

GENERAL WHITE HERE

COMMANDER BANQUETS WITH LOCAL GUARDSMEN Silver Cup Presented to Company C for Having Most Qualified Men on Range

It isn't often that the "company clerk" gets a chance to sit down to a meal of army beans with a brigadier general, but that's what happened last night at the annual banquet given by the local guardsmen when General George A. White came here to be entertained and to present a silver cup to Company C.

In the same mess hall with perhaps 150 local national guardsmen, General White sat with other officers of the Eugene post and ate his share of the banquet that has been prepared for him. This followed an entertainment that was versatile and typical of soldier humor.

General White conferred with Major G. W. White, post commander, and other guard officers when he arrived in Eugene last night.

Prior to the period of entertainment the troops were drawn up in company front to pay respect to the honored visitor. This was a brief and informal review, after which the citizen-soldiers were turned loose to witness the program, while some went to the mess hall and aided in the preparations there.

In presenting the silver cup to the company clerk, General White said: "You are the backbone of the post. It is your duty to see that the post is kept in the best of condition and that the men are well equipped and well trained."

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

General White then presented the silver cup to Company C for having the most qualified men on range.

DELEGATES ARRIVE TODAY

500 HIGH SCHOOL OFFICIALS EXPECTED AT CONFERENCE

Delegates for the annual High School Editors Press association and the Student Body Presidents association of the state are expected to arrive today on the university campus and continue to register at the headquarters in the woman's building until the sessions start on Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

Over 500 delegates are expected at the two meetings according to letters from schools with practically every high school in the state sending from two to five representatives.

Carl Dahl has charge of the entire program of the conference and is supervising the committees who will take care of the details. Ralph Stanley is in charge of the big problem of housing.

In a meeting of the inter-fraternity council held last night to discuss the plans for the conference the houses on the campus pledged themselves to house the guests of the university. The delegates will be apportioned equally among the houses on the campus.

"Twenty thousands high school students all over the state will be reached by the reports of the 500 high school editors, student body presidents, girls' league members and advisors," said Walter Malmgren, president of the Association of Student Body Presidents of the conference committee last night.

The annual style show, feature of the program for the visiting delegates, will be given at the Guld hall at 9:45. Catherine Strupler is chairman of the event. The program will include the following: style showings.

Prologue, Jane Bodine; coats, Helen Cantine; school dresses, Harriet Deszendorf; informal dresses, Elizabeth Nash; linens, May Acle Barr; formal dresses, Lois Beth Seffern; Frances Morgan has charge of the stage settings, Lean Ross, publicity and Maxine Leander, music. The Oregon Tourist Knights will conduct a tour of the campus, escorting delegates through all the buildings, art museums and laboratories.

No official action was taken last night, but the visiting officials were so enthusiastic over the meeting that in the opinion of local enforcement officers, at least one more meeting of this kind, would be called in six months.

One of the important problems in the state game department said Deputy Game Warden E. M. Brown, is securing the payment of fines in local justice courts. A total of $17,000 in unpaid fines are still on the books in this state, he declared.

The importance of securing ample evidence well substantiated was stressed by Deputy Sheriff Fringes of Skiyay county, Cal., while Sheriff Hawkins of Klamath county, declared the meeting of such importance that he would favor similar meetings two or three times a year, and invited the delegates to meet at Klamath Falls next time.

No official action was taken last night, but the visiting officials were so enthusiastic over the meeting that in the opinion of local enforcement officers, at least one more meeting of this kind, would be called in six months.

Following the second group, Miss Case received a huge armload of letters from Eugene admirers and behind their glowing miss she resembled nothing so much as a full-blown rose as she thanked her welcoming audience with a dazzling smile.

The final group was made up of attractive compositions in English, and as every audience knows, these are always the highest favorites. Miss Case herself almost seems to love them most of all, and she sings them with a gay abandon and verve that carry her listeners with her.

She has such a thoroughly chatty little way of talking, and she is so dear to her audience, that she seems to let you in on all the fun. One has an almost irresistible impulse to lean toward her and laugh back.

Another thing which added greatly to the interest and pleasing quality of this group was the sympathy and quiet of Max Jaffe's work as accompanist.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

OFFICERS HAVE BANQUET

CLOSER CO-OPERATION ASKED FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT

MEDFORD, Ore., Dec. 1.—Thirty-five law enforcement officers from southern Oregon and northern California, gathered at a banquet here last night, and pledged themselves to a closer co-operation in an effort to reduce crime and increase the efficiency of law enforcement.

Circuit Judge C. M. Thomas, acted as toastmaster and sounded the keynote of the meeting in stressing the importance of closer co-operation between the various districts in this part of the coast.

He was followed by State Game Warden Averill, who laid emphasis on the importance of law enforcement, declaring the most important work in his department is the education of the sportsmen to realize that law observance, like charity, is the best way to success.

Mr. Averill declared fish and game are responsible for 80 per cent of the tourist travel to this state, and predicted that within a short time many more tourists will be reserved for game fishing only.

One of the important problems in the state game department said Deputy Game Warden E. M. Brown, is securing the payment of fines in local justice courts. A total of $17,000 in unpaid fines are still on the books in this state, he declared.

The importance of securing ample evidence well substantiated was stressed by Deputy Sheriff Fringes of Skiyay county, Cal., while Sheriff Hawkins of Klamath county, declared the meeting of such importance that he would favor similar meetings two or three times a year, and invited the delegates to meet at Klamath Falls next time.

No official action was taken last night, but the visiting officials were so enthusiastic over the meeting that in the opinion of local enforcement officers, at least one more meeting of this kind, would be called in six months.

Following the second group, Miss Case received a huge armload of letters from Eugene admirers and behind their glowing miss she resembled nothing so much as a full-blown rose as she thanked her welcoming audience with a dazzling smile.

The final group was made up of attractive compositions in English, and as every audience knows, these are always the highest favorites. Miss Case herself almost seems to love them most of all, and she sings them with a gay abandon and verve that carry her listeners with her.

She has such a thoroughly chatty little way of talking, and she is so dear to her audience, that she seems to let you in on all the fun. One has an almost irresistible impulse to lean toward her and laugh back.

Another thing which added greatly to the interest and pleasing quality of this group was the sympathy and quiet of Max Jaffe's work as accompanist.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

LEAGUE GETS DISPUTE

CHILEAN GOVERNMENT OPPOSES PERSHING'S ACT

(By The Associated Press) GENEVA, Dec. 1.—The Tacna-Arica affair between Chile and Peru, which has been the subject of a League of Nations tribunal, suddenly entered the portals of the league of nations today, when Senor Valdes Mendive, Chilean minister, presented a memorandum, signed by Eric Drummond, secretary general, which is considered a protest against General Pershing for retaining the holding of a plebiscite in the two South American provinces.

Hazen said he had intended to deliver the liquor to local bootleggers, but was thwarted in his purpose.

Hazen has paid his fine of $400 and has been released from the county jail.

Public denial that he had made statements attributed to him by officials of the Trinity Lutheran church at a meeting held Monday night, was made yesterday by Edward Kjenbeck.

Mr. Kjenbeck was named as one of the church members who had been asked to contribute to the fund for the church and were actually using the money for their own personal gain.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

Mr. Kjenbeck said that only two persons had solicited funds from him and that he held them above reproach.

ANNA CASE CHARMING

OLD TIME SONG MISSING IN PRESENT PROGRAM

Selections in English Prove Favorites; Max Jaffe Pleasing at Piano

By G. W. M. Eugene has once more played host to the enchanting Anna Case, and when she walked on the stage and for the first time sang in English, she was greeted with a rapturous applause that reached the echo, greeted her.

Anticipating the concert with memories of the past, she cast her eyes on the list of songs, and wondered if she was really as lovely and charming as she seemed then.

When she walked out, glowing in frosty blue and silver, with white fur, she instantly wove the same spell with the magic of her flashing smile, and we gave a sigh of vast relief. It would have seemed a disappointing moment indeed, if she had been less gracious and beautiful.

There were very marked differences in her program this year from that of last season, and most disappointing of all perhaps was the lack of the old songs from which her gracious encores of last winter were chosen. Only two encores marked the groups last night, while on her first appearance here she sang at least a dozen request numbers from the list.

The spirit of sobriety rested over her first group of songs, all compositions from Bach, Handel, and G. O'Connor-Morris. Here the "Allegretto" by Bach and "O'Connor-Morris" "Allegretto" were favorites, though none seemed to rouse in the audience that thrill which her voice has made a habit of giving.

Brahms compositions entirely made up the second group, and with their lighter spirit and air, they were more popular. "Der Tod das ist die Kugel" was especially loved, and beautiful number with dramatic quality and spirit which brought back to the audience the first group.

An aria from Puccini's "La Boheme," "Mi Chiamano Mimì," was a haunting and beautiful number with dramatic quality and spirit which brought back to the audience the first group.

Her voice was thrilling and ringing, and she sang with a spirit and verve that carry her listeners with her. She has such a thoroughly chatty little way of talking, and she is so dear to her audience, that she seems to let you in on all the fun.

One has an almost irresistible impulse to lean toward her and laugh back.

Another thing which added greatly to the interest and pleasing quality of this group was the sympathy and quiet of Max Jaffe's work as accompanist.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should be background for the voice, and Anna Case's voice needs nothing more to enhance it than the background of Max Jaffe's accompaniment.

It is most desirable that the work of an accompanist should