Mendenhall Gives Report on Meeting of Chamber of Commerce Held in Seattle

(Register Lane County Special)
COTTAGE GROVE, Ore., Dec. 16.—Many sheep in this vicinity have been killed by coyotes according to farmers and the menace so pronounced that a committee, headed by C. A. Bartell, was appointed at the last meeting of the chamber of commerce, held Tuesday evening, to devise some means of combatting the animals.

The report of F. E. Mendenhall, secretary of the local organization, who has just returned from Seattle, where he attended the meeting of the western section of the chamber of commerce of the United States was given Tuesday.

The secretary's report showed that over 700 men were present at the Seattle conference. These were representative of eleven western states. Of the total present, 75 were from Oregon. Over 14 Oregon cities besides Portland had delegates at the meting. The city of Portland sent 60 men to Seattle.

Mendenhall praised President O'Leary of the national chamber of commerce, O'Leary delivered several lectures on organization work and other problems. Irving Vining, president of the Oregon state chamber of commerce was another speaker, talking upon the subject of taxes and hydro-electricity.

According to Mendenhall the delegates derived a great deal of benefit from the lectures, but often as much benefit was gleaned by lobby discussions and private conferences. He spoke of having a talk with Vice-President Shoup of the Southern Pacific railway apropos of Cottage Grove club conditions, in which he received several valuable ideas on progressive club organization.
