EUGENE IS HELD HIGH

STATE CHAMBER PRESIDENT PREDICTS BRIGHT FUTURE

Irving E. Vining Speaker at Weekly Luncheon of Eugene Chamber of Commerce

Eugene is held in high regard by people all over the United States, said Irving E. Vining, president of the state chamber of commerce, at the weekly luncheon of the chamber of commerce yesterday noon.

This city is about to enter a greater era of development than it has ever before experienced, predicted Mr. Vining. The completion of the new Southern Pacific line across the mountains to Klamath Falls to connect with the main line in northern California next summer will mean a great thing for Eugene, declared the speaker.

Mr. Vining stated that Oregon is progressing more rapidly in the way of added population and development than ever before. At the recent conference of chambers of commerce of western states, Oregon chambers proved to be gaining public confidence and holding their memberships much better than either California or Washington, he said.

He urged that all aid possible should be given new settlers. Often without this aid the settlers become discouraged and leave the state, giving it a black eye.

Mr. Vining called attention to the $300,000 development fund recently raised by the Portland chamber of commerce. He said that this fund is to be used for all parts of the state.

Mrs. Avard Fairbanks gave two readings during the luncheon hour.

PUPILS WILL ENTERTAIN

PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN AT CONDON SCHOOL

The Condon Parent-Teacher association has completed arrangements for an entertainment at the school tonight and tomorrow night. The program is to be repeated for the reason that the assembly room is so small that it will not accommodate as many people as it is believed will desire to attend.

A Christmas pageant in three scenes, the Shepherds, the Wisemen, and the Nativity will be presented by the fourth, fifth and sixth grade pupils. The pupils of the first, second and third grades will give songs and recitations.

A small admission will be charged and the proceeds will be used for the purchase of playground apparatus, it is announced.

HIGH SCHOOL WILL HAVE EXERCISES WEDNESDAY

Plans for Christmas exercises are being made at the Eugene high school, according to P. E. Christenson, principal. A program with a tree will be given Wednesday at which time the students will render a cantata under the direction of Miss Leona Marsters, musical director.

Christmas presents will be placed on the tree for the needy children of the city, to be distributed through Mrs. M. S. Ady, police matron, who has such work in charge.

Donations of provisions and clothing are being made each day and these will be turned over to Mrs. Ady's department.

Mrs. Ady's room in the city hall is becoming crowded with toys, provisions and clothing to be distributed prior to Christmas time.

FARMER HIT BY AUTO

JAMES LARSEN OF ALVADORE ACCIDENT VICTIM

Son Driving Machine Unable to See Father on Road Near Home Is Explanation

James Larsen, a farmer of Alvadore, was seriously injured about 7:30 o'clock last night when struck by an automobile driven by his son, Harvey.

The accident occurred near the Larsen home. Mrs. Larsen, wife of the victim, was with her son in the machine.

According to the story told at the Eugene hospital, where Mr. Larsen was taken, he was not seen on the road until hit by the car. He had been milking and was returning to the house. Darkness and rain prevented the son from seeing his father, it was explained.

Although the extent of the injuries were not determined late last night, it is believed Mr. Larsen suffered a broken leg and a broken left arm below the elbow.

BOYS DECLARE PROGRAM

FRIENDLY INDIANS ADOPT PLAN OF LIVING

Friendly Indians of the Central Presbyterian church have adopted the "four-fold" plan of living, according to a report made last night by one of the leaders of the group.

The "four-fold" plan includes Sunday school attendance, Christian lives, physical culture daily, industry and good associations.

Ways and means of obtaining head dress have been started, it was reported.

All officers of the group were present at the last meeting. A tribal name has not been adopted but one is under consideration now. The group has a membership of seven boys under the ages of 12 years and will take in more from now on.

SMALL CASE GOES ROUTE

RUBENSTEIN FINALLY PAYS HIS FINE OF $25

After his case had gone through the justice, circuit and supreme courts, Elia Rubenstein, of this city, yesterday paid a fine of $25 which Justice of the Peace Wells had imposed upon him over two years ago, having been found guilty of the charge of buying furs without a state license.

Rubenstein appealed his case to the circuit court here, was found guilty and then appealed to the state supreme court which affirmed the decision of the lower court.

Rubenstein did not state how much it cost him to carry his case through the different courts but there still remains $15 court fees to pay.

COURT DECLARES MITCHELL GUILTY

speak. Colonel Moreland then was recognized and summed up in a comparatively brief extemporaneous address the rebuttal and defense evidence interposing no argument in behalf of the secretary of war, the general staff or army branches mentioned by Colonel Mitchell in his charges. He said the trial was an intricate thing but the issue was exceedingly simple.

"Every case has its fundamental issue," he said, "In this instance it is that the accused, through the public press and every agency at his command has assailed and brought discredit upon the war department. That act is a breach of military discipline which needs no proof.

No Reply Given

As the prosecution arguments closed the defense again was asked if it desired to reply. The answer again was negative, and General Howze ordered the court closed for findings. The generals had not been closeted in their private chamber for more than 15 minutes however, before the court was reopened and the prosecution counsel was asked if there was any further evidence to be laid before the court. Colonel Moreland said:

"There is no record of previous convictions."

Immediately the court retired again. The question asked the prosecution counsel is provided for by the manual of courts martial and usually indicates that a finding of guilt has been reached by the court. Acting presumably on this assumption, several newspaper reporters, including representatives of two commercial news services, flashed over their wires at that time that Colonel Mitchell had been found guilty. More than two and a half hours passed, however, before the verdict was announced.

SOCIAL WORK OPENING

MISS LUPO RECEIVES MANY REQUESTS

Office Soon to Be Moved to Courthouse Where There Will Be More Room and Conveniences

The county social work is already opening up, according to Miss Alma Lupo, secretary of the Lane county chapter of the Red Cross and county social worker, even before she has taken up her new duties. Requests have come in at her office from different parts of the county for service and already five requests for adoption of children have been sent in.

Numerous other requests have also been sent in, she said, not in the nature of work that is connected with ex-service men.

Miss Lupo soon will move her offices to the courthouse where she will have a great deal more room and many more conveniences than in her present location with the office of the United States employment service on Sixth avenue west opposite the postoffice.
