ART DISPLAY IS PLEASING

AWARDS ANNOUNCED BY MISS LILLIAN AULD, MANAGER

Variety of Entries Includes Water Color Scenes, Oil Paintings and Photos

Awards in the art section, which this year, under the direction of Miss Lillian Auld, was said to be the most beautiful ever exhibited at a county fair, were announced yesterday. Several artists of marked ability competed in the displays, says Miss Auld, and one of them, Miss Kate Christensen, was induced to come to the university to study further in this line. Miss Christensen took first and second prizes in pastel work.

An entire corner was devoted to paintings and drawings, and another section of the building was filled with artistic rugs and other woven articles, and both displays were given a great deal of praise by art critics and others who saw them.

The awards in this division were announced as follows: Pastel, first and second, Kate Christensen; photographs, special, first prize, Mrs. J. D. Hamlin; water color paintings, first, Mrs. O. J. Eldson; copy of heads, George Carson; portrait from photo, Sophie M. Jensen; oil copy work, Juniors, Irene Moeller; original sketches, John Berger; Oriental art, original, Nellie Blankenship; hand lettering, original, Mrs. G. E. Lehman; landscape, Sophie M. Jensen; oil paintings, original, Amy Carson Phillips. It is expected that many examples that are on exhibit here will also be sent to the state fair at Salem next week, where they are expected to win awards in the state competition.

The rug collection, which includes examples of this art from many sections of the world, was said to be one of the most complete collections of its kind in the state. A weaving machine was also shown and its operation explained to those interested.

FARM RELIEF PROMISED

COOLIDGE AND ADVISERS TO TAKE UP PROBLEMS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—President Coolidge and his advisers will be energetically occupied for the next ten days in seeking a solution of the situation confronting agriculture in the west, Senator Borah said tonight after an hour's conference with the executive at the White House.

Senator Borah said the question of calling an extra session of congress to deal with the situation was discussed but added that he was entirely in agreement with the President that "we ought to undertake to determine upon a remedy and define a program before an extra session is called."

"If we cannot find a remedy before such a session," the senator said, "we probably could not find one afterwards."

Senator Borah told the President he regarded the whole agricultural situation west of the Mississippi as serious as any within his recollection or in his reading on the subject.

ALL-METAL PLANES WILL ATTEMPT RELAY TO POLE

MILLION MILES OF THE POLAR BASIS TO BE EXPLORED

Many Good Landing Places Found in Spitzbergen During Trial Arctic Flights

SEATTLE, Sept. 19.—Captain Roald Amundsen's plans for an airplane flight across the North Pole from Spitzbergen to Alaska next summer contemplate the use of three all-metal planes in relay, he announced today following a conference with Haakon H. Hammer, his business representative. An attempt to fly from Wainwright, Alaska, to Spitzbergen last summer was frustrated by an accident to the explorer's airplane in a test flight.

Captain Amundsen explained today that the purpose of the proposed flight was not to create a non-stop record in the Polar regions, but that its sole object was exploration—to discover what lay within the one million square miles of the unexplored Polar basin. Mr. Hammer, who made several flights northward from Spitzbergen last year, said that while he had found no new lands, he did discover that many islands shown on maps and charts in reality did not exist.

MONTAG COLONIAL FURNACES

There's a MONTAG Colonial Furnace Dealer in your Town

MONTAG COLONIAL PIPE AND FURNACES

THERE'S a MONTAG dealer in your town. He is ready and willing to explain how the MONTAG Colonial Furnace brings greater heat satisfaction with lower fuel cost.

Ask him to show you the fuel saving Montag OVAL FIREPOT that burns all kinds of fuel with equal heating satisfaction. It is one of the outstanding features of modern furnace construction. Its large size and oval shape enables large chunks of wood or coal to be used, thereby requiring less attention in firing than with firepots of less capacity.

Ask him about the high-grade materials and heavy construction which make MONTAG Colonial Furnaces stand the test.

And the natural way in which MONTAG Colonial Furnaces, by circulation, evenly heat every room in the home.

Go right down to the MONTAG Colonial dealer and talk over your heating problem with him. Ask him for the illustrated folder showing the various types and sizes of MONTAG Colonial Furnaces, and their advantages.

Remember that MONTAG Colonial Furnaces are made in the West for Western fuel and Western climate; for city and country homes already built, and homes under construction.
