BIG HIKE IS PLANNED

SUMMER SCHOOL STUDENTS GO TO HORSE PASTURE

Scenery Along Trail from Horse Creek Bridge to Top of Mountain Beautiful

Announcements are out for the biggest outdoor feature of the university summer session—the three-day trip to Horse Pasture mountain, near the headwaters of the McKenzie river, July 27, 28 and 29.

It is announced from the office of John F. Bovard, dean of physical education, in charge of the hike, that not more than 20 persons, nor fewer than 15, can be taken on this trip, and that all must sign up at the office of the school of physical education, not later than 12:30 of Wednesday, July 25.

The entire cost of the trip, it is announced, will be $12.50 for each person; $5 payable on registration and the remainder before noon of Friday, July 27.

The party will leave Friendly hall, south entrance, at 5:30 p. m. Friday, July 27, in automobiles. The drive will be made 56 miles up the McKenzie to camp at Horse Creek bridge, between McKenzie bridge and Foley Springs. Here there will be a campfire, with talks and stunts.

Scenery Is Beautiful
The next day, after a breakfast at 6:15, the party will start promptly at 7 for Horse Pasture trail. Each person will carry his own lunch and tin cup. The trail, those interested are informed, winds through the woods for seven miles, with a splendid view at various points. Lunch will be taken at noon at Saddle, near an excellent cold-water spring. Resuming the climb at 1 p. m., the party will reach the top of Horse Pasture by 3:30. On the summit, 6500 feet high, a magnificent view of the entire Cascade range and McKenzie gorge is laid out before the observer. Descent will be started at 4:30, along the summit trail to Saddle and a shorter trail, back to camp, via Avenue creek, Canyon creek, and Foley Springs. It is planned to reach Foley by 6 p. m. Here half an hour will be allotted for a swim in the tank or for hot baths. A two-mile hike back to camp, then supper. The members of the party will have hiked 16 miles during the day.

Least Hike Is Objective
Sunday, after a 6:30 breakfast, the party will start in autos at 8 for Lost Lake trail. The cars will carry the party 12 miles farther up the McKenzie highway to Alder Springs. From there will be made a one-mile hike to Lost Lake, across interesting lava beds. The party is expected to reach the lake at 11:30, leaving at 3 o'clock. The start home in the autos will be made from Alder Springs half an hour later. Supper will be eaten at the "big bend" at 5:30 and at 7 o'clock the start for Eugene will be made, with the expectation of reaching Eugene at 9:30.

Specific directions are given by the management of the trip as to what to take along. Following is the list:

1. Bedding, plenty of it. "We sleep out on the ground." Canvas to protect bedding from ground or to cover sleeper in case of rain. Sleeping-bag would be just the thing.
2. Such toilet articles as each hiker deems necessary.
3. Hobnail shoes—absolutely necessary.
4. Extra socks and a pair of slippers or tennis shoes to wear around the campfire after the hike.
5. Extra sweater or coat to put on in the evening.
6. Swimming suit, for each one who cares to swim in the lake.

World-famous swimming coach says: "my swimmers all wear Jantzen's"

Wm. Bachrach, coach of the Illinois Athletic Club, gives his opinion of Jantzen—the national swimming suit—in the above excellent testimonial. He's the man who developed Johnny Weissmuller, new world's wonder, and dozens of other celebrated swimmers. It means something when he endorses the Jantzen!

For the swimmer, there's no suit like the Jantzen. Jantzen-stitch is a pure worsted fabric with the elasticity of rubber. It fits snugly to the body, giving utmost freedom of movement, yet is always trim and modest. Let us show you the classic features of this popular swimming suit—the bow trunk, insuring perfect fit, non-slip crotch, rubber button and the Jantzen-stitch.

Next week is National Jantzen Week. We will be one of the leading stores, from Maine to Manila, who will have a special display of Jantzen. Come early and make your choice while our assortment is complete. We have all the fashionable 1923 colors—brilliant reds, beautiful blues, black, greens, tobaccos, beiges. Buy one for that trip over the Fourth. All sizes for men, women, youths and children.
