"The Ship Here Friday

"The Eugene branch of A. A. U. W. is interested in bringing good things to Eugene, and in sponsoring the Moroni Olsen players, we feel that we are giving Eugene folk who like good plans an opportunity to spend a very happy evening at the theatre," said one of the members in speaking about "The Ship" which will be presented by this company on Friday evening at the Heilig theatre.

"In 'The Ship' Mr. Ervine has pictured in drama of compelling power the story of John Thurlow's passion for the ships he has built, of his son's determination to break loose from shipbuilding and all our machine-driven civilization and go back to the land, and the effect of this decision on his own life and his father's.

"Old Mrs. Thurlow, with all the kindliness and wisdom and wit that age can bring; John Thurlow, the shipbuilder, in the pride and strength of success; Janet, his soft and pliable wife whose chief ambition is to avoid fuss and bother; young Jack, in a turbulence of mind and heart induced by youth and war—all live out their emotional crises before us in a most moving drama."

EIGHT MEN ARE ACCUSED

VIOLATION OF STATE GAME LAWS IS CHARGED

Two Plead Guilty, Two Found not Guilty and Others Plead not Guilty

Eight Lane county men appeared in the Eugene justice court yesterday to answer to the charge of violating the state game laws. Two of them pleaded guilty, two were tried and found not guilty and the others pleaded not guilty and will be tried.

Darrell Pitcher, Walter Pitcher, Charles Putnam, George Pitcher and R. C. Pyburn, living east of Cottage Grove, were arrested by deputy state game wardens on a charge of having a deer in closed season. George Pitcher pleaded guilty and the others not guilty.

Doc Pitcher and W. C. Pitcher were arrested on a charge of having a game bird out of season. W. C. Pitcher pleaded guilty and was fined $40 and Doc Pitcher entered a plea of not guilty.

B. A. Brooks, charged with acting as a guide for hunters when he was not entitled to hunt, and Ralph Brooks, charged with failing to tag a deer that he had killed, were both tried and found not guilty.

S. M. Calkins appeared as attorney for the Brooks brothers and Gordon S. Wells, assistant district attorney for the state.

KEENEY'S BIRDS WINNERS

LARGE NUMBER OF PRIZES TAKEN AT SHOW

Ben F. Keeney, Lane county assessor and chicken fancier, carried off a large number of premiums on his fowls at the big poultry show at Tacoma last week. This was the annual national Barred Rock meet.

Mr. Keeney took 24 of his dark and light Barred Rocks to the show and was awarded the following prizes:

In the dark class, third on cock, third on cockerel and second on young pen, third on display and championship ribbon for the best shaped male.

In the light class he won first and second on cock, first and second on hen, first and third on pullet, sixth on cockerel, first on young pen, first on display and championship ribbon for best colored female and best pen in the show. He carried away a total of $96.75 in prizes.

Cleve Stout of Anglum, Mo., the judge, is quoted by Mr. Keeney as saying that this was the best Barred Rock show he ever saw, and complimented Mr. Keeney on having the best colored Barred Rock female he had ever judged.

M. M. Lowry of Creswell took three of his fowls to the show and was given sixth on dark pullet.

"Y" BOARD WILL MEET

ROUTINE BUSINESS ON AGENDA FOR WEDNESDAY

The board of directors of the Young Men's Christian association will hold a regular meeting at the Osburn hotel Wednesday noon to take up matters of routine business.

Following the meeting, Frank Eberhart, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will leave Friday for Portland to attend a meeting of Idaho, Oregon and Washington representatives, where a merger of the associations of these three states will be discussed. It is possible that the new president of the local Y. M. C. A., Oluf A. Houglum, will also attend the Portland meeting.

The delegates will also meet with members of the national council with a view to discussing the national budget for 1926.

Budget week in Eugene will be some time early in the new year.
