HOLDUP WAS "INSIDE JOB" Haffey Believes Murdered Men Recognized Bandits, Were Shots

HILLS, Cal., Oct. 12.—The hold-up of the San Francisco express by a bandit gang near here yesterday, in which three members of the train crew and a railroad mail clerk were killed, was an "inside job," according to a statement today by N. Haffey, of Dunsmuir, route agent for the American Express company.

It developed today that some one unknown to the remainder of the crew jumped into the Klamath cab in which Engineer Bates had been murdered and pulled the blazing mail car out to a point where it could be easily extinguished.

Reward Offered For Bandits SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—A sawed-off shotgun, a pistol and a small electric battery were found in the vicinity of the holdup of the San Francisco express of the Southern Pacific company near Siskiyou, Oregon, yesterday. It was reported here today by the company that the train, more than five hours late, is due in Oakland about 12 noon.

The company has placed a reward of $2500 on the head of each of the bandits. Company agents are actively assisting in the search for the bandits in the thickly wooded hills around the robbery scene.

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Oct. 12.—After a day of parades and sight seeing visits to the Klamath Falls railroad celebration marking actual construction on the Eugene-Klamath Falls line to right revived the days of the early west, when they attended the historical pageant, "The Passing of the Covered Wagon."

Old time Klamath Indian scouts who served under Captain C. C. Applegate of Klamath Falls in the Mexico war—Mike Weeks, Captain Sly, Lion Heart, Erick Jim, Jim Dewase, Jim Cowan and Charley Cowan—performed their tribal dances in regalia.

Present Day Is Enacted The coming of the railroad under present day development and a special train and cars were driven across the big outdoor stage and the most modern logging devices loaded on a flat car in record time with the aid of a picked crew of Klamath loggers.

Special cars of excursionists from Eugene and Medford came in with the Portland delegation this morning.

Two California excursion trains arrived one hour after the Portlanders with a big delegation of business men.

Tomorrow visiting excursionists and a train for the convenience of the local people will go to Kirk, 45 miles north of Klamath Falls and the present terminus of the Pacific line, where a silver spike will be driven and a celebration at the commencement of work on the Klamath lake line to Eugene held.

was being found for six. Except for Stengel, only one Giant got as far as second base.

Joe Bush Finishes Game Caught back the eighth inning after that crushing blow, Jones displayed his mettle by striking out Bancroft and Groh in succession but he was withdrawn in favor of a pinch hitter in the Yankee half of that inning when Higgins directed his last desperate, but futile attack. Joe Bush, victim of Stengel's homer in the first game, held the Giants hitless in the ninth.

Facing the first real crisis of the series, John McGraw played his ace, Neff, and the nerveless little southpaw came through with flying colors. His work was only slightly less effective than that of Jones. Three times he faced serious threats by the Yankees and on each occasion he rose to the emergency and on a back hit, he, in only one inning, the fifth, did the Yanks gather more than one hit off Neff. He issued three passes, two of them purposely to Ruth, and each time the strategy, unpopular though it was to the crowd that wanted to see the Babe "bust 'em" was vindicated.

For today, the elemental encounter between "brute force" and "master mind"—typified by Babe Ruth and McGraw—was in the background. It was the crowd's return to apply the punch again with Stengel to decide a pulse throbbing duel, but the Babe, hero of yesterday was largely eliminated from the picture, though not of his own choosing. Ruth was ready to carry on where he left off in the second game, but he was given scant opportunity.

Nehf Eliminates Babe Ruth Such of McGraw's strategy as came to the surface today was designed to eliminate Ruth from the danger zone and it was done by Nehf with neatness and dispatch. Twice the Babe came to the bat with prospective runs on the bases, one in the fourth when Joe Dugan started the inning with a double and a single, and again in the eighth when he was up with two men on base. Meusel failed. This time he flared out to Stengel to take the lead.

Yanks Stage Dangerous Rally The inning before, the seventh, saw the most dangerous rally of the Yankees, a sortie that was checked by a sparkling play by Heinie Groh, the most brilliant of the game for a delay in which his ankle was bandaged and he limped from the field, Schang sent Ward to second with a single to left.

Scott caught one of Nehf's curves for a wicked smash down the third base line. Groh lined, somehow clutched the ball and then lunged forward, fielder and runner reaching the bag simultaneously. It seemed, but Groh was there first by just the fraction of a second necessary to make the putout and end the inning.

Scott and Shawkey Slated Jack Scott and Bob Shawkey are expected to take the mound in alternate half innings tomorrow when the Giants and Yankees meet in the fourth game of the world's series at the Polo Grounds.

Shawkey is the veteran of the Yankee pitching staff and the only member of that staff not imported from the old Boston Red Sox.

In the event that McGraw finds Scott unready, "Boss" Ryan appears the likely substitute. Waite Hoyt, who was batted out of the box in the first game, will be ready to serve them up should Shawkey fall, manager Higgins said.

WOMAN CLEAR OF CHARGE

MARJORY HUTTON ACQUITTED BY COURT JURY R. Z. Evans at Same Time Found Guilty of Unlawful Possession of Liquor

R. Z. Evans was found guilty by a jury in the justice court yesterday of unlawful possession of liquor but Marjory Hutton, who was jointly accused with Evans and J. C. Wray, was acquitted.

Evans, Wray and Miss Hutton were arrested by Deputy Sheriff Van Svarverud and Constable John L. Marsh a few nights ago with a keg of booze in the car in which they were riding. Wray pleaded guilty and is now serving time in the county jail but Evans and Miss Hutton declared they know nothing of the liquor in the car.

Evans testified that he and Miss Hutton had been riding in his car that night and picked Wray up on the street. Wray suggested, he testified, that they drive down the lane that leads to the covered bridge where the liquor was taken on and that when they came to another car in the road they stopped and Wray got out but that he (Evans) knew nothing of any liquor transaction. Miss Hutton testified that she would not have gone in the car with the men had she known that any liquor was to be taken aboard. She said that she never drinks.

Mrs. Horn, who lives near the bridge, testified that numerous cars had for a number of weeks prior to the arrest of this trio been driven to this bridge and stopped and on a particular occasion had made many trips there. One day she took down the license number and it proved to be the new Overland in which Wray, Evans and Miss Hutton were riding that night.

The story, which was out about half an hour, consisted of I. S. Day, J. T. Genn, Mrs. Lizzie Daniel, T. A. Stivers, C. P. Devereaux and A. W. Brumwell.

Clyde N. Johnston appeared for the defense and Howard M. Brownell defended the accused.

FROSH-SOPH MIX TODAY HISTORIC BATTLE TO BE ON KINCAID FIELD AT 10

The freshman-sophomore class mix, one of the most interesting of athletic events, will take place today at 10 o'clock on Kincaid field. Plans for the clash have been in preparation for the past week, and some surprises in the line of events are expected from both classes.

The usual events will be held, with the historic cane rush, tug of war, tie-up contests, the bag rush, and many real tests of strength are expected in these events. The whole affair will be "square," the seniors, who will be in charge, declare, and spectators will be assured a fair meet.

Although this event has been held annually for many years, the freshman class has never yet come out ahead, and today the second year men are determined to uphold the tradition against all odds.

Special features will be the shaving of all mustaches, and a parade of the senior "cops." A yelling contest by the "under-class" men, and a singing contest by the girls will also count points in the mix, and a full attendance of both classes is expected.

TOURISTS STILL COMING NO PLANS YET MADE FOR CAMP CLOSING

Patronage of the Eugene municipal auto camp continues good and no plans have as yet been made as to when the park will be closed for the season, according to F. M. Wilkins, chairman of the park board. Last year the camp was closed about the middle of November, but the closing date this year will depend upon the winter conditions and the number of tourists that are coming in, Mr. Wilkins states.

The auto park, both in point of income and number of tourists, has been a big success and the best year yet, according to the park official. The camp has been maintained in first class condition and many appreciative comments from the visiting motorists are proof that the municipal park is a big asset to the city, Mr. Wilkins says.

OREGON KNIGHTS ELECT ORGANIZATION WILL ASSIST AT ALL GAMES

Thirteen students, members of the freshman class, were yesterday elected to the organization of Oregon Knights, the university chapter of intercollegiate knights. Other chapters of the organization are located in the University of Washington, Washington State college, Oregon Agricultural college, University of Idaho, University of California and University of Iowa.

Those elected yesterday were Harry Haines, Fred Lockwood, Kelly, Th. Brown, Sam Herring, Alvin Snyder, c 3 0 0 5 0 0 Nehf, p 3 0 1 0 1 0

ROAD WORK SEEMS SLOW CUSHMAN-FLORENCE PROJECT NOT YET FINISHED

People at Reedsport Furnishing Rock Are Believed—Other Work Is Progressing

The graveling of the Cushman-Florence road will not be completed for a month yet, according to word received by P. M. Morse, county engineer, yesterday. C. E. Mercer, of this city, is going ahead with the work as rapidly as he can, with the work as rapidly as he can, with the engineer, but the people who are supplying the gravel by rail from Reedsport are slow.

J. D. Sawyer, assistant state highway engineer, also took the place of C. McLeod, who was here yesterday on the way north. He told Engineer Morse that A. D. Kern and company, who have the contract to surface the low road over the strata, have promised to string enough rock along so that the road will be passable during the winter, but the surfacing job will not be completed until some time next year.

The work of graveling the Danabrook road between the Crow road and the railroad crossing near the new I. O. O. F. cemetery, west of Eugene, will be finished in a day or two, said the county engineer. This project includes the patching of the remainder of the Elmira road. This is a market road project.

STATE FARMERS COMING UNION CONCLAVE TO MEET HERE IN DECEMBER

Tentative arrangements for the annual conclave of the Farmers' Union of Oregon which will be held in Eugene for three days starting Tuesday, December 11, are already under way, according to H. C. Jackson, state organizer for the union, who is now conferring with various units of the state in regard to the session. Mr. Jackson states that Charles S. Barrett, of Atlanta, Georgia, national head of the Farmers' union, will be in Eugene to attend the meetings, according to preliminary plans.

The union organizer predicts that the conclave here will be the largest in point of number of delegates and visitors ever to be held in Eugene. About 1500 will be here, according to present estimates, he states.
