DAILY MARKET REPORT

(Oregon Journal Market Review)

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 9. — Further reduction in dairy product prices on the exchange was shown for the session. In the egg trade there was a resumption of the sliding price, with extras down to 46c, and firsts off to 47c. These were the only changes in that line for the session.

Despite the quotations on the exchange sales of eggs on the open market continue to show below the established figure. In general, there appears a disposition to keep prices steady up from day to day, and that necessitates a lower price than the open market.

Receipts of eggs in excess of demand here and at practically all points along the Pacific Coast. In fact, everywhere, except in the inter-mountain section, the supply of eggs is more than ample, at present to take care of current demand. Cold storage stock is extremely weak, with values generally showing a wide spread.

Cube Butter Market Weaker

Market for cube butter continues to show weakness. On the dairy exchange extras and prime firsts were each off 1c. Great quantities are being sold for the day. Make of butter is reasonably heavy.

Turkey Supplies Are Limited

Very limited supplies of turkeys are arriving along Front street, but demand is as yet of most nominal character. A few young toms are finding favor around 37c per pound. Chicken demand is steady at former prices.

Cranberry Market Is Active

Despite the desperate efforts of wholesalers here interested in eastern cranberries, the local product continues to gain in trading volume and at slightly better prices. Reports indicate but 5000 boxes unsold in the hands of the association, which really is a scant supply.

Dressed Hog Market Steady

Market for country-killed hogs is of steady character with best light butchers or blockers going well at 16c per pound. Great quantities are being sold for the day. Make of hogs is reasonably heavy.

Apple Demand Holds Steady

With practically no change in the price list here, market for apples is considered about steady. Trade is taking care of a fair volume of stock, which must be moved quickly.

Notes of Wholesale Trade

Promised banana advance did not materialize here because of very dull trade conditions. Sweet potatoes are generally lower here.

Cauliflower Market Is Off 2c

For all varieties. Celery hearts are scarce, quoted up to 17c dozen bunches. Caul trade continues dull; prices stationary.

Shippers' Weather Notice

Weather bureau advisory: Protect shipments during the next 24 hours against the following minimum temperatures: going north to Seattle, 24 degrees; northeast to Spokane, 28 degrees; east to Baker, 20 degrees, and south to Ashland, 28 degrees.
