IN THE DAY'S NEWS

Day before yesterday the United States court of appeals, sitting at St. Paul, handed down a decision that is exceedingly important from every angle. Nationally, it means that so far as the railroads are concerned the transportation act of 1920 supersedes the Sherman act, which means in its turn that the interstate commerce commission can proceed with the task of consolidating the railroads of the country into a few large groups.

San Francisco, 7106 new passenger automobiles were registered in Oregon in the first three months of 1923 as compared with 2392 in the same period of 1922—or a little better than three times as many.

Governor Al Smith of New York tells the public at large with a large gesture of renunciation that he will not be a candidate for the Democratic nomination next year.

Down in Salem the other day they arrested a woman for dancing too close. It may be different with dancing, but in other ways "closeness" is a habit that is highly praised down Salem way.

Maybe those caterpillars were merely trying to get out of the coast country before the rains made the roads slippery.

The sooner it quits the finer this fine rain will be.

Earlier Days in Eugene

(From the Morning Register, June 13, 1904.) W. L. McFarland has opened a lodging house in his new building on Olive street between Eighth and Ninth.

A marriage license was issued Saturday to P. R. Hall and Maude Vaughan.

W. C. Conner, who has just sold the Cottage Grove Leader, is in the city.

Rev. O. C. Wright, of Eugene, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at the Drain normal school today.

Oren Howe, who is taking a business college course in Portland, is here to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Howe.

The district fair enterprise will be a go, thanks to the enterprising canvassing committee and the liberality of the business men.

Dr. C. W. Lowe, the oculo-optician, has just returned from New York.

Tuesday afternoon the Jolly Baker's Dozen met with Mrs. J. L. Marsh with Mrs. Kennedy and Miss Godchild as joint hostesses.

Rev. W. S. Gilbert arrived from Portland yesterday and will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at the university today.

The Eugene Blues returned from Roseburg, having won three out of the four games played there.

bandit leaders responsible for the outrage be seized and punished was made in behalf of the powers whose nationals were victims.

The entire trend of the negotiations made it clear that the Peking diplomats recognized the weak hold of any Chinese central government upon such a situation and that it was probable that only by buying the bandits off, as was done, could the lives of the captive foreigners be protected.

The same situation undoubtedly will have a bearing upon the negotiations for permanent guarantees now forecast.

BORAH ON HIS WAY HOME SENATOR SAYS HE WILL STAY IN PARTY FOLD

CHICAGO, June 12.—Senator William E. Borah was speeding toward his home in Idaho today after a brief stop in Chicago, where he made it clear that he does not expect to leave the fold of the Republican party for a third party.

He said he expected President Harding would be renominated for the presidency, but predicted that the President's world court plan would not be a campaign issue next year because he believed it would be defeated in the senate next winter.

The senator took the view that should President Harding be nominated on a dry ticket and the Democrats pick a wet candidate, other domestic issues would be overshadowed and declared that should the liquor problem take a commanding position he would be forced to stand by the eighteenth amendment.

WIZARD IS PROUD OF SON THOS. MILLER EDISON TO GET DEGREE IN COLLEGE

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 12.—Thomas A. Edison, who has been quoted as believing college graduates to be uninformed and ignorant white collar experts, was here today to watch his son, Thomas Miller Edison, receive a degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

For this college graduate, Mr. Edison said, there is a job waiting at the Edison plant without the preliminary mental test usually insisted on for candidates.

"My son is a physicist and mathematician and I am no mathematician," said the inventor. "If his mathematics are not too professional he can work with me, but if his mathematics shoot off in the Einstein direction, he will be practically no use at all."

Thomas Miller Edison said he would accept the job and attempt to show his father something about college men.

HORNBY DIVORCE NEAR JUDGE HOGAN TAKES PLEA UNDER ADVISEMENT

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 12.—The divorce suit of Mrs. Sarah E. Hornsby against Rogers Hornsby, champion batsman of the National League last season, was taken under advisement by Circuit Judge Hogan in domestic relations court after a hearing this afternoon which lasted nearly five minutes, and at the conclusion of which Judge Hogan announced the divorce was granted and the custody of Rogers, Jr., 2 1/2 years of age, would be awarded to Mrs. Hornsby but he immediately rescinded it by saying the decision had been announced inadvertently and that it must follow the rules of the court which provides that no divorce shall be granted in less than ten days after filing of the petition.

MASON HEAD RAPS KLAN GLAZE SAYS LODGE SHOULD BAR KLUXER MEETINGS

SIoux CITY, Iowa, June 12.—The flaying of the Ku Klux Klan by the grand master of the Iowa Masons, F. W. Glaze, of Oskaloosa was the feature of the opening session of the grand lodge of Iowa in Sioux City, today.

Glaze declared there was no excuse for the existence of the Ku Klux Klan and that the officers chosen by the people were the only persons who should enforce the law. He declared Masons ought not to give any aid to the clan and said that all clan meetings should be barred from the Masonic halls of Iowa.

the Bulgarian legation in London from Sofia since the revolt in Bulgaria have been three code messages regarding routine affairs.

Allied diplomats do not attempt to disguise their anxiety over the future course of events in Bulgaria. Information has reached London from Prague that Halko Baskaloff, former minister of commerce and the interior will assume the leadership of the agrarian parties if M. Stamboulsky is imprisoned or killed. M. Baskaloff is described as Bulgaria's second strongest man.

PEASANTS REBEL IN REVOLT Ex-Officials Mobilize Forces to Combat New Regime

BELGRADE, June 12.—Peasant revolts against the new Bulgarian regime are reported throughout the country, dispatches from Sofia say. Near Plovdiv the revolt has assumed serious proportions. It is declared, and a force of 10,000 is said to have been surrounded. Fresh troops have been dispatched there.

Dispatches say that the new government has ordered the mobilization of all reserve officers and of several young classes. Volunteers are being armed.

The dispatches confirm that former Premier Stamboulsky is not under arrest, but add that there is no news of his whereabouts.

Messages to newspapers here say the peasant revolt has been started by Alexander Boteff, former president of the Sobranje, and Nedelka Anthanasoff, former minister of communications, who have fled from the capital and raised a force of 7,000 peasants near Radomir, where fighting has occurred against the government troops. A rising among the inhabitants of villages east of the capital has been organized by Deputy Tomianoff.

It is rumored here that the Bulgarian minister at Prague, M. Baskaloff, is preparing to return to Bulgaria to help the agrarian party against the new government; also that former Premier Stamboulsky is preparing to march on the capital at the head of 20,000 peasants.

Regular session of Lodge No. 357 Wednesday, June 13th. A good attendance desired.

In the frequency with which Western athletes triumph over those of the East an Eastern writer of editorials sees proof that out here on the Pacific Coast a new race is arising that is gifted with a vitality and a frank enjoyment of the outdoors and outdoor sports that are suggestive of the ancient Greeks. It is unfortunately typical of the East of today that we of the great West should be looked upon curiously as the advance guard of a new race when as a matter of fact we are but the clean, unswollen remnant of the racial stock that made America. The East is getting so far away from that splendid original stock that it does not recognize it and bables wonderingly of new races.

The financiers and economists are talking a great deal these days of the dangers inherent in America's huge holdings of gold, and for the most part their discussions and their warnings are passing over Mr. Average Citizen's head. It is exceedingly hard for the man on the street to understand how too much gold can be a national menace, for he knows well enough that too much gold in his pockets could never endanger his financial future. Perhaps it would clear matters to explain that America's present holdings of gold are not permanent. They have been accumulated as the result of abnormal conditions, and as the world trade returns to normal these gold holdings will be drained away from us in perfectly natural ways. The danger is that we shall permit ourselves to get to thinking that these gold holdings are ours to keep forever and base our fiscal policies upon that hypothesis. If we do that we shall face a disastrous financial panic when our abnormal stocks of gold are reduced through the inevitable workings of natural law. The dangers of which the economists warn are not inherent in the gold itself but in the fact that its presence in this country in such large quantities is not permanent. The thing to be guarded against is the always dangerous delusion that we are richer than we really are.

According to figures gathered by the federal reserve bank of San Francisco, 7106 new passenger automobiles were registered in Oregon in the first three months of 1923 as compared with 2392 in the same period of 1922—or a little better than three times as many. In California 51,273 new passenger cars were registered in the first quarter of 1923 as compared with 25,827 in the same period of 1922—or an increase of a little better than two to one. It might do no harm if those who wall persistently that Oregon is busted and gone to the dogs while California is rich and happy would pause long enough in their lamentations to reflect that Oregon is increasing her purchases of automobiles approximately 50 per cent faster than California. Those new cars can't be bought without money.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

A Patty for Patricia My little daughter who needs such foods as rice and hominy, but does not fancy them, is beguiled by a dish we call brown patty. To a small dish of rice or hominy I add two eggs, beaten, a little butter and milk, or left-over gravy, and season. This I bake in a buttered dish until brown. It is nice, also, served with a thick tomato sauce.
