The latest attack on the government's prohibition enforcement policies, launched day before yesterday by representatives of 26 reform organizations, is bitter, but the average fair observer will have to agree that it is pretty well justified.

A little negro boy of nine shot his foster mother in Portland day before yesterday because she chided him when he let the beans burn.

The champion steer at the Chicago livestock exposition was sold for $3 a pound. At that rate, restaurant men in the Windy City will be able to make only a measly 100 per cent profit on their steaks.

The French chamber of deputies passes a bill to further inflate the currency. Apparently the hard lesson of the Mississippi bubble is not to be heeded.

Early Days in Eugene

(From the Morning Register, December 5, 1906)

Levi Geer, Jack Sutherland and George Powell of London Springs were in the city yesterday.

Born in Eugene, December 3, 1906, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cherry in Eugene, a daughter.

Married at the home of the bride's brother, S. E. Taylor, in Eugene, December 4, 1906. Joseph W. McArthur and Miss Eva J. Taylor, Rev. O. C. Wright officiating.

DeLure Hemenway of Cottage Grove was in Eugene yesterday as a witness before United States Commissioner W. W. Calkins.

The enlargement of L. E. Bean's residence has been done rapidly, and will be finished today.

The Eugene woolen mill is paying from 19 to 24 cents a pound for wool.

J. O. Bettis was elected mayor of Coquille, N. M. Mathews by a vote of 45 to 14. Charles Poole was the choice for recorder over Lester Stacey and M. C. Bond was elected treasurer over C. E. Robinson.

Words Often Misused: Your description corresponds "to" my ideas of the matter. I shall correspond "you" (the letter).

Often Mispronounced: Illustration. Accent the "a" not the "e". Often Misspelled: Solemn.

Synonyms: Moist, wet, damp, saucy, soaky, treacherous.

Word Study: "Use a word three times and it is yours. Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Today's word: Modulate. To vary the sound of. "A public speaker must learn to modulate his voice."

RESCUE WORKERS CAUGHT IN MINE

ling miners from the Nederland district to help, a call for rescue workers was sent to the east portal of the Moffatt tunnel for skilled mining men.

Other rescuers brought out after being overcome were William Bergren, assistant superintendent of the mine; Wayne Potts, an electrician; William MacKenzie, former miner but now a hotel proprietor in Nederland; Arthur Ritchie and Robert Bradley.

Lieutenant Jansen, after being revived, declared:

"The men behind the bulkhead (the miners are believed to have erected a bulwark against the smoke) are probably all right, but the rest of us are in bad shape."

Swanson, the miner brought out, was incoherent at first but later cried:

"Gosh, I hope they get all those boys alive. I walked out of the bulkhead to test it and I don't believe the others closed it."

A call was issued by Dr. W. L. Wilkinson to Boulder, Denver and other nearby towns for bandages, oxygen, medicines and first aid necessities. The Boulder Red Cross sent a large consignment.

WRIGHT NOT SUICIDE

JUDGE LEAVES MAN IN JAIL THINKING HIM DEAD

(By The Associated Press) TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 4.—Harry Wright was dead, the judge thought, for the official records showed that he had committed suicide in a cell at the city jail last July. Yet all the time Harry Wright was waxing more and more indignant as the days and weeks passed and he was not called forth to stand trial on a bad check charge. Finally his demands for a trial or freedom became so insistent that the jailer spoke to the judge about it.

"But he's dead," said his honor. "But he's not," said the turnkey. Today they hailed Harry Wright before the nonpartisan justice.

"It was another Harry Wright who was also held for a bad check who committed suicide," the court was informed.

"Oh," said his honor. "Well, six months in jail for this one."

"Yes, sir, I've just served it," commented the prisoner.

"Very well, make good the $50 you owe on the worthless check and you're free."

Treasurer's Mother Dies (By The Associated Press) TACOMA, Dec. 4.—Mrs. H. E. Harmon, 80, mother of Wilfred E. Harmon, state treasurer of Montana, died at her home here today.

It's Possible to Cure Meniere's Malady

Self-Poisoning. One of the Chief Causes of This Disease of Dizziness, Must Be Eliminated to Bring Relief.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D. (United States Senator from New York) Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

A reader in Connecticut has heard about "Meniere's disease" and wants an article about it. I am glad to present it.

How do you know where you are when you are in the dark and whether you are standing upright or not? Is there some sort of a spirit level in the body to indicate your position in space? I am glad to present it.

There is exactly that sort of a mechanism in your head. It is closely associated with the organ of hearing and is considered a part of the internal ear.

Deeply situated in the bone back of the ear are what we call the "semi-circular canals," three of them. If you will half close your right hand and place its edge on the palm of the other hand, better see how the semi-circular canals are placed. One corresponds in position to the flat part of the left hand. The second lies in the plane of the fingers and the third in the plane of the palm of the right hand.

Suppose each of these canals were a spirit level, you can see that one or another would always be out of level. In fact, they are so. They are in fact, as it were, "out of level" in space. That is the purpose they serve in the protection of your body.

I need not go into greater detail, describing the arrangement and other features of this arrangement. A part of the inner ear, known as the "labyrinth," has its place in this intricate plan but I have told you enough so you know in general, why you keep straight and sane.

What we know as "Meniere's disease," or "Meniere's syndrome," begins with buzzing in the ears and staggering in the position in space, and a sensation as if everything were turning around, cause dizziness and reeling.

The eyeballs may jerk and twitch. Fatigues, feeling of illness, sickness at the stomach and vomiting are other symptoms.

These attacks pass off, only to be repeated every week or so, or even several times a day. Moving the head suddenly may bring on the attack.

There are many causes. Among them is poisoning of some sort. This may be from one of the common drugs, such as strychnine, arsenic, quinine and salicylic acid are among such drugs.

Anything which disturbs the living level, I have described will cause the trouble. Bleeding into the labyrinth or semi-circular canals, the result of a fall or blow, may produce this group of symptoms.

What can be done and what the prospects of cure will depend on the cause of the irritation. Many causes make complete recovery.

Answers to Health Queries

S. Q.—What is the cause of unpleasant breath?

Answer.—Diseased tonsils, decayed teeth, intestinal disturbances, constipation, etc., may all be responsible. Find the cause and the treatment will suggest itself.

2.—What can be done for stomach noises?

Answer.—Diseased tonsils, decayed teeth, intestinal disturbances, constipation, etc., may all be responsible. Find the cause and the treatment will suggest itself.

3.—One per cent yellow oxide of mercury ointment applied to the eyelashes at night before retiring will make them darker and help to increase the growth.

Editors' Section Meets

Another round table discussion after the editors and managers division of the high school conference yesterday.

Robert Moore, 11, of Newberg high school, president of the organization, opened the meeting at 10 o'clock and started the discussion before the press association.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

The Efficiency of Fresh Air

One Mother Says: After eating their evening meal my children are inclined to hover about the fire, and they grow drowsy and listless before their lessons are learned. So I began the practice of having them wrap themselves up and trot about briskly while I open the window, letting a rush of fresh, invigorating air through the rooms. They consider this a lark and become revived for an hour of application to their books and games before their regular bedtime.

Princess Royal

INA WILRATH

Ina Wiles Walrath, elected princess royal at the international convention in Syracuse of the United Order of Splendor and Perfection. Since then she has received many offers to go on the stage.

Beatrice Milligan of Eugene acted as secretary in the absence of Anne Wade of Franklin high school, Portland.

"It's like eating a cold potato without salt. If you let your notes get cold," Professor George S. Turnball of the school of Journalism, told the delegates at the open-air round table of the morning. He urged the delegates not to ruin a good story from lack of spirit.

"How to Write an Advertisement" was the topic of discussion by Professor W. P. G. Thacher in the managers round table discussion in which all of the delegates participated. Puzzling details of the managers work were discussed.

"Editing the Day's News" was a discussion led by Raymond D. Lawrence, assistant professor of the school of Journalism in the afternoon round table. "The majority of successful journalists are college graduates. It is surprising the number of fiction writers who work on newspapers from ten to fifteen years before they can write imaginatively that they can write imaginatively for profit."

Marshall Dana speaks

Marshall Dana, associate editor of the Oregon Journal, addressed the joint session of managers and editors in his address, "Editing the Day's News." He defined the newspaper as a factory, information bureau, and inspirational leader, and gave its functions as dispensing information, amusement and inspiration. "The first function of a newspaper is to give information. Information not only in the news stories but in the editorial and the ads." They are distinctly of interest to the housewife. "Today you will find as high a standard of truth in the ads as you will find in the editorials. This higher standard together with the reputation of an ad in the same space on a newspaper has given it a definite news value." Mr. Dana dealt also with the growing strength of the newspaper in the life of the nation and stressed the important part which it is destined to play.

Proceeding the joint session the managers, under the leadership of Robert C. Hall, discussed the topic, "The Business Success of a Newspaper."

"Advertising Salesmanship" was the topic of the address given by Arne Rae, editor of the Tillamook Herald, to the managers.

At the closing session of the editor division, Dean Eric Allen, head of the school of Journalism, led a discussion on "Printing Considerations."

A general discussion on several problems of makeup followed, in which both the magazine and newspaper were considered.

In a special meeting for annual managers Walter Dimm, of Dimm Printing, and Harold Robinson and Harold Reader, representatives of the West Coast and Hicks-Chaten engraving companies, discussed annual problems with delegates.

Briefs of Oregon Life

The arsenal at the state prison, center of the fight at the penitentiary which featured the break on August 12, last, was transferred Thursday from the main administration building to the new tower just constructed at the front gate of the prison. In its new quarters the arsenal will be in charge of the guard on duty in the gate tower, who also has charge of the front gate, controlling admission and egress to and from the prison proper.

The total for Oregon's 18th annual Christmas seal sale is near the $7000 mark and is rapidly growing. Returns received by the Oregon Tuberculosis association have been largely from the Portland mail sale, which has netted approximately $3000 from 5996 letters returned. Many new letters continue to bring notes of endorsement.

Payment of rewards to obtain evidence against rich people and "higherups" who violate the prohibition law was favored in a resolution adopted Thursday by the executive committee of the Portland club of school boards at its regular monthly meeting. The plan favored is similar to that of "Ma" Ferguson, Texas governor.

Condon is agog over the new logging road now surveyed 20 miles south of town. This road will tap a big belt of yellow pine timber lying mostly in Wheeler county.

Teacher Cottages Opposed SALEM, Ore., Dec. 4.—In an opinion written today to J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of schools, Attorney-General Van Winkle rules that school boards cannot legally use school funds for the construction of "teacherages" or cottages for the use of teachers.

It is said the practice has been general in the state and in some instances land have been leased for the purpose.

Tunnel Contract Given (By The Associated Press) ST. PAUL, Dec. 4.—Contract for construction of the new Great Northern railway tunnel through the Cascade mountains has been awarded to A. Guthrie and company, railroad contractors of St. Paul.

Millinery Sale All fells and velvets, values from $5 to $12, sale price while they last, only $1.50 to $2.95. Leocade Hat Shop, Mrs. Alice L. Dorris, 172 E. Ninth street. 12-6-2

The Office Cat

Copyright 1925 by Edgar Allan Moss

A man was fishing in an Oregon lake recently. He caught a big fish, the biggest he had ever landed in his long and busy life. He was elated. He was craned with joy and he telegraphed his wife—"I've got one, weighs seven pounds and it is a beauty."

The following was the answer he got—"Do have I, weight ten pounds. Not a beauty—looks like you. Come home."

Why is it the girls spend so much money to get just the right cut out in their hair and then wear these short dresses?

Many people never sleep to the vulgar because it is so far above them.

First convict—"When I get out of this place, I'm going to have a hot time, ain't you?" Second ditto—"I don't know, I'm in for life."

"Why so depressed, Jimmy?" "The horrible cost of living, old chap; constant bills for materials, paint and shingles."

"What house?" "No, daughter."

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN "She—My hands are cold." "Here are my gloves."

Police sergeant—"Is the man dangerously wounded?" Patrolman—"Two of the wounds are fatal, but the other one isn't so bad."

Paine has an entirely different aspect when you observe a tourist gazing at a bronze statue and hear him ask absent-mindedly, "And who was that guy, anyway?"

Some germs are so small that a million of them can sit on the point of a pin and yet be lonely.

"I'm seeing red," said the Pilgrim Father as he leveled his blunderbuss at the Indian chieftain.

Warden Dalrymple Home SALEM, Ore., Dec. 4.—Warden A. M. Dalrymple of the Oregon state prison, reached Salem tonight after a trip that took him through many eastern institutions. Mr. Dalrymple attended a convention of a prison warden in the east. He was greeted by a reception at the penitentiary tonight at which about 30 prison employees were present.
