RITES HELD AT CRESWELL

REMAINS OF LITTLE ROBERT PARKER LAID TO REST

(Register Lane County Special)
CRESWELL, Ore., June 28.—The funeral of little Robert Parker, three-year-old son of Rev. Robert and Mrs. Parker, was held from the Methodist church Thursday morning. Presiding Elder Rev. D. C. Danforth, of Eugene, presiding and conducting the services at the church, assisted by Rev. Walters, pastor of the Methodist church of Eugene, and Rev. Bennett, pastor of the Methodist church at Drain, and Rev. J. L. Stratford, of Creswell.

The atmosphere of intense sympathy awaited the bereaved family as they entered the church from the parsonage, four girls, Miss Ruth Barnes, Miss Marie Ogram, Miss Thelma Howe and Miss June Moore, dressed in immaculate white tenderly carrying the casket that held the remains. A quartet consisting of Mrs. Irma Ogram, Mrs. Lois Emerson, H. H. Powers and Ed Weber, accompanied by Miss Florence Shaub, sang selections that were especial favorites.

rites of the little boy, being "Lead on, O Christ, the Everlasting Arms" and a song, "A Building Not Made with Hands." Most beautiful flowers had been tastefully arranged around the railing of the altar amid which the casket was placed during the services.

Rev. Walters made a prayer that came from his heart; Rev. Bennett read the nineteenth Psalm and Rev. Danforth gave a helpful comforting talk such as only he with his personal acquaintance with the family and his feeling could do. He simply helped Mr. and Mrs. Parker to stay fast with their faith which they were doing implicitly. The services were concluded at the grave in the Creswell cemetery where they were conducted by Rev. Walters.

What Will That New Car Be Worth Next Year?

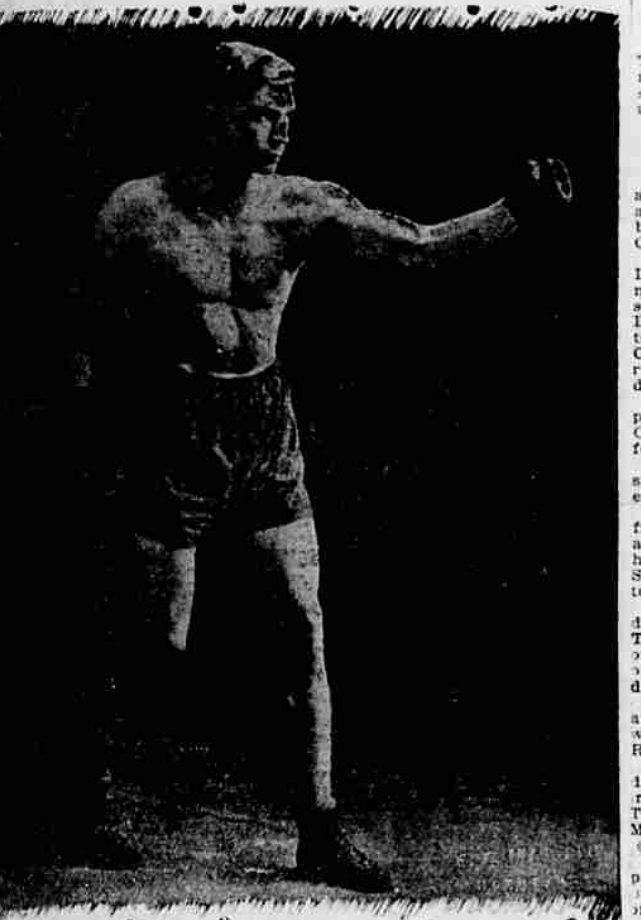

THE value of your car next year is almost entirely dependent on the lubrication you give it this year. We who are nearer the car business than you, can see that more easily. Whatever you drive, it's worth the best lubrication.

We sell and recommend Waverly, All Pennsylvania Motor Oils and Greases. We sell them because our patrons demand it—we recommend them because the motor demands it.

We know Waverly to be refined from Pennsylvania Grade Petroleum only. We are thus able to assure you that we are selling you an oil that is not 25%, not 50%, not 75%, but 100% paraffine. There are many so-called "Waverly" oils on the market which contain paraffine—and they are good of 25%—Waverly contains nothing else.
