ADAMS AT REEDSPORT

INSPECTS HAIBOR AT MOUTH OF UMPQUA RIVER

Tells People There That He Is Not Aspirant for Congressional Place

REEDSPORT, Ore., Aug. 20.—E. J. Adams, of Eugene, secretary to United States Senator Robert Stanfield, was in Reedport Saturday, getting first-hand information on the proposed Umpqua jetty project.

Mr. Adams commented highly on President Coolidge's ability to give the country a good administration and accomplish results of material benefit to the nation.

Questioned as to whether he will be a candidate for congress Mr. Adams said: "No I am not thinking of becoming a candidate for congress or any other office; neither am I looking for a federal appointment; I get great satisfaction in helping do constructive things for Oregon, and the position of secretary to Senator Stanfield affords many opportunities along this line. I shall never be a candidate for any office just for the honor of holding that office. If there should come a time when I feel that by holding some office I can do some large, substantial constructive thing for the state that I could not do as well without the office, I may offer my name to the people for their consideration and tell them about what I intend to do. Until the time comes if it ever does, my name will not appear on any ballot as candidate for office."

Mr. Adams was honor guest at a banquet held at the Winchester hotel attended by many of the business men and their wives.

Mr. Adams sees a splendid future for Reedport because of its potential wealth and the aggressiveness and foresight of its business men.

Uncle Sam will start AIRPLANE MAIL TODAY

PLANES START FROM FRISCO AND FROM NEW YORK

Flying to California for Five Days as Test to Determine Whether Service Will Be Permanent

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Uncle Sam's first airmail service, his most audacious attempt at delivering transcontinental mail in record time.

From New York a plane will fly its way westward, bound for San Francisco. The San Francisco airmail will speed eastward for New York. The aircraft will pass one another in the center of the continent if plans carry.

For five days the country will have this aerial express mail service. After that test, Uncle Sam will decide whether daily transcontinental flights are to become mere routine and mail plane service from Atlantic to Pacific can be made permanent.

The flying schedule, approved tonight calls for 20 hours elapsed flying time on the westbound trip and 25 on the eastbound. The two-hour difference represents the effect of the prevailing western winds as expected to have on an airplane at this time of year.

Cleveland, Chicago, Omaha, Cheyenne, Salt Lake City and Reno are the principal cities at which the mail planes will alight to re-fuel or shift pilot and machine and cargo.

Night Flying Scheduled

The only night flying will be between Chicago and Cheyenne. This piece of the course will be lit with electric lights, with innumerable buoys and even more powerful lighthouses to guide the plane through darkness, fog and storm.

Postmaster Morgan announced that postage would be two cents an ounce or fraction thereof during the five-day test. Only letters specially addressed "via air mail" would be accepted, he said.

Everything was in readiness tonight for the hop-off from New York.

The air mail service reported today that in five million miles of flight with cargo up to July 1 there was only one fatality. The percentage of efficiency was 98, according to a postoffice official who compared the record of the air mail with that of one of the largest railroad carriers which operated its passenger trains only 83 per cent on schedule during the same period.

WAGE RATES DISCUSSED

CHECK-OFF PROBLEM SET ASIDE AT ATLANTIC CITY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 20.—Wage rates in the anthracite industry were the chief topic of discussion before today's session of the railroad joint negotiations of mine operators and union officials.

By common consent both groups set aside the question of check-off for union dues and union recognition which blocked previous attempts at a settlement.

They were in no degree advanced toward a common viewpoint when adjournment was taken tonight, but the topic open for more discussion tomorrow.

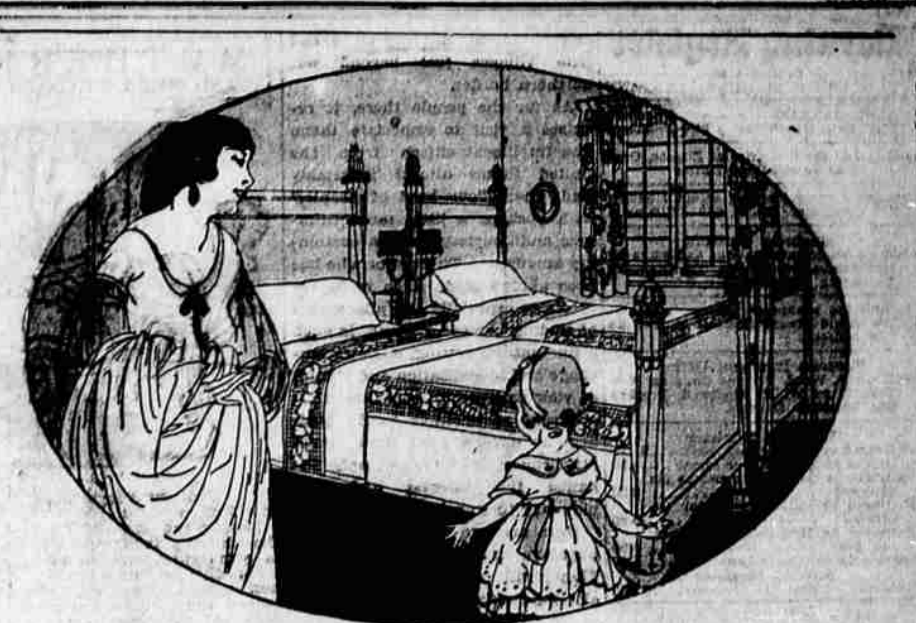

The United States coal commission, which induced the industry's leaders to meet again in spite of their deadlock, was given a report of the day's transactions.

The Biggest Surprise of Your Life

YOU will be surprised and delighted with the wonderful lustre your sheets, pillow cases, table-cloths and napkins have after being starched with Linit, the remarkable new starch discovery.

Linit penetrates the fabric, prolongs its life, helps prevent wear, and gives a soft, cool, pliable finish that makes even the most ordinary cotton goods look and feel like expensive linen.

New Starch Discovery

THIS remarkable starch is made by an improved process that keeps it fluid after it cools. You are never troubled with clotting, smearing or "blistering." Linit penetrates every thread of the fabric, helps prevent wear, and strengthens the material. You will find it a hundred per cent easier to iron with Linit.

And your Linit-starched garments remain clean and fresh much longer.

Important to you

AFTER Linit is thoroughly dissolved according to directions, and ready for use, you will notice it is THIN and FREE-RUNNING LIKE WATER—with a "milky" appearance. Be sure to use Linit according to directions, and unlike other starches, you will not find Linit stiff or jelly-like. This is one reason why Linit goes much further than the old-fashioned kind of starches.
