STUDENT PLAY SUCCESS

E. H. S. HISTORY CLASSES PRESENT PAGEANT
Cast of 110 High School Pupils Take Part in Offering on Oregon History Tableau

Oregon history depicted in a pageant of four episodes with 110 students of the Eugene high school participating was presented last evening at the school auditorium as the closing event of the completion of the first six-weeks course of Oregon history which was this year required of all the state schools in addition to the American history work. The pageant was directed by Miss Gladys Conklin, P. E. Christensen and Miss Helen Burke and was adapted from material furnished by the students taking the history course. A crowd of several hundred witnessed the pageant and 44¢ was raised to be used in the purchase of books on Oregon history to be added to the school library.

The students taking part in the four episodes were dressed in costumes appropriate to the period representing in the historical story and the stage settings were designed to conform with the record. The presentation denoted the many weeks of study and the comprehensive knowledge of the history of Oregon that has been acquired by the students who, during the preparations for the event did considerable research work in order to obtain exact data on the life and times of the periods to be represented.

NOT TO PRINT NAMES

ORDER ARISING FROM BAD CHECK PRACTICE RESCINDED

The order calling for publication of names of University students issuing "n. a. f." checks, or the fining of credits toward graduation, has been suspended until June 1 by the student advisory committee. This puts to rest for the time the protest raised by the publication of a list of names a few days ago.

The interfraternity council, fraternally governing body, was first to make formal protest to the student advisory committee. In its resolution it stated that, although it realized the evil of carelessness in handling bank accounts, it considered the matter of a more private nature. The publication of names was held to be beyond the rights of the committee and the fining of hours was said to be unfair. The council offered to help in developing public opinion against the practice of writing such checks.

In its statement announcing suspension of the rule the advisory committee said that expressions such as that of the interfraternity council had been what it was looking for. With the moral force of the council, the Pan-Hellenic council, sorority governing body and the women's league, agitating against the writing of "n. a. f." checks the punishment would not be needed.

However the statement said conditions had been such that some sort of drastic measures were necessary.

Make her a Spring suit she will always remember

EVERY woman remembers some favorite costume of her girlhood days when clothes first began to count. Make your daughter such a suit. You will find the popular materials—homespun, flannel, serge, ratine, poplin, in all the new shades—at our piece-goods counter. And at our Butterick Pattern counter you will find not only the new styles in suits but in hats as well. The Deltor enclosed with each pattern will show you how to lay out, put together, and finish your garment. The Deltor for the jacket above, for instance, tells you with pictures and words how to get the tuck effect by using padding. And the Deltor for the young girl's hat shows you the right way to make and trim it.
