomorrow, but right now in this building."

"I believe in a Savior who is able to save to the uttermost," the evangelist reiterated several times, illustrating by citing cases where persons down and out had received strength and new hope from healings of the body or soul. "I am not asking you to follow an ideal, I am not asking you to follow a principle; I am asking you to follow a living, vital, throbbing Christ who comes into your life," said the speaker, attempting to prove his point that Christ is a living personality who affects men's lives today and is able to save to the uttermost.

Healing Is Discussed "In the olden days they said you could be healed of the body and not of the soul," Dr. Price told the audience. "Now they say you can be healed of the soul but not of the body. It is just turned around. I want to tell you Paul never enjoyed an experience I cannot enjoy," he continued in defense of his belief that all the promises of the Bible were just as binding today as they ever were.

In asking the audience to "give liberally as unto the Lord," Dr. Price told them the expenses of the campaign were more than $100 a day, and that all money received was handled by a local committee in a local bank. "The campaign will cost about $2000, less than the cost of a circus for one day," he said.

Dr. Price will preach tonight on the text "Lost and Restored."

REQUIREMENTS HIGHER

EXAMINATION FOR REVENUE ACCOUNTANT STIFF

Uncle Sam is raising still higher his requirements for internal revenue accountants. Announcement just issued by the civil service commission of an examination throughout the country on April 7 for auditor, income tax unit, which includes both auditors in Washington and agents in the field service, calls for four years' commercial accounting experience as a prerequisite to entrance to the written examination, which doubles the former experience requirement. Those who qualify in the examination are given an additional examination at government expense, and a preliminary work period under the supervision of experienced auditors. The government for those who have tax returns examined and taxes assessed by a body of thoroughly competent accountants, in order that the returns may be audited with speed and accuracy.
