Efficient Men

—need the fullest in all their faculties, of which good eyesight is probably the most important. Poor eyesight, while it is a common failing, is by law of compensation also the most easily corrected of any of the senses' deficiencies.

Why go through life with this handicap? Why let deficient vision hamper your progress and business success? Why let eyestrain give you headaches and upset your nervous system when we can correct your vision so completely and at such trifling expense? We charge nothing for examination. If you do not need glasses we will tell you so, and you owe us nothing. If you need glasses only for reading or close work, we will diagnose your case competently and correctly.

And we will supply a definite degree of becomingness and refinement in the glasses we supply, whether they be eyeglasses, spectacles or bifocals.
