HOLIDAY MAILING STARTS

GIFTS SENT TO MANY FOREIGN COUNTRIES

Campaign For Early Gift Sending Shows Effect; Mailers to Be Given Special Assistance

(Register Lane County Special)

SPRINGFIELD, Ore., Dec. 4.—Holiday mailing has started in full force at Springfield, according to F. R. Hamlin local postmaster. All this week, packages have been sent by Springfield people to friends and relatives in all parts of the world and the packages coming to the postoffice are becoming more numerous every day.

Almost every country in Europe and the Orient is represented in the list of those to which packages have been sent during the part few days. Acquaintances and relatives of Springfield people in Korea, China, Japan, Hawaii, Philippine Islands, Australia and European countries have been sent gifts. Mailing has already been started for states nearby.

The campaign carried on here recently to induce people to do their Christmas sending early has shown results, believes Mr. Hamlin. Never before has the mailing season started so early.

Two extra clerks will be employed in the Springfield postoffice beginning December 14. One of them will work in the office and the other on the carrier beat. Tables for wrapping packages will be placed in the lobby to give the gift senders as much assistance as possible.

MUCH WATER CONSUMED

SPRINGFIELD PLANT FURNISHES LARGE SUPPLY

(Register Lane County Special)

SPRINGFIELD, Ore., Dec. 4.—Approximately 187,650,000 gallons of water will have been used by Springfield residents by the end of this year, it is believed by officials of the Mountain States Power company here. A total of 172,650,000 gallons were used in the 11 months ending November 30, it is shown by the records at the plant, and December will add another 15,000,000 gallons to the total.

The total this year will not be as great as last year's when 214,500,000 gallons of water were consumed. This is due to the fact that last winter much water was used during the cold weather when faucets were allowed to run at all times. The highest month this year was July, when a total of 26,750,000 gallons was consumed. The heavy usage of water during July is believed due to the warm weather then prevalent.

DAILY MARKET REPORT

(Oregon Journal Market Review)

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 4.—Further reduction of 2c dozen in the price of eggs on the dairy exchange for the latest session indicates the seasonable trend of values. In some quarters an attempt was made to hold values from tumbling, but this appears impossible at the moment on account of the greatly increased offerings.

Fresh goods are arriving so freely at this time that every want of the trade is taken care of quite easily, and at prices that are shaded from those quoted on the exchange. Few dealers appear able to maintain exchange values at the moment, all being interested in unloading from day to day through fear of still lower prices the next 24 hours.

The storage deal appears a dead one at the moment. While some sales continue, the movement is being much restricted during the last few days as a result of the tumbling fresh egg values. Decreasing quality of storage goods is also a factor.

Butter Situation Very Weak

Market for butter is very depressed, although no change was shown in the price of prints for the day. Price shading is reported in some quarters. Further reduction in cubes on the exchange and on the open market indicate an increasing surplus.

Chicken Demand Is Very Firm

Very firm demand for chickens is shown in the local trade, with sales of light weight at 19@20c pound and heavy stuff up to 25@26c pound. Practically the entire local supply was cleaned up by Hawaiian interests.

Tom Turkeys Sell at 40 Cents

A very limited supply of tom turkeys sold at 40c pound on the street, but this scarcely established the market at that price because the volume was too small to consider. Considerable left-over stuff is dragging at prices no higher than 38c pound.

Veal Situation Depressed

With quite a fair supply arriving, market for country-killed calves is somewhat depressed. General top is not above 13c pound, but a few sales are shown at 15½c. Hogs are steady at 16@16½c top. Packers asking 17@17½c for their offerings.

Potato Market Is Very Quiet

Very quiet tone is shown for potatoes. Not only in the local jobbing trade, but at Northwest country points a weaker situation is generally indicated. Few carload sales are confirmed.

Brief Notes of Wholesale Trade

Fancy lot of lin cod and black cod being offered at 12c pound.

Some salmon trout arriving from the North; priced 28c pound.

Nut markets continue quiet, but prices are stationary.

Ripe bananas continue very scarce; most sales 7@8c pound.

Pumpkins and squash very slow sale; considerable stock here.

Sweet potatoes are slow here, although higher in South. Stock not keeping very well.

Large grapefruit hard to sell.

Retail Trade Expands

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Distributive trade is following its seasonal course with seasonal operations tending to decrease and jobbers' trade being confined largely to reorder business, but with retail trade, at the large stores tending to expand largely as the holidays approach. All of these distributive branches report as good or better trade than a year ago, but wholesale and jobbing trade as well as leading mail order houses, report November trade not equal to that of October, which is in keeping with experience in other years. However, a big trade is generally reported to have been done last month. The flaws in present week's reports are the relative slowness of collections, the brisk pace in distribution considered; the advices that milder weather is retarding seasonable goods in some areas, the depressing effects of the anthracite coal miners' strike in parts of northeast Pennsylvania, the check to retail buying noted along the Atlantic seaboard as a result of widespread rainfall, and the advices that small retailers are not doing relatively as well as are larger stores.

Wheat Prices Collapse

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—In a wildly swinging market wheat prices collapsed today 7 3-4c a bushel as compared with the top level for the day.

Before the crush, wheat for December delivery in Chicago had touched $1.42, and May was up to $1.75, new peak records for the season, the May price in particular being a target that of late has been aimed at by speculators without number. Enormous selling, largely to realize profits at this juncture, sent the market tumbling backwards. Wheat closed nervous 1 7-8c to 4½c net lower, near style, December $1.74¼ to $1.74⅝, and May $1.70 to $1.70⅝, with corn 1 3-8c to 1 7-8c off, oats ⅛c to 7-8c down, and provisions varying from 25c decline to 10c gain.

Santa's Coming Back

Read What He Has to Say!

DEAR MR. HILL:

I enjoyed my visit to your store so much that I have decided to return and will be there Saturday. I certainly was glad to see all of the children again, and tell them when I come this time I am bringing a present for each one of them. As I probably will not have enough to go around, it will be necessary for them to be there between 2:00 and 2:30 Saturday afternoon. Each youngster that is at your store at that time will receive a real book—"The Night Before Christmas"— and s-s-h, I am going to give them in addition that wonderful little booklet, "A Book of Games," and a book telling how to play a great many games, and will keep little hands and minds busy during their play hours.

Tell all the children to write me their letters in care of your store, as I will then be sure to get them and will answer each one personally. Tell them to put them in the Santa Claus mail box in your store.

Your old friend,
SANTA CLAUS.
