PENROD WILL BE GIVEN

UNIVERSITY HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS PRESENT STORY

Dramatic Club Members Take Part in Booth Tarkington's Characterization

Presentation of the play, "Penrod," a Booth Tarkington story, will be made at the University high school auditorium by members of the dramatic club of that high school, Friday evening.

Resume of the plot shows a typical American family in which many of the domestic trials are based. Especially is this true in the rearing of a modern son and a daughter.

Mr. Schofield, the father, is a long suffering parent who does not understand the intricate working of a son's mind. This part is taken by Arthur Rogers. Mrs. Schofield is a typical patient and indulgent American mother and is characterized by Mrs. Simons.

The part of Penrod is taken by Billy Barker, an eighth grade student. Penrod is a live wire at the age of 12. His greatest difficulty is his 17 year old sister. Penrod's dearest pals are his dog Duke, and Sam Williams who lives next door. Sam Williams' part is taken by Donald Goodall.

Ruby George is in the role of Penrod's sister, Margaret. She is a charming young lady whose hand is sought by a childhood sweetheart, Bob Williams who is in his junior year at college, and by a dashing young newcomer, Herbert Hamilton Dade who wins the entire Schofield family.

Dean Condon takes the part of Bob Williams and Austin Frey is the handsome Mr. Dade. Della, the cook, is a character whose difficulties are divided by an easy going nephew Jarge and Penrod. Mary Lou Kent will have this character, while Bradford Datson will be the "Jarge."

Other confederates in Penrod's escapade are Herman and Verman, two little negro boys. Herman is played by Jack Dunbar and Verman by Bobby Booth.

Fred Huntington takes the part of Mr. Jones, a friend of the Schofield family and is the father of Marjory, looked upon with favor by Penrod. Marjory is taken by Phyllis Holmes. Clair Cooley is Tim, a crook and John Allen is the affable chief of police, Mr. Combs.

Railway Engineers and County Officials Inspect Site of Proposed Work Near Jasper

Plans of the Southern Pacific company to remove a large quantity of rock and earth from the hillside on the Natron extension on both sides of the village of Jasper, where the slopes have been caving in at intervals for a number of years past and to use the material to widen the county road at the edge of the right of way, were discussed yesterday when engineers of the company and county officials visited the site and tentative arrangements made to carry out the plan.

The company will build a small rail track over which to carry the rock and earth from the hillside to the Natron extension on both sides of the village of Jasper, where the slopes have been caving in at intervals for a number of years past and to use the material to widen the county road at the edge of the right of way, were discussed yesterday when engineers of the company and county officials visited the site and tentative arrangements made to carry out the plan.

BAND KNOWN IN INDIA

MUSICIAN WRITES TO SEE IF OPENING HERE

That the Eugene Odd Fellows' band is known in the far corners of the earth is shown in a letter just received by J. K. Moore, secretary of the band, from Arthur J. Rees, a musician at Goumbar in India, which is about 160 miles from Calcutta.

Mr. Rees writes that he is a Welchman and is director of the Goumbar silver concert band, but that he wants to come to the United States and having heard of the Odd Fellows' band here, asks if there is an opening here.

He says that if he is given any encouragement about employment that he is willing to come that distance to locate here. He says he has a wife and five children.
