STAGES ABANDON PASS

NO SERVICE SCHEDULED FOR THIS WINTER

Hickman and Reed Announce Negotiation of Snowbound Route Too Costly to Operate

McKenzie pass once more in victorious human efforts to negotiate its snowbound course. No attempt will be made to inaugurate a regular stage service between Eugene and Bend this winter.

Such was the statement made last night by H. C. Hickman, of the firm of Hickman and Reed, co-owners of the Eugene-Bend stage line which for the last month has been seeking a method of transporting passengers over the pass.

Mr. Hickman regretfully explained that owing to the wind blown places on the McKenzie highway, where the snow had been drifted off, sled runners on both the cabin-entrance and the automobile snow shoes with which an experiment was made yesterday, would be ruined in a short time.

RABBIT MEN TO MEET

ASSOCIATION TO BE FORMED IN VALLEY

High Prices for Pelts and Meat Quoted; Demand for Good Skins Brisk in New York

Meeting of the American Rabbit and Cavey Breeders' association of the Willamette valley, will be held in Eugene on the afternoon of January 5, it was announced last night by H. W. Reynolds, local man who has been instrumental in organizing the breeders into a branch of the national association.

The place of the meeting has not been definitely decided, although Mr. Reynolds said he would attempt to obtain a room in the chamber of commerce for that afternoon. It is planned to call the meeting at 2:30 o'clock.

Between 25 and 30 breeders are expected to gather at this, the initial meeting, when officers would be elected and committees appointed to draw up by-laws. Mr. Reynolds said last night that he had talked personally with about 15 rabbit breeders in Lane county who would join the association and that several in Portland, and one or two at Creswell, had signified an

FRUIT GROWERS BUSY

HOPE TO CLOSE CANNING BY CHRISTMAS

J. O. Holt Reports More Orders for Holiday Packages Than Plant Is Able to Handle

The Eugene Fruit Growers' association although extremely busy now, hoped to close up the winter canning operations by Christmas, was the expression of J. O. Holt, manager, yesterday.

Mr. Holt just returned from Medford where he attended the meeting of the Oregon State Horticultural society, and where he was one of the prominent speakers on the program.

More orders have been received for Christmas packages than we have been able to handle," said Mr. Holt, who indicated that shipments were being made all over the United States. Requests for candied fruits such as prunes and cherries have come from several Canadian points. Nuts have also been in demand.

MCKENZIE ROAD IS GOOD

SUPERVISORS HAVE BEEN SCRAPPING AND DRAGGING

Forest Official Finds Trouble Fast and Easy on Way to McKenzie Bridge

The entire McKenzie highway in good condition, said Nelson Macduff, supervisor of the Cascade National Forest, who made a trip to McKenzie bridge yesterday. Since the rains began the supervisors along the road have continued their work through the state maintenance crews but time when there was so little snow on the highway as to travel to cut it up, said the forest official. The state's present road is excellent, he stated.

Mr. Macduff, who was accompanied by H. E. Haefner, ranger in the forest, said there were few traces of snow in the high time they were at the ground, but none was on the highway in snow line on the highway is reported to be at Alder about 70 miles from Eugene.
