

MILITARY TRAINING HIT CHURCH STATEMENT

War Department in Colleges Opposed

SENATORS SIGN

Bill to Pamphlet Written by Bishop D. Lane Deane With R. O. T. C. Plans

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. — The tendency toward military training in educational institutions is being opposed in a joint statement by the signatures of churchmen, public officials and laymen.

Military training should not be included in any high school, the statement said, and it never should be compulsory in colleges and universities. It was declared "that when people were unaware of the extent of the war department in the military spirit in the United States, in contrast to American education."

The statement appeared in the form of a pamphlet distributed by the War Department in New York. The signers are:

Borah on List

Senators Borah of Idaho, Norris of Nebraska, La Follette of Wisconsin and Shipstead of Minnesota; and Bishop Francis J. McCon of the Methodist Episcopal church, President MacCracken of the Maurer of Beloit, and Mr. Holyoke, Representative

lative Huddleston of Alabama and Nelson of Wisconsin, Jane Addams, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, John D. Rockefeller, the Pennsylvania Labor leader, Samuel McCrea Cavert, general secretary of the Federal Council of Churches; James Weldon Johnson, secretary of the association for the advancement of colored people; Oswald Garrison Villard, the editor, and many others.

"It would be a tragedy," said the statement, "if at the very moment when such enemies as France and Germany are outlawing war against each other, the military spirit should assert itself in the United States."

Training Held Poor

"At the very least military training should be rigidly excluded from the high schools. It does not provide the best form of physical training, it does not teach constructive citizenship; if successful it tends to impart aggressive, even jungle-like notions."

"We are convinced that it is all to the best interests of our universities and to the highest ideals of learning that the war department should be given so much place in our military training so much place as it now has in our college world."

PLANS FOR DISTRICT CONVENTION CLAYE ARE MADE

University of Oregon Football Team Honored by Local Service Club Yesterday

Appointment of a committee to work out plans for the Kiwanis district convention, which will be held in Eugene next summer, was announced yesterday at the close of the meeting of the service club, at which officers were elected and the University of Oregon football team was honored.

Appreciation for the entertainment was voiced by Captain "Bob" Mantz, who told the Kiwanians that his fellow players realized that the Kiwanis club was banqueting a "booming team."

"Every one wants to entertain the winning team, but not everyone entertains the team that is lowest in the race," said Captain Mantz.

J. S. Magladry was elected president of the Kiwanis club to succeed W. R. Nowell, recently appointed dry law enforcement officer in Oregon, and who has moved to Portland to live during the tenure of his term of office.

Other officers elected were as follows: Vice-president, George H. McMorran; district trustee, H. S. Bryson; treasurer, Frank N. McAlister; director, Dean W. G. Hale; Dave Graham and Lynn K. McCreedy.

Installation will take place early in January, it was reported yesterday.

In the interim H. A. Dunbar, vice-president for 1925, will act as president of the service club. A. E. Roberts will continue as secretary until the new appointments are made.

Mr. Magladry, the new president,

DIVINE HEALING SUBJECT

BIBLE STANDARD MEETING IS LARGELY ATTENDED

Captain Anthony Tells of Price Meeting in Portland and Says: Evangelist Coming Here

By H. W. HALL.

A good sized audience was in evidence at the armory Sunday evening, where the Bible Standard congregation is holding forth each Sunday until they are able to occupy their new building on Olive street, which, according to announcement, may take place some time in January, if present plans mature.

The sermon, was delivered by the pastor, Rev. Fred Hornshuh, who preached principally from James 5:14. In other words, it was a divine healing topic and he marshaled his arguments in such chronological order and buttressed them by his usual earnest delivery, that it would take an expert debater to attempt to controvert the points he piled up in support of his argument, i. e., that Jesus was just as much a healer of the body today, as He was a savior of souls today. That is, He was "just the same yesterday, today and forever."

He referred to the fact that Jesus was called upon to heal, but that the scripture specifically states "that the Lord shall raise him up."

Captain Anthony, formerly commander of the local Salvation Army was present and was called upon to give his impressions of the Dr. Price revival campaign now going on in Portland and from which he had just returned.

The captain is very enthusiastic in his commendation of Evangelist Price, and stated that in his opinion Dr. Price has improved wonderfully as an evangelist since his campaign in Eugene some time ago and inferred that his trip abroad on an evangelist campaign last year had much to do with broadening and strengthening his personality. He said that Price was much more powerful as a preacher and that when he visits this city, which it is learned will be for a few days in January and perhaps later on a regular campaign, that larger crowds than ever will be desirous of hearing him.

The encampment was to have held the annual election of officers several weeks ago but the meeting was delayed until Wednesday of this week, it was explained yesterday.

Editorial

Oh! Such a Saturday.

We were swamped from the time our doors opened at 7 o'clock in the morning until closing time, and we didn't get away from the store until ten minutes after twelve.

Hundreds of new customers came and they bought as they never bought before.

Over three thousand customers realized the savings they were making buying the Stanley way, and over three thousand people will be living, walking advertisements for this store.

We have just had the best week's business in the history of the Stanley grocery, and we have just had the best Saturday this store has ever known.

We thank you, every one—

Your knowing, your buying, your co-operation with the Stanley store will keep Eugene grocery prices at the lowest level on the whole Pacific coast.

Just to let you know that we are still in business, yet far behind with our work, we are offering a few specials—

Buy them, and save—

And at the same time buy everything you need in the grocery, fruit and vegetables, bakery and meat lines at the Stanley store, for we will save you money on anything we sell.

And you always get quality at Stanleys.

Very truly yours,

GEORGE C. STANLEY.

Robbers Start Fire

TAILORING SHOP ENTERED AT ROSEBURG

ROSEBURG, Ore., Dec. 7. — A tailoring shop, owned by J. H. Bernier, was badly damaged last night by a fire started to cover up a robbery. Thieves broke down the rear door of the building and with an auger bored holes around the locking intervening doors, so that they could reach the front part of the building, where they stole five suits of clothes and 19 suit lengths of bolt goods.

Boxes of clothing, kindling and papers were then piled up in two parts of the frame building and a fire started. Fortunately, however, the blaze was quickly discovered and extinguished before any great amount of damage was done.

Tracks found in the alleyway in the rear of the building indicated that there had been two automobiles backed up to the shop. A few minutes before the fire, two cars were seen to come out of the alleyway and go south at a rapid rate of speed.

Officers are today investigating a report that two men stopped at a roadside stand yesterday and endeavored to sell suit goods. It is possible, Sheriff Starmer says, that the theft and fire were the work of thieves who have been committing a series of like crimes.

McELROY TRIAL STARTS

MAN FACES CHARGE OF GOLD HILL ROBBERY

(By The Associated Press)

MEDFORD, Ore., Dec. 7.—The trial of H. McElroy, charged with burglary at Gold Hill, three weeks ago, started in the circuit court this afternoon, and the chief witnesses against the defendant will be Richard Dunn, a 13-year-old Oakland, Cal., boy, who is alleged to have been induced by McElroy to commit the burglary. McElroy is about 27 years of age.

Dunn ran away from home and met McElroy at San Jose, Cal., the pair coming north, according to the boy's story to the police, finally reaching Gold Hill, where they were arrested.

The little fellow is held in the woman's ward of the county jail and acts as a trusty. He has become a prime favorite with officials and after the trial it is planned by welfare workers to send him back to his home in Oakland.

LEWIS MAKES ESCAPE

KLAMATH FALLS PRISONER LEAVES HOSPITAL

KLAMATH FALLS, Dec. 7.—Ted Lewis, proprietor of a notorious roadhouse, who was serving a county jail sentence for a liquor violation, escaped from custody some time Saturday night and fled the country, it became known this morning.

After his conviction and sentence to the county jail, Lewis pleaded that he was suffering from an incurable malady and had Sheriff Hawkins remove him to the hospital, about six miles from the city. At the hospital, Lewis was not under lock and key, and was permitted to come and go as he pleased, the hospital superintendent said today.

"I told Sheriff Hawkins that I had no place to lock the man up," declared Superintendent Fryrear of the hospital.

"Oh, Ted's all right, he won't run away," Fryrear quotes Sheriff Hawkins as replying to him. Lewis was serving a 60-day sentence, together with a $500 fine. He had served less than two weeks of his sentence.

It also was learned that Lewis during the past week sold his roadhouse, known as the Three-Mile house, for $1800, and the new owner took possession Saturday.
