GRANGE HAS MEETING

SATURDAY BUSY DAY FOR FARMERS' ORGANIZATION

Dinner Served at Noon and Election of Officers Takes Place in Afternoon

(Register Lane County Special)

CRESWELL, Ore., Dec. 14.—The Creswell Grange had a busy day Saturday, filled with every variety of entertainment and service.

The afternoon session was occupied with business, election of officers and conferring of the first and second degrees upon Thelma Howe, the drill team having a prominent part in the exercises.

H. C. Wheeler of Pleasant Hill was present and gave an interesting talk. He complimented the team on its work and stated it was the life of the Grange.

The officers elected were: worthy master, H. A. Howe; overseer, Mrs. Mary Lindsay; lecturer, Mrs. Clara Traxler; steward, Mrs. Clara Parsons; assistant steward, Charles Wetzel; chaplain, Mrs. Louise Greshong; treasurer, C. H. Sedgwick; secretary, Mrs. David Francis; gatekeeper, Chas. White; promoter, Mrs. M. E. Hewitt; Flora, Mrs. Chas. White; lady assistant steward, Mrs. Alice Taylor; captain of team, Mrs. Iderhoff.

Activities of the local Grange for the next month are numerous. First the Grange play entitled "Back to the Farm" is set for Friday evening, December 18. Rehearsals will be held at the W. O. W. hall Monday Tuesday and Wednesday. Preparations are also being made for a Grange supper on the evening of New Years at the Grange Hall. Committees were appointed for that event as follows: dining room, Mrs. K. E. Melton, Mrs. Francis Taylor, Mrs. Ted Sillwood and Mrs. Vernon Sly; kitchen, Mrs. David Francis, Mrs. M. Iderhoff, Mrs. Chas. White, Mrs. Clara Parsons, and soliciting, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Greshong, Mrs. H. A. Howe and Mrs. Mary Lindsay.

The juvenile Grange met during the afternoon and are growing nicely. The senior Grange again outlined plans for helping them financially and otherwise.

After the close of camp the doors were opened to admit the W. O. W. of A., who gave a surprise supper.

Birthday Party Held

(Register Lane County Special)

CRESWELL, Ore., Dec. 14.—A birthday party in honor of Eleanor Olson was given Saturday afternoon at the home of her mother, Mrs. Gertie Olson. Miss Olson's 21st birthday was celebrated by guests numbering about 20. Mrs. Peter Yonker, of Laurel, Ore., has a pet dog that is proficient in tricks which entertained the company. Games and refreshments were features.

Endeavor Has Meeting

(Register Lane County Special)

CRESWELL, Ore., Dec. 14.—The Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church held a social and business meeting at the home of Verda Beak on Saturday evening. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: president, Porteria Fox; vice-president, Charles Young; secretary and treasurer, Clifford Travillon. After usual business they played games and also enjoyed beautiful refreshments.

Telephone Money Needed

(Register Lane County Special)

CRESWELL, Ore., Dec. 14.—The directors of the Telephone company met the latter part of the week and a special effort will be made to collect all delinquent accounts. These have accumulated to such proportions that unless they are collected there is serious danger of having to discontinue the telephone service. Expenses have been kept within the budgeted statements but the money was not paid in which was subscribed.

BABIES' OPERETTA GIVEN

CRESWELL WOMEN'S SOCIETY STAGES ENTERTAINMENT

Every Child on Hand and Play Parts Well; Musical Numbers Given

(Register Lane County Special)

CRESWELL, Ore., Dec. 12.—The babies' operetta and entertainment given by the Ladies' Civic Improvement club Friday evening was well attended. Every child was on hand and the opening number was a fascinating feature. Eight couples of little people, fantastically dressed to represent characters of Mother Goose melodies, came out one at a time with their little songs and took their places in position for two sets of quadrille.

After all were placed the quadrille started, music by Francis Everson on the violin and Frances Shaug, pianist, accelerating the movements of the children to a live reality. They went through their parts to perfection, also gave a Virginia reel and closed with a large half circle from which little Miss Muffet took a seat on a stool in front of the stage when a large spider was let down from the ceiling and sat down beside her and scored all the children away.

The interim of the program was filled with a quartet consisting of Mrs. H. V. Mathews, Mrs. Cora Olson, Ed Weber and C. H. Sedgwick, who sang an arrangement of "Cats in the Fiddle." For encore, they responded with a round.

Miss Christine Robinett gave a pleasing reading selection, displaying an attractive talent and responded with a catchy encore. Francis Horn gave one of his usual splendid pieces. He was obliged to come back twice and each time convulsed the audience with encores.

The play of the evening was a comedy drama entitled "No Cure, No Pay." The comedians were Mrs. Clara Traxler, as a deaf or rather hard-of-hearing nurse in an affected ill-considered matron, the part taken by Mrs. Gop. Snere. They kept the audience convulsed with their witty and ridiculous situations. The rest of the cast, Miss Hazel Taylor as the maid, Miss Ruth Olson as the daughter, and Miss Christine Robinett, Miss Lucille Land and Mrs. Cora Olson as doctors, played their parts with good effect. Mrs. Olson took the place of Miss Calla Glover who had prepared the part but by accident was unable to get to town in time for the entertainment and Mrs. Olson read her part.

The receipts of the evening were about $30. Those who had the drilling and preparation of the entertainment in charge were Mrs. Roy Miller, Mrs. W. E. Nason and Mrs. W. W. Wyatt. Miss Florence Shaug was accompanist.

Because of the appearance in Oregon of the white pine blister rust, a dangerous plant disease, the secretary of agriculture has given notice of a hearing to be held at Washington, January 8, in the office of the federal horticultural board. It is proposed to prohibit the movement from Oregon into other states and territories of all five-leaved pines, and currant and gooseberry plants, the latter being intermediate host plants necessary in carrying the disease from one pine tree to another. It is expected that with state co-operation, it will be possible to limit the restrictions of the quarantine to the infected western portion of the state.

Plant pathologists of the department of agriculture have discovered white pine blister rust on both wild and cultivated currants in Tillamook and Clatsop counties, which brings the rust infection within 175 miles of the northern edge of the great sugar pine forests of southern Oregon and northern California. The disease already exists in the northeastern states and in the Middle West and also in the state of Washington. Quarantines have been established in the various affected states and active efforts have been made by federal and state authorities to delay the spread of the destructive rust. Systematic efforts at control consist largely in eliminating the cultivated black currant, a plant peculiarly susceptible to the disease and an active agent in its long-distance spread. Eradication of all currant and gooseberry plants within a comparatively short radius of susceptible pines will give them adequate protection, a fact which has been demonstrated in the northern states where local control work has been carried on for several years. Once a pine tree is attacked, however, the disease continues until the tree is killed.
