Early Put
"I want a shave," said the determined looking man as he climbed into a chair in the Coliseum barber shop. "I don't want a haircut nor a shampoo. Neither do I want any bay rum, cold cream, hair tonic, hot towels or face massage. I don't want the manicure girl to hold my hand or the bootblack to fondle my feet. I just want a plain shave with no trimmings. Do you understand that?"
"Yes, sir," said the barber. "Will you have some lather on your face, sir?"—New York Evening Mail.

MOTOR TRIP REVEALS SPIRIT OF OPTIMISM

Rickenbacker Official Is Enthusiastic Tourist

FREEDOM OF ROAD LIKED

P. B. Smith here from Detroit to Establish Office in Eugene — Company Plans Expansion

A note of optimism for the whole automotive industry is sounded by P. B. Smith, fiscal agent for the Pacific Coast of the Rickenbacker Motor company, of Detroit. Mr. Smith has just arrived, via motor, from that place, and intends to establish an office in Eugene in the near future.

The greatest appeal that the automobile has is its sense of absolute freedom, says Mr. Smith. "A motorist is not held to any schedule. He can stop when and where he chooses, and his own pace takes as much or as little with him as he desires. In fact he is his own boss at all times."

And as a plain dollars and cents proposition, the automobile has come to stay. Men who conduct their own business, or men who value their time as they do money, have found that they cannot get along without a car.

"Recreationally, doctors have said that the motor car has been a big factor in saving thousands from consumption and similar diseases contracted from confinement. It has been an open sesame to outdoor life to thousands of children who would ordinarily know nothing but city streets as playgrounds."

Enthusiastic Over Prospects
Mr. Smith is also very enthusiastic over the future of his own company, the Rickenbacker Motor company. Headed by Captain E. V. Rickenbacker, a man whose name is a byword wherever motors are mentioned, the company first began production in March, 1919.

At that time it was the first automobile concern to show a profit in the first year of operation. The output of cars has grown from a production of 27 the first year to about $9 a day at the present time.

"And at that the firm is two years behind in orders. Our Australian representative offered to take our entire output for two years at least," said Mr. Smith.

Plans have been completed to double the present manufacturing facilities of the plant at Detroit, states Mr. Smith, and an assembly plant, probably at Oakland, California, will soon be established to care for Pacific Coast demands.

"Two of the greatest automotive engineering states in the history of the industry have been accomplished by Rickenbacker engineers," says Mr. Smith. "The double fly wheel for the motor has been a distinct step forward, and a great many companies are trying to adapt this innovation to their style of motors. The four-wheel brake has also been acclaimed the greatest improvement in the motor car in the last several years. The Rickenbacker not only has added these two remarkable improvements, but has perfected them so that they are integral, working parts of the machine."

Office Soon to Be Established
Mr. Smith describes his trip out by motor in very glowing terms. "Of course, everyone has heard of the joys of auto touring, and the story of the many scenic spots in this country has been told many times. Life is not complete without at least one real tour, and I intend to take several more just as soon as I can."

Eugene is seriously considered as a distribution point for sale of the cars, and the company will be Mr. Smith's headquarters for some time, he states, and an office will be established as soon as arrangements can be made.

At City Auto Camp

Attendance breaks record California city is lauded Texas man may settle here Dakota people in camp

After a soaking rain the day before, the auto camp basked in the warm sun yesterday, and upon its camping flats the cars were clustered thicker than ever before this year. "Tex" Parker, park superintendent, predicted that the night would break all records for attendance, and from now on the numbers are expected to increase steadily. Adequate facilities are available for all, however, announces the superintendent, and every tourist will be well taken care of.

"Sanger, at the end of the Rainbow" announces the banner on the back of the sedan in which Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Post and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hanford of that city are living. Sanger is declared to be the most progressive city in Fresno county, Cal., for Mr. Post says, "We can grow everything there, and our grapes and oranges are unequaled." The party has just returned from a six weeks' tour of the Northwest, during which the Yellowstone park and other scenic spots were included in the sight-seeing tour. "We've saved Oregon until last," says Mrs. Post, "just like dessert, you know!" They will stop at Crater Lake on the way south, after which they will hurry on down home to attend to their good business in the thriving city.

L. W. Leggett has brought his family up from Fort Worth, Texas, to the cool Northwest for a several weeks' trip. "It's been a bit too cool, though," says Mrs. Leggett, who had carefully scattered their bedding over the grass to dry. The family is proving quite an adventure to Leggett, who has just bobbed her hair, donned "pants" and is resolved to have as good a time as possible. Mr. Leggett likes this country fine, and after he visits a while in Olympia, Wash., he will decide to come home to live. "I'll give this place another look over on the way back," he states, "and then when I come again, I may bring the furniture."

Both North and South Dakota were represented at the park last night. J. C. Farnum has brought his family out from scenic, North Dakota. He admits, however, that his trip was a disappointment. "Nothing is around there but farms. You get the scenery coming and going from there," he says. A. C. Anderson, his wife and small son, have left Sioux Falls, South Dakota, and are not sure whether they will ever return to live or not. "Every place we go, we seem to like it better," they say, "so perhaps when we get home again we'll like that best after all." Both parties are bound for California, to test out the claims of the ads they have been reading about that country.

The record for long distant traveling goes to S. E. Myers and family, who just arrived last night from Philadelphia, Penn. They are out on all summer's outing, and after a spring California, are now intending to devote several weeks to the Northwest. All are well pleased with the trip, which so far has been enjoyed with a minimum of trouble. "Not a word of complaint from the trouble has bothered us," they say.

Geo. W. Crowder and family were feeling rather serious-minded last night, for they came along near Tangent just a few minutes after the wreck at that place yesterday. The train scattered the big Klekwick bus along the track for some distance, the said "We'll certainly stop, look and listen whenever we come to a crossing from now on," they said soberly. The Crowders have been very lucky, themselves, they say, for not over a puncture a week marred their trip down from Spokane. They intend to go to Tia Juana, Mexico, and return in about three weeks.

Other parties enjoying the many conveniences of the camp last night included Walter Hartman and family, from Orange, California; J. W. Zane, from Bellingham, Wash.; W. S. Rankin, from San Jose, Cal.; S. S. Dwyer, from Walla Walla, and L. J. Smith from Seattle, Wash.

Reverend A woman entered a theater recently, and happened to take seat in front of a newly married couple. She was scarcely seated before they began making remarks about her. Her last year's hat and cloak were criticized with more or less giggling on the bride's part, and there was no telling what might have come next if the woman had not put a stop to the conversation by a bit of clever strategy.

She turned her head, noticed that the bride was considerably older than the groom and in smooth tones said: "Mildam, will you please ask your son to remove his feet from the back of my chair?"—The Daily Mail (Melbourne, Australia).

A Perfect Excuse
The little girl had thrown a stick at her sister, a year or two her senior. "Katherine," said daddy, "did you throw that stick at your sister?" "Yes, daddy," was the defiant reply. "Why did you do it?" "Because," instantly replied the youngster, with her eyes flashing, "afterwards she hit me."—The Argus.

Extra-Ladylike
The Actor—"Have you special terms for actors, madam?" The Landlady—"Yes, I have; but I hope I'm too much of a lady to use them."—Sydney Bulletin (Australia).

Home Beautifying

The principles of Proper Planting we have mastered through years of study and work growing shrubs and perennial flowers and vines so that they differ in height. All can be seen with intermingling effect with their bloom, coming at different seasons, and they are always interesting. Let us give your house that final touch that changes it into a home. Landscape Planting is a frame for the picture, the artistic setting which is to be created. Shrubs or trees are indispensable, the idea being to have the things harmonize with the surroundings so that the impression will be comfortable and homelike.

If you need any assistance in producing an artistic effect our landscape department is at your command. Thank you, Eugene, we are busy far beyond our fondest hopes. We just finished work for Mr. Walters, of Springfield—lawn and sunken rose garden, foundation planting around house. We are furnishing plans for Mr. Prescott's new home in University Heights.
